LEGION HEAD ANSWERED

Hoover Defends Naval Policy

Letter to McNutt Declares United States Seeks Only Its Safety

Navy Equality With Britain by Agreement Upheld Over Competition

WASHINGTON, July 30. (AP)—President Hoover said today in a letter to Paul V. McNutt, national commander of the American Legion, that parity with Great Britain "is considered by our naval authorities as a complete defense of the United States in any contingency."

Defense, the President added, is all that America is seeking.

Mr. Hoover's letter was in reply to a communication from the Legion commander in which the latter criticized the Chief Executive's action in postponing the building of three cruisers as tending toward disparity with England. At the same time McNutt suggested that instead of deferring cruiser construction, America should build up its fleet of vessels of this kind until it is equivalent to that of Great Britain.

STIMSON CALLS

That the President is following the naval developments and the conversations in London between Ambassador Dawes and Prime Minister MacDonald closely was signalized today in a visit to the White House by Secretary Stimson and Joseph P. Cotton, assistant Secretary of State.

The State Department officials took with them a copy of a telegram from London reporting on the conference yesterday, in which Hugh S. Gibson, American Ambassador to Belgium and head of the American delegations of the League of Nations preparatory disarmament commission, also participated. After meeting with the President, neither Mr. Stimson nor Mr. Cotton would comment.

FORWARD STEP

Mr. Hoover said in his letter to Mr. McNutt that he was glad to have the assurance that the American Legion supports the policy of parity and went on to say that "the first step of the renewed consideration of reduction of the excessive world naval armament has been acceptance of that principle as a preliminary to discussion between Great Britain and the United States." The Chief Executive termed this "a forward step of the first importance."

It is better, the President continued, to establish such a relation by agreement than to "resign ourselves to continued attempts to establish it by rival construction programs" on both sides of the Atlantic.

ARRIVE AT DISPARITY

"We need not disguise the fact," Mr. Hoover continued, "that (aside from the capital ship limitations under the Washington treaty) competitive building has been in progress on both sides since the great

HIGH ARMY PAY ASKED

Universal Boost Recommended

Range from 25 Per Cent Gain for Enlisted Men to 44 for Officers

Proposal Comes as General Staff Begins Survey of Expenditures

WASHINGTON, July 30. (AP)—The interdepartmental pay board today recommended substantial pay increases all along the line for commissioned and enlisted men in the service.

The announcement came as the General Staff of the Army, acting under orders of President Hoover and Secretary Good, began its survey of army expenditures with the aim of eliminating all unnecessary items, if any, from the War Department budget.

First responsibility for curtailing the military expenses has been placed upon the Army itself. After a study of general staff officers of their own divisions, the full information will be laid before a board to be set up within the General Staff which will report to the President.

BILL BEING DRAFTED

The Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Coast and Geodetic Survey and the Public Health Service also were included in the recommendations of the interdepartmental pay board, which is made up of officers of the various branches. The proposals will be embodied in legislation now being prepared.

The pay board in its report used as its base the value of the dollar in 1908, when the last general pay scale was adopted, and said the cost of living had increased 104 per cent since that time. A summary of salaries for all Federal office-holders and employees, showing gains ranging from 25 to 175 per cent during the period, compared with a decrease of 3 per cent for army and navy pay, was included.

Under the recommendations, officers having no dependents would receive the same advantages now extended only to those with families. All allowances would be included in the single-pay item, and government quarters, where used, with light and heat, would be charged against the officers' salaries.

AVERAGE INCREASES

The average increases recommended over the 1908 schedule for all classes are: Officers, 58 per cent; warrant officers, 87 per cent; nurses, 105 per cent, and enlisted men, 83 per cent. Compared with the 1922 rate, which did not affect nurses or warrant officers, commissioned officers would receive an increase of 44 per cent and enlisted men about 25 per cent.

The new plan would prevent, so far as practicable, a junior receiving more pay than a senior officer.

RICH BRITON VICTIMIZED IN SWINDLE

Four New York Men Flee With $120,000 Following "Deal" Closed in Reno

RENO, July 30. (AP)—A month after he had been swindled out of $120,000 in cash by four men believed to be international confidence men, John R. Beaver, wealthy Briton representing South American rubber plantation interests, today reported the matter to the Reno police and requested a warrant for the arrest of the swindlers.

Beaver related how he had advertised for sale in a Philadelphia newspaper a South American rubber plantation. The men came to him as a result of the advertisement and represented themselves to be agents of interests looking for a rubber plantation. After preliminary negotiations the "deal" was consummated in Reno.

While they were waiting for developments in the sale of the rubber plantation the "agents" became interested in a Tonopah (Nev.) mine that one of them had a ready sale for. The mine, they said, could be bought for $300,000 and could be sold for $600,000. Beaver was induced to invest $120,000 in this proposition, he said. After they had agreed upon terms, Beaver said, the men were to meet him in an eastern city for settlement, but they failed to keep their promise.

SYNOD TO MEET HERE

SANTA ROSA, July 30. (Exclusive)—Los Angeles was selected as the 1930 convention city of the California Presbyterian Synod at the concluding meeting here today of the annual convocation of that church.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, July 30. [To the Editor of The Times:] We hadn't any more than got rid of the birthday of Italy's greatest man than here our headliner has one. Henry Ford is 66 years of age today. He has had more influence on the lives and habits of this nation than any man ever produced in it. Great educators try to teach people, great preachers try to change people, but no man produced through the accepted channels has moved the world like Henry Ford. He put wheels on our home. A man's castle is his sedan. Life's greatest catastrophe is a puncture. Americans don't fear the Lord as much as they do the next payment. Everybody is rushing to get somewhere, where they have no business, so they can hurry back to the place where they should never have left. So good luck, Mr. Ford. It will take a hundred years to tell whether you have helped us or hurt us. But you certainly didn't leave us like you found us.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

FLY WAR HITS BOOTLEGGERS

Auto Spraying in Infected Fruit Areas Puts Quietus on Liquor Smugglers in Florida

WASHINGTON, July 30. (AP)—The quarantine by Federal and State authorities in Florida against the Mediterranean fruit fly was said today by Assistant Secretary Lowman of the Treasury to have worked a hardship against rum runners and had forced them to seek other avenues of entry into the United States, especially through the Canadian border.

Lowman said this condition has prompted issuance of orders to Commander Martin W. Rasmussen, in charge of the Buffalo division of the Coast Guard, to strengthen his forces to combat increased smuggling activities from Canada. Ten fast boats armed with machine guns, he added, will be used in that area.

In addition to the southern smugglers seeking new places of entry along the Canadian border many of those prevented from running their cargoes across the Detroit River, he added, have transferred their activities to the western end of Lake Erie. There, however, he added, they are met by an increase of Coast Guard boats.

Lowman explained how rum runners have encountered difficulty as soon as quarantine authorities started stopping all automobiles leaving the infected area.

Automobiles, he continued, were stopped and occupants asked to alight, while every nook and corner of the car were sprayed. This, he said, naturally prevented use of cars for liquor transportation. During the summer months, he added, the demand for liquor in Florida is light and because of this most importations there are destined for northern shipment.

SECUNDERABAD (Hyderabad, India) July 30. (AP)—Advices have been received here from Raichur, an important town in the dominion of Nyzam of Hyderabad and the junction of two railways, that disturbances have broken out there. STREET CAR FARE RISES FAIL TO AID

State Commission's Data Shows Business Hurt, Receipts Decrease

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30. (AP)—The transportation division of the State Railroad Commission, after an exhaustive study, announced today that increases in street car and ferry fares have not brought the desired results to companies effecting the increases.

At the special request of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which desires data in connection with cases now pending before it, the division compared business of several companies for successive years.

The result of the study, figures show, is the conclusion by the division that fare increases generally have caused a loss of business; a decrease in receipts for companies effecting the increases, and that the financial condition of the companies has not been improved.

New York Paper Says Giffords to Be Divorced

NEW YORK, July 30. (AP)—The New York Daily News tomorrow will say that Walter S. Gifford, 44 years of age, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, tonight admitted his wife had established residence in Reno, Nev., with a view to obtaining a divorce.

He declined to amplify his statement that they had agreed to a divorce. He and Mrs. Gifford, the former Florence Pitman, were married in Brooklyn in October, 1916. They have two sons.

PAJAMAS GET LAUGHED OFF

Humorist's Plea for Parade in Chicago Results in Short-Lived Revolt by Gayly-Hued Rebels

CHICAGO, July 30. (Exclusive)—Richard Henry Little, conductor of the "Line o' Type" column in the Chicago Tribune, tonight came to the sad realization that there are some 6000 persons in Chicago who cannot take a joke.

Mr. Little, through his more or less humorous column, decided it was time for the men of America to rise against the present clothing styles and express their new freedom by holding a pajama parade down Michigan avenue, starting from the Art Institute at 10 a.m. today. He put his column to press last night, went home and promptly forgot about the matter.

At 10 o'clock this morning people began to gather in front of the Art Institute, their eyes peeled for the vivid costumes of the rebels. The crowd swelled to 6000 and finally, about an hour later, they were rewarded with the sight of Orton B. Mottor, a style counselor, wearing a blinding green suit of nightwear.

He was joined by R. Small, Leo Hyman, a Chicago haberdasher; Leroy Esterdahl of Moline, Ill., and Joe Jones of Salt Lake City, whose costumes would shame an honest rainbow.

With a cheer from the crowd, they started for the Tribune Tower, looking for Mr. Little, who had appointed himself grand marshal of the parade. The fervor of the marchers waned as the crowd of watchers thinned, and they gave up the attempt to find their leader.

Anyhow, a curious boy, picking at the pants leg of one of the marchers, discovered an orthodox pair of trousers underneath. This more or less shattered the morale of the revolt leaders, who ducked right and left into the welcome recesses of waiting taxicabs.

NEW TARIFF CUTS MADE

Senate Slashes House Bill

Shingles and Logs Again Placed on Free List; Changes on Autos

Couzens Serves Notice He Will No Longer Keep Secrecy Pledge

WASHINGTON, July 30. (AP)—Word came from the closely guarded conference room of Republicans on the Senate Finance Committee today of slashes in the House bill tariff duties on logs, shingles, lumber and automobiles.

Aroused by "leaks" of information from the committee on its decisions during the first week, Senator Couzens of Michigan served notice that he will not be bound in the future by the self-imposed secrecy rule of the committee. He informed some constituents of the decisions by the committee affecting them.

MEANS REDUCTION

The present rate of 25 per cent is retained on automobiles but the countervailing duty, whereby additional tariffs will be added to meet any higher tariff of another country, was repealed. This means a reduction in some cases of the tariff on cars. Those from France have been forced to pay a 40 per cent rate because of the application of the countervailing duty.

Responding to inquiries from Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania Henry Ford went on record before the committee for free trade in automobiles.

Shingles went back to the free list today together with all logs.

The Northwestern States, particularly Washington, have demanded tariff protection from the Canadian shingle manufacturers, and the House voted a shingles tariff. This commodity, with other building supplies such as bricks and cement, has been the target of considerable controversy.

OTHER SLASHES

While they were slashing today, the Republicans of the committee also took away the tariff on cedar, spruce and fir logs and repealed the countervailing provisions applying on lumber, except for a duty of 15 per cent on maple flooring to meet a 25 per cent tax imposed by Canada.

Senator Couzens did not tell newspapermen, who have been watching closely at the committee room for the last week, of the committee's action, but when word got around that he had formally cast aside the secrecy rule he was watched. The newspaper men are keeping close tabs on the Senator's constituents.

LINDBERGH HAS PAIR OF ACCIDENTS

Colonel and Wife Escape in Ground Loop and Also When Tire Blows Out

NEWARK (N. J.) July 31. (Wednesday) (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh landed at Newark airport at 12:05 o'clock this morning after a flight from Columbus, O.

In making the landing the colonel's plane ground looped, damaging one wheel and the tip of one wing. Neither the colonel nor his wife, who accompanied him on the flight, was injured.

The cause of the accident here was not determined. A similar accident which attended the colonel's landing at Columbus was caused by the bursting of a tire.

Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh left the field in a waiting automobile for an unannounced destination.

BLOWING OF TIRE ALMOST CAUSES CRASH

COLUMBUS (O.) July 30. (AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh were near a crash in their airplane here late today, when a tire blew out as they were landing and the plane was damaged slightly, but after quick repairs were made the Lindberghs resumed their flight from St. Louis to New York.

The bursting of the tire caused the airplane to rock dangerously. A wing grazed the ground and the tail skid was bent, but Col. Lindbergh righted the craft and brought it to a stop without further damage.

ST. LOUIS ROBIN ALIGHTS AFTER 420 HOURS IN AIR

Both Airmen in Perfect Condition; Come Down to Friend's Funeral; Crowd of 25,000 at Hotel

ST. LOUIS, July 30. (Exclusive)—The St. Louis Robin is down. It glided to earth in a faultless landing under its own power at 7:38:30 tonight, after 420 hours, 21 minutes and 30 seconds in the air. The record is 173 hours, 37 minutes and 58 seconds longer than the previous world's record, set the 12th inst., at Culver City, Cal., by Roland Reinhart and Loren Mendell in the Angeleno.

A crowd of about 13,000 stormed over the ropes as the Robin, after circling the field twice, landed. A cordon of police lifted the pilots from the plane and pushed them through the crowd to the Curtiss-Robertson company's hangar, where their wives awaited them.

The crowd trampled over the ropes, ran out on to the field and surrounded the plane. Fears were felt that it would be damaged by souvenir hunters, as was the case when the City of Cleveland landed after its record flight the 6th inst. But the Robin was protected by police and the ship was wheeled into the hangar, little changed in appearance by the flight. Movie men and photographers snapped their cameras in the glare of the artificial flares, as the plane landed, making a weird scene. The flyers posed cheerfully for the photographers.

CONDITION EXCELLENT

The landing was in compliance with a request made at 8:45 in the morning by Maj. William Robertson, president of the Curtiss-Robertson Airplane Manufacturing Company, sponsors of the flight.

The flyers were in excellent condition. Forest O'Brine lost a pound and a half in his eighteen days in the air, while Dale (Red) Jackson, his partner, neither gained nor lost.

These facts, discovered in a physical examination immediately after the landing by Dr. A. C. Leggat, field surgeon, were considered a remarkable commentary on the stamina of the two men. Most flyers lose weight in sustained air performances.

Both also had normal hearing, despite the long-continued roar of their motors. Their legs were steady and their heart action normal. Only their pulses had speeded up a bit. Both had a pulse of 86 on landing. Jackson's pulse at the take-off was 74 and O'Brine's 76, a gain of 10 for Jackson and 8 for his partner.

Jackson weighed 154 pounds at the take-off and the same on landing; O'Brine's weight was 140 at the landing. He weighed 138½ at the take-off.

PRAISE FOR MOTOR

Jackson was loud in his praise of the Robin and the motor which carried them to a new record.

"It's the finest motor that was ever put in an airplane," he said, "and, what's more, it's a mighty fine motor yet. Why, we could take the Robin up right now and break the record again."

"We didn't come down because we were tired of flying. But we read in the Globe Democrat of George Lambert's death. He was a mighty good friend to both of us and we wanted to show our respect for him. We are going to attend his funeral tomorrow afternoon."

The flyers were asked what was the hardest part of the long flight. This time it was O'Brine who gave the answer:

"The first 100 hours were the hardest."

O'Brine also described the refueling process, one of the most important features of the flight.

"When we first started out, both Red and I took our turns handling the controls during the refueling periods," he said, "but we finally decided that Red should be the contact pilot all the time. My job was in the rear of the cockpit, seeing that the fuel line entered our tank and that we got our proper supply of oil and containers of food. One part of the job was equally as important as the other.

FOOD CRAVED

"Believe me, we certainly got a thrill when these containers were lowered. A fellow gets hungry when he's up in the air day after day, hungry for food and news. Our wives took care of the food end and the Globe Democrat gave us the news.

"Red also did most of the work on the 'cat walk' when the motor needed tuning up. He could do more tricks out there than a monkey."

"When did you shave last?" the reporter inquired.

"This morning, as usual," Red spoke up.

After the picture-taking the flyers

Clash Between White Guard and Reds Reported in Siberia

Chinese Police Take Over Great Soviet Bank at Harbin

TOKIO, July 31. (Wednesday) (AP)—Reports reaching the Tokio office of the South Manchurian Railway early today said more than 100 persons were killed and wounded in a clash between Red and White Russians at Iman, a city on the trans-Siberian railroad outlet north of Vladivostok. There was no confirmation elsewhere.

MOSCOW, July 30. (AP)—Another action against soviet citizens in Manchuria by Chinese authorities was semiofficially reported tonight.

It was said several police officers empowered to arrest employees and customers of the Far Eastern Bank in Harbin had established control over that institution. Simultaneously Chinese authorities were said to have ordered the management to surrender the keys to the most important vaults. Those now in control were said to have assumed a threatening attitude.

Chairman Piatakov of the State Bank said tonight that, on instructions of shareholders closely connected with the State Bank, he had wired to the chairman of the Far Eastern Bank orders to liquidate its activities and secure as far as possible the interests of its clients, creditors and stockholders.

Piatakov declared the Far Eastern Bank carried on important operations in financing Chinese home and foreign trade, its turnover reaching 3,500,000,000 gold rubles.

CHINESE ENVOYS LEAVE TO TALK PEACE

[Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune]

HARBIN (Manchuria) July 30. (Exclusive)—Two Chinese officials, Li Shao-Ken and Thai Yun-Sheng, who left for Manchuli last night are expected to open peace negotiations with soviet Consul Melnikoff or his representative for a solution of the Chinese-soviet deadlock. They supposedly are acting under instructions from Gen. Chang Tso-Hsiang, governor of Kirin province.

The Russians here connected with the Chinese Eastern Railway confirm a report that M. Melnikoff, prior to his departure from here, had an interview with the Kirin governor and it is believed that M. Melnikoff upon his arrival in Chita arranged with the soviet government to send emissaries to Manchuli for a preliminary talk with the Chinese.

Chinese newspapers here today published a report from Pogranichnaya that two soviet airplanes flew over Chinese territory and dropped rockets. They supposedly were reconnoitering. The report also says that the Russians have two regiments of troops on the border.

Local Chinese officials have ordered Chinese troops to withdraw fifty miles from the border in the

Airman's Finding of Ancient Mayan City Explains Tardiness That Startled Whole World

NEW YORK, July 30. (AP)—Details of the lost Mayan city discovered by Col. Lindbergh and the manner in which he found it were revealed today by officials of Pan-American Airways, which operates mail and passenger lines between North and South America and with which Col. Lindbergh is affiliated.

It was in February of this year that Col. Lindbergh piloted the first Pan-American plane over the route from Miami to Panama. On the way south he was running on schedule, but on the way back there was no hurry and Col. Lindbergh decided to go on a sightseeing jaunt.

Turning inland at Belize, British Honduras, he flew over interior regions of the Mexican province of Quintana Roo through which white men never had penetrated. In this dense jungle country the Maya Indians lived and built their cities long before Christ, but since that time only scattered colonies of Indians have inhabited the district. They are believed by some to be descendants of the ancient Mayas.

TWO EMERALD EYES

Col. Lindbergh headed northwest toward Merida, Yucatan, and while he was yet many miles away his attention was caught by what seemed to be two emerald eyes staring up at him out of the tangle of the jungle bush. His curiosity aroused, he swooped low to investigate.

The country he was passing over is shown in white on the maps; uncharted land archeologists know must be filled with rich treasures of past glories, but so inaccessible that though employees of the Carnegie Institute long have been pushing toward it through the jungle, they never have reached it.

As Col. Lindbergh dropped low he

RADIO BOARD ANSWER FILED

Defends Channel Assignment in Hearst Case

Brief Denies Appellant Has Any Vested Rights

Argues in Favor of Public Utility Arrangement

WASHINGTON, July 30. (AP)—The Radio Commission today filed its answer in the District of Columbia Supreme Court to the appeal of the Hearst interests that the commission's action in authorizing twenty transcontinental short wave lengths for use of the press be set aside.

The commission said the wave lengths were conditionally allocated last December and that the conditions had not been fulfilled on June 30, when the commission made an allocation not in accordance with the wishes of the Hearst interests.

NO RIGHTS VESTED

No rights had been vested in the appellant by reason of the action of the commission last December, the commission's brief stated, and no property right within the protection of the Constitution, it argued, was or could have been created by the December action.

The commission declared the issuance of construction permits for press public service to one general public utility corporation rather than to a number of companies organized by individual newspapers and press associations was in public interest, convenience and necessity.

The brief declared such action would prevent ruinous competition between communication agencies of the same character and at the same time would create an agency of sufficient strength to engage in healthy competition with other large radio communication companies.

RESERVES FACILITIES

The answer further maintained that its action would be the only means of preserving a reserve of radio facilities in case of important news events or great need for emergency communication.

The commission said the allocation it had made provided for an assignment of facilities from a national standpoint; would provide the only practical guarantee that facilities would be available for newspapers and press associations hereafter desiring to use radio and also would provide opportunity for the participation of agencies prevented by their charters from forming subsidiary public utility companies.

Robin Pilots Look as Fresh as Though Back From Vacation

Record Airmen Show Few Signs of Weariness

AIR EXPERT TRIO LAUDS ROBIN PAIR

Army, Navy, Commerce Department Chiefs Send Felicitations to St. Louis

WASHINGTON, July 30. (AP)—Three aeronautics experts of the government tonight congratulated Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine, pilots of the St. Louis Robin, upon the "very remarkable endurance record" they established.

The new mark of 420 hours was described by Mark S. Ingalls, assistant Secretary of the Navy for aeronautics, "as a source of sincere gratification to American airmen in having their efforts of many years climaxed by such an outstanding triumph of engineering."

"This performance indicates clearly," he said, "that American airplane engines can be depended upon to stand up under almost any conceivable strain."

F. Trubee Davison, assistant Secretary of War in charge of aviation, sent a wire to the flyers asserting that the feat should "demonstrate to those who still regard airplanes as frail and uncertain craft that the modern plane and engine are as reliable a combination in the transportation world as any other means of travel."

"It is to be hoped," declared Maj. Clarence M. Young, director of aeronautics of the Commerce Department, "that this flight and those of a similar kind which have preceded it point the way to a practical application of refueling methods in scheduled services, thus permitting increased pay loads and lowered costs to the users of air transportation."

WHY LINDBERGH CAME IN LATE!

behold the ruins of a city some eight miles in diameter, crumpled away, devoured by the centuries, eroded, but not yet entirely erased by time. The jungle bush had matted the city over, but out of this tangled verdure there still rose numerous small pyramids and one stately pile of stone some 250 feet high holding aloft the ruins of an ancient Maya temple.

At the foot of this temple were two green pools of water that from high above had looked like eyes gazing out of the bush. Apparently formed by breaks in the earth above the course of an underground river, they had been caught by the Mayas and held in bases of white stucco. This work was done 2000 or 3000 years ago, no one can tell when, and yet there they stood for the inspection of the man in the skies, representative of a civilization so far removed from that of the ancient Mayas.

Col. Lindbergh, accompanied on his "runaway" flight only by a Pan-American official and Harry Buskey, one of the company radio operators, circled low over the lost city. There was no sign of any human life and the colonel and his companions realized with no lack of awe that they were perhaps the first persons to gaze upon it since before the beginning of the Christian era.

LATE AT HAVANA

The Lindbergh plane was four hours late at Havana that day, but although the colonel's unusual tardiness had caused grave concern and had been reported over most of the world, no explanation was made at the time. Recently, however, it was learned that Col. Lindbergh was spending some time taking aerial pictures of Indian ruins in Arizona and New Mexico; and from this it developed that his interest in the use of the airplane for archaeological purposes dated back to his discovery of a lost Mayan village.

Then officials of the Pan-American Company considered that the whole story might as well be told and released the details of the flying colonel's first exploratory flight over rich archaeological terrain, and in so doing explained why he was missing for four hours last February.

Col. Lindbergh had no camera with him on that flight through Quintana Roo and so he took no pictures at that time, but it is said today that he has expressed a desire to return there in the future and on this occasion it is believed he will take full equipment for bringing out pictures of his discovery.

ST. LOUIS ROBIN ALIGHTS

were taken back to the hangar where after a brief conference with officials they were escorted by a cordon of motorcycle patrolmen to a suite in the Coronado Hotel.

Another wildly acclaiming throng estimated by Police Lieutenant Meyer at from 20,000 to 25,000 was jammed about the Coronado to greet them.

THEY DIDN'T WANT TO LAND

For a time today it appeared that the two flyers might disobey orders sent up this morning by Maj. William B. Robertson calling on them to land some time today.

After that order had been given them, the flyers dropped a note answering another letter written to them by Maj. Robertson in which he had given them permission to land any time, but had left the matter to their own judgment.

The message read: "Motor still running good. See no reason to quit now. We are shooting at the 500-hour mark. Ship okay and so are we."

A short time before the order to land was taken aloft, Jackson dropped a note to Phil Silverson, aerial photographer at the field, in which he said: "I hope we can stay up a month.

Maj. C. Ray Wassall, pilot of the refueling plane, took Maj. Robertson's order to the flyers shortly after 9 a.m.

It was not until 3 p.m. that they dropped a note announcing they expected to land "when the gas runs out." Later they placed the landing time between 6 and 8 p.m.

Both men agreed that their greatest thrill of the entire flight was this afternoon when they flew low over the field and saw a crowd of 8000 to 10,000 watchers standing in the rain wanting to see them land.

LINDBERGHS THERE

Several hours before the Robin landed, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife stopped at Lambert-St. Louis Field to congratulate Jackson and O'Brine. The Lindberghs were flying from Santa Fe, N. M., to New York City.

"We just dropped in to congratulate the boys," Col. Lindbergh said leaning from the open window of his cabin plane. "It's a wonderful thing they're doing. I'm glad we got here while they were still up."

The Lindberghs went aloft, flew alongside the endurance plane and rocked their wings in greeting. They were at the field forty minutes.

LANDING "BRIBED" BY 500-HOUR PAY OFFER

NEW YORK, July 30: (AP)—The Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor Company, which offered the St. Louis endurance flyers $100 for every hour they stayed up beyond the previous record, decided today to pay them more money if they would come down.

Frank H. Russell, vice-president of the Curtiss company, announced that he had informed the flyers that the prize money would be gladly paid on the basis of 500 hours of completed flight if they would come down today. When this announcement was made the time stood at approximately 414 hours.

Russell said he had suggested discontinuance of the flight because the primary object of testing the endurance of plane and motor had been achieved.

"Whether or not this remains a world record for long," he said, "is now of less importance than not giving any moral incentive to the flyers to continue beyond a point

JACKSON'S HOME TOWN HAS JUBILEE CELEBRATION

FARIBAULT (Minn.) July 30. (AP) Faribault emitted a great sigh of relief tonight when news was received that Dale (Red) Jackson of Faribault and Forest O'Brine, had landed at 7:38 p.m. after establishing a new world's endurance record. Then the city went wild in one huge jubilee celebration.

When told that his son had landed safely, Henry Jackson, father of Dale, declared:

"I am so thankful my son is down. I know Dale could stay up much longer, but I haven't been able to sleep since the Minnesota endurance plane was wrecked Monday for fear that a like accident would happen to the St. Louis Robin."

Mr. Jackson says he will leave tomorrow morning for St. Louis to join his wife, who is now with their son.

Meanwhile plans are going forward for a "home coming" celebration to be held here August 9.

Pals Will Give Aerial Tribute to Dead Flyers

MINNEAPOLIS, July 30. (AP)—Airplanes piloted by pals will participate in funeral services for Owen I. Haughland and Capt. Preston L. Crichton, who died yesterday when their endurance refueling record-seeking plane, the Minnesota, crashed here.

A military funeral service will be conducted Thursday afternoon at the Fort Snelling army chapel for Capt. Crichton.

Funeral services will be conducted at Buffalo, Minn., Friday for Haughland, with a number of aviators participating.

Coroner's Jury Names Five in Boat Disaster

ARNOLD'S PARK (Iowa) July 30. (AP) The Coroner's jury investigating the death of nine persons in a collision between two speedboats on Lake Okoboji Sunday evening returned a verdict at 10 o'clock tonight, stating that the accident came as the result of carelessness on the part of Frank Long and Jasper Alexander, managers and pilots of the Miss Thriller; John Hartman and Milo Hartman, owners of the Zipper; and Harold Yarnes, pilot of the Zipper.

Meanwhile warrants charging second-degree murder have been served on John Hartman and his son, Milo Hartman, owners of the Miss Thriller, sunken speedboat, and Harold Yarnes, pilot of the Zipper, the other boat in the crash.

TAHOE CITY, July 30. (AP)—Frightened by a bolt of lightning during a violent thunderstorm today, Esta Burrie, 19 years of age, of 204 Joy street, Los Angeles, a waitress at the Brockway, Lake Tahoe resort, died suddenly while swimming in Lake Tahoe this afternoon.

At first it was thought she was struck by the bolt, but the Coroner decided that death was due to heart disease.

PILOTS EARN NEAT FORTUNE

Jackson and O'Brine Receive $31,255 for Flight; Distance Estimated at 25,000 Miles

ST. LOUIS, July 30. (AP)—Dale (Red) Jackson and Forest O'Brine earned $31,255 jointly, or $15,627.50 each, in the record-breaking flight of the St. Louis Robin, which ended here tonight.

This did not include $2756 in cash sums given them nor checks and cash which have been sent to the Chamber of Commerce. Eighteen days' pay as commercial pilots must also be figured into the total. The Curtiss-Robertson Company, their employers, has declined to reveal their regular salaries.

The mileage of the Robin was estimated at 25,200 on a consumption of approximately 3590 gallons of high-test fuel, the same as used by a number of commercial companies. Oil used totaled 158 gallons and forty-eight contacts were made for refueling out of a total of seventy-seven. The propeller revolutions, counted at 1300 per minute, approximated 32,000,000.

ROBIN'S PAIR JOIN STAFF OF LEAGUE

St. Louis Aviators Will Aid "Times" Playground Aircraft Group Board

"Red" Jackson and Forrest O'Brine, pilots of the record-breaking Curtiss-Robin airplane joined the executive staff of the Los Angeles Times-Playground Aircraft League yesterday when they radioed their intention to serve as members of the advisory board in a message received in Los Angeles by Maj. C. C. Moseley, vice-president of the Curtiss Flying Service.

On their 415th hour in the air circling over St. Louis, the following message was sent by the flyers via message and Western Union bag to the boys of Southern California who are joining the Times-Playground Aircraft League:

"Will be glad to serve on advisory board of the Los Angeles Times-Playground Aircraft League and we also would like to offer a cup to be known as the Curtiss-Challenger-Robin trophy for the best model built by the members. You can tell the boys that the Robin and Challenger engine are a great combination. We know. Regards." Signed, "Red" Jackson and Forrest O'Brine.

The members of the executive committee and the student board accepted the offer of the famous record-smashing pilots and their appointment was wired them last night.

Naval officers of corresponding rank would receive the same increases.

Enlisted men of the first grade would have a base pay of $1800 a year, compared with the present $1512. Other grades would have similar increases except for the last grade.

Warrant officers would receive sizable increases ranging from $2100 instead of $972, for lowest grades, to $6000, the top scale, instead of $3139.

Nurses' pay would range from $1500 to $4600 instead of from $1059 to $4279 as at present.

HOOVER REPLIES TO LEGION HEAD

Defends Naval Parity by Agreement

Says Competition Fraught With Danger

Refers to Antiwar Pact Obligation

war, and we have arrived only at disparity, not parity. It creates burdensome expenditure, a constant stream of suspicion, ill-will and misunderstandings. Moreover, by constant expansion of naval strength we cannot fail to stimulate fear and ill-will throughout the rest of the world toward both of us, and thus defeat the very purposes which you have so well expressed as being the object of the Legion, when you say, 'The Legion stands uniformly for movements which will make permanent peace more certain and assure better understanding between nations.'

PROBLEM COMPLEX

"I fear you have been misinformed as to the actual problems that lie before us if we are to succeed in such a negotiation, for they are far more intricate and far more difficult than can be solved by the simple formula which you suggest. But I feel confident that the American Legion will be sympathetic with principles of parity by negotiation and by reduction and limitation of armament instead of competitive building, with its continuous expansion and all its train of world dangers.

"I am further confident that the American Legion will join with me in endeavoring to establish and cooperate with others in an atmosphere of good will and sincerity within which to find such a solution.

REFERS TO PACT

"We and other nations have entered into a solemn covenant that we shall not resort to war as an instrument of national policy, that we shall seek to settle disputes by pacific means and if we are honest in this undertaking it follows that every effort should be made to establish confidence in our intentions and to hold our preparedness programs solely within the area of efficient defense. I am confident these policies are consonant with the many declarations of the American Legion and the sentiment of the American people."

NAVAL CONVERSATIONS REPORTED SATISFACTORY

LONDON, July 30. (AP) — Both Premier MacDonald and United States Ambassador Dawes, are represented by the diplomatic correspondents of the Laborite newspaper, the Herald, as more than satisfied with the good progress made in their naval conversations. Because of the close relations between the newspaper and the party, it may be assumed the correspondent derived his information from official quarters.

It is hoped, he adds, that it will soon be possible to move forward to the next stage. From the conversations will emerge not a hard-and-fast plan but a general outline definite enough for submission to the other signatories of the Washington treaty of 1929, who then will be asked to send representatives to a preliminary informal meeting, probably in London. This would be a meeting of statesmen or diplomats, not naval experts.

RUSSIANS DENY PEACE PARLEY NEAR

BERLIN, July 30. (AP)—The soviet Russian Embassy here issued today an emphatic denial of a report from Washington which stated that although direct negotiations between the soviet Ambassador and the Chinese Minister here have not yet started, indications are that they soon will begin.

The soviet Embassy declared this report is as untrue as a previous report that Russo-Chinese negotiations regarding the Chinese Eastern Railway dispute are going on in the German capital.

Baptists Bar Dr. Dean, Late of Pasadena

PORTLAND (Or.) July 30. (AP)—Found guilty by the board of deacons on a charge of conduct unbecoming to a minister, Dr. John Marvin Dean, pastor of the Hinson Memorial Baptist Church, two years, tonight was barred forever from the pulpit of the church by a resolution passed unanimously by the deacons.

His resignation as president of the Western Baptist Theological Seminary also was announced tonight. Members of the board said the "conduct unbecoming to a minister," was based on his actions while president of the seminary, which many young women attend.

Dr. Dean came to Portland from Pasadena, Cal.

FARM BOARD'S ROSTER FILLED

S. R. McKelvie Named Ninth Member of Body

Former Nebraska Governor Represents Wheat

Editor Backed Coolidge on Equalization Fee

WASHINGTON, July 30. (AP)—The personnel of the Federal Farm Board was completed today by President Hoover's selection of Sam R. McKelvie, former Governor of Nebraska, as the ninth member.

The Nebraskan, who publishes the Nebraska Farmer, a magazine, will represent the wheat area. His selection was made after differences had arisen between pool and grain co-operative growers which prevented the President from completing the board earlier.

MANY INDORSE HIM

McKelvie accepted the position upon the condition that he will be free to retire at the end of the first year if he desires. It was said at the White House that he has been indorsed by a large number of farm organizations.

The full membership of the board is as follows:

Secretary Hyde of the Agriculture Department, ex-officio; Alexander Legge of Illinois, chairman, representing business and finance; James C. Stine of Kentucky, vice-chairman, representing tobacco; Carl Williams of Oklahoma, cotton; C. B. Denman, Missouri, live stock; Charles C. Teague, California, fruit growing; William S. Schilling, Minnesota, dairying; Charles S. Wilson, New York, miscellaneous farming, and Mr. McKelvie, wheat and coarse grains.

TO TAKE PLACE AT ONCE

The Nebraskan is expected to take his place on the board as soon as possible, since important policies already are under discussion. The decision to form a large marketing corporation for wheat, however, was reached before his appointment could become effective.

McKelvie supported President Coolidge during the controversy over the equalization fee plan in the old McNary-Haugen bill, having taken a determined stand against the fee in his publication. He was Governor of his State from 1919 to 1923.

BOARD WILL FOSTER CO-OPERATIVE MOVEMENT

BATON ROUGE (La.) July 30. (AP)—Outlining the policy of the Federal Farm Board, Chairman Alexander Legge declared here tonight before the American Institute of Co-operation that its main object will be the expansion and strengthening of the co-operative movement.

"The Federal Farm Board, as now organized, is not going to buy or sell any commodity, agricultural or otherwise," Mr. Legge said. "It is our duty to assist you in doing a better job of it yourselves. True, while we are assisting you, we will want to have some voice in the transaction, particularly when you call for government funds to aid in the operation.

"It is probable you may find this board of real assistance, even though you may not need financial aid. The board will provide a contract between organized farmers and the government and any organized group may come to the board for counsel, advice and assistance.

NO PRICE FIXING

"There are many pople who think the board's activities should be directed to the arbitrary raising of the price level for agricultural products. The board cannot raise the prices arbitrarily. Prices, as has been said many times, are determined by basic economic conditions. What the board hopes to do is to assist farmers to become better able to compete with other groups in the markets of the nation and the world. It expects by aiding in the development of co-operative associations to make possible economies in marketing and stabilized marketing conditions and to assist farmers to obtain their just share of the national income.

"The farmers and the public must be patient," concluded the chairman. "The problems of agriculture are of long standing and cannot be solved overnight."

COTTON DISCUSSED

The board met in executive session today with representatives of the cotton-producing States, in which the problems of cotton farming were discussed. Other group meetings will be held tomorrow.

In a general discussion P. M. Eichelberger of Anniston, Ala., told how cotton farmers in Alabama met cotton-mill owners across the table and bargained for a price, which proved "most satisfactory."

Abe D. Waldauer of Memphis retorted that was too much like "the lamb being led to slaughter," and violated the basic principle of the national co-operative movement. Mr. Waldauer advised co-operative associations to build up a reserve for use in "unexpected crises."

IL DUCE SEIZES JESUIT PAPER

Accuses "Civilta Cattolica" of Being Anti-Fascist

Article Hints at Napoleon's Fate for Premier

State-Church Educational Accord Impeded

ROME, July 30. (Exclusive)—Abatement of the struggle between the Vatican and the Fascist government over education, despite the Lateran accords and the Pope's gorgeous exit from fifty-nine years of voluntary exile, appeared further distant today through the action of the Prefect of Police in ordering the sequestration of the last number of the Jesuit publication, Civilta Cattolica, edited by Father Rosa.

The sequestration was ordered after much deliberation several days after the Civilta Cattolica appeared, indicating that the step was given seasoned consideration. The reason for the seizure of all available copies of the magazine was an article written by Father Rosa entitled "Between Ratification and Ratification." The times of Pope Pius VII and Napoleon Bonaparte were discussed by the article and a parallel drawn to Premier Mussolini and the present concordat with the church in which fundamentalist Catholics insist they got the thin end.

MENACED IL DUCE

Father Rosa's article, according to the Fascist press, was menacing to Il Duce because they say it hinted that Napoleon's fate is awaiting Premier Mussolini. The prefect of police apparently held the same view, for the decree of sequestration declared that the Jesuit magazine had indulged in "antinational and anti-Fascist activities."

Following the decree Italian policemen raided the offices of the Civilta Cattolica and seized all copies that had not been circulated. The exact number seized was small, however, because of the lateness of the decree, and the fact that most copies are sent out by mail to subscribers.

Three such sequestrations of newspapers in Italy mean complete suspension of the guilty papers.

Vatican officials deplore the government's action since Civilta Cattolica's sequestration follows the sequestration recently of several other Catholic papers, notably the Miovanila, in Milan, against which the Osservatore Romano, official Vatican paper, raised a storm of protest.

IRRITATION ACUTE

At the same time Vatican authorities are said to be displeased with Father Rosa's outspokenness, and have instructed him to take a milder tone in discussion of the difficulties between the church and state.

Should the controversy further develop, the Vatican could move the Civilta officials within the limits of the Vatican city and print it on Osservatore Romano presses, and there has been some talk of this. The Italian government, however, could effectively prevent circulation of the paper in that case to any but the 450 Vatican citizens.

Irritation over the sequestration is acute on both sides, and it is pointed out that during the most turbulent days of the anticlerical period in Italy, Civilta Cattolica was not molested.

Business Area of Town Razed

COSMOPOLIS (Wash.) July 30. (AP)—Seventeen buildings, all frame structures, and comprising most of the business section of this town, were destroyed by fire early today with a loss estimated between $175,000 and $200,000.

Virtually all of two city blocks were burned to the ground. Firemen said the blaze started from an explosion in a pool hall about 12:30 a.m. It was brought under control at 3 o'clock with the aid of all available fire-fighting equipment from Aberdeen and Hoquiam.

CANADA SEARED BY SUN AND FIRE

Public Prayers Offered for End of Drought

Crop Prospects Daily Being Greatly Reduced

Hundreds Battle Flames in Forest Areas

TORONTO, July 30. (By the Canadian Press)—With crops seared by days of scorching heat, farmers in many parts of Canada tonight faced heavy losses while from coast to coast the ugly menace of fires is reported from the forest areas. While the farmers are forced to stand helplessly by and see their crops burned by a relentless sun thousands of men actively combated the forest fires from land and air.

Dominion and Provincial authorities directed the fight against the forest fires aided by private citizens in the areas affected.

The greatest monetary loss is faced by the farmers in the three prairie Provinces, "the granary of the empire." The extreme drought in Western Canada went unrelieved again today with the weather men predicting at least another twenty-four hours of continued dry weather. Thermometers in the West soared to new heights, Empress, Alta., reporting 104 deg., and reports were that even feed crops will be useless if rain holds off much longer. Experts already have predicted a grain crop greatly reduced from the early estimates.

FIRES SERIOUS

In Ontario and Quebec crop prospects are being similarly reduced. In the Kingston (Ont.) area prayers are being delivered publicly asking rain to relieve the drought.

In Quebec an official of the Provincial Department of Agriculture predicted a shortage of milk, butter and cheese, unless considerably more rain comes very soon.

In Northeastern Ontario the forest fire situation is the worst since 1923 with 1200 men fighting the various fires in the Kenora, Rainy River, Patricia and head of the lakes district.

Bush fires are reported from Manitoba while in British Columbia large areas of timber have been burned over and fresh fires are reported. The forest and bush country has been burned tinder dry. Certain areas in Ontario have been closed to prospectors and tourists. A number of serious fires are raging in Alberta.

TIMBER BURNS

At Vancouver, fire which broke out Monday on the logging operations of Bloedel, Stewart & Welch at Lower Campbell Lake, Vancouver Island, has destroyed a large number of logs and burned more than 1,000,000 feet of timber, according to a report by the Provincial Forestry Department. Five hundred men are fighting the outbreak. Another fire, near Nanaimo River, Vancouver Island, swept through forty acres of timber on Monday. It is now under control.

Serious bush and prairie fires are burning in the Netley district, north of St. Rose Du Lac, Man. Provincial police are organizing fire-fighting patrols among settlers.

The big fire burning north of Kahagi Lake near Whitefish is reported to involve a large acreage.

MRS. GANN TALKS ON ROW

Vice-President's Sister Tells Why Precedence at Social Functions Should be Expected

PHILADELPHIA, July 30. (AP)—Mrs. Dolly Curtis Gann, sister of Vice-President Curtis, in an interview appearing in the August issue of the Ladies' Home Journal, talks frankly on the question of precedence which has been agitating the officials and social sides of the national capital for some time.

Mrs. Gann says the Vice-President is entertained at official affairs as "a symbol of the United States," and any precedence he may expect, ask for, or demand, is not asked for as an individual, but in the name of every true American who wishes respect shown to a symbol of his government.

MRS. EDWARD E. GANN

Explaining a very generous fraction of the Vice-President's duties and responsibilities are purely social, Mrs. Gann asked two questions—Who is to attend to all the social part, and who attends to the social side of things in your home?

"Any woman knows," she says, "what portion of the social duty in a family falls upon the man, and how much more upon the woman of the household, his wife, or sisters, or daughters, whoever must play the part of his official hostess.

"The planning, the adjusting, the arranging, the seeing to it that so-and-so is not hurt, that another social function is arranged for at a future date—all this is a woman's natural work, and in this work she always has to be the right hand.

"Unfortunately, brother has no wife, but at the same time it is very necessary that he be accompanied to these functions by some woman of his immediate household who is in the position to return courtesies.

"At these official affairs he is being entertained as a symbol of the government of the United States, its power and its prestige. As a symbol of that government he will most naturally see to it that both he and his official hostess, no matter how humble they may personally be, are accorded every respect that the symbol of our government should receive from all right-minded people.

"Any precedence which he may expect, ask for or demand is not asked for as an individual, but in the name of every true American citizen who wishes due respect shown as a symbol of his government.

"It is not to bunting as bunting, but to the flag as the flag that hats are always taken off. To any patriot this will seem mere common sense. He believes that to do less, would be in just so much to fall short in his sworn duty to defend and uphold the Constitution of the United States."

FLY FOES TURN EYES EASTWARD

Quarantine Session Discusses Danger of Invasion

What Spread of Pest Would Mean to West Outlined

Salt Lake City Gathering Urges Indemnification

SALT LAKE CITY, July 30. (Exclusive)—Members of the western plant quarantine board, with California, on the Pacific Coast, having possibly the largest representation present, turned their eyes to the Atlantic Coast this afternoon, and took a short course in the study of the habits and possibilities of the Mediterranean fruit fly.

Their interest proved to be threefold, as evidenced throughout the discussions of the several papers on this small subject: "What is being done to keep the fly confined to Florida and to eradicate it there; how can it be kept out of the Western States; and what would happen if it or some visitor with a similar bad character should ever gain a foothold on this side of the Rockies?"

REPORT FROM FLORIDA

An official report from Florida, brought up to the minute by telegraph, showed that in the few months' work in attempting to eradicate the fruit fly there, some 2484 persons are employed and already about $1,300,000 has been spent. Meanwhile the authorities are asking for more funds to carry out a greatly expanded program.

George H. Hecke, California Director of Agriculture, and Dr. O. C. Bartlett, Arizona entomologist, alike brought out the advisability of a predetermined program of indemnification in such situations. Indemnities, it was argued, had been one of the main forces in procuring complete co-operation in California's fight on the foot-and-mouth disease.

A suggested plan is that the emergency should be of a national nature; that the pest should exist in a comparatively small area; that reasonable assurance should be had that the infestation can be eradicated, not merely controlled, and that provision should be made for indemnification to one-half the value of the crop destroyed, as fixed by Federal agencies. This suggestion has been submitted to Washington and the question of the State's financial participation in the program is being considered.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE

An illustrated lecture was given tonight by D. B. Mackie, senior entomologist of California, on the fruit fly's devastations in Florida.

Chairman M. L. Dean appointed a committee on weed control, with Dr. N. E. Stephens of Utah as chairman and Jacobsen of California, Schweis of Nevada, Bartlett of Arizona and J. R. Eyre of New Mexico as members to collaborate with the United States Secretary of Agriculture. Under this suggestion the collaborators would be called into convention annually at Washington at the expense of the Federal government, so that the Secretary might be given first-hand information as to agricultural conditions in each State.

R. N. Wilson, director of the agricultural department of the California Development Association, whose paper was read by W. C. Jacobsen, secretary of the board, also from California, remarked:

"Although we thought California was somewhat quarantine-minded before 1924, the $19,000,000 loss suffered through the foot-and-mouth disease outbreak in that year burned into our memories the enormous possibilities involved in quarantine. And the fact that the greatest losses were suffered by business other than agricultural brought a keen realization that ills of agriculture are definitely civic problems."

The alfalfa weevil also came in for discussion.

MILLIONS READ FLY ARTICLES

McGroarty Series on Fruit Scourge Published All Over the World

Distributed by the North American Newspaper Alliance to every member of that great newspaper chain in this country and abroad, the series of articles recently written for The Times by John Steven McGroarty on the Mediterranean fruit fly has been placed before more than 5,000,000 newspaper readers in this and foreign countries.

The Times is in receipt of many suggestions by readers that the articles by Mr. McGroarty, who was sent by The Times to Florida to report the facts of the fruit-fly menace, should be given more than local circulation. It was with this in mind that the series was made available to the Newspaper Alliance. Several thousand reprints of the series have been made, and will be distributed to non-Alliance newspapers, members of Congress, farm bureaus, and the like throughout the country.

Able To Go Up Town For First Time In Months

"I feel twenty years younger since taking Sargon! There's no use talking, it's a great medicine.

"In my opinion, when a man reaches eighty-seven years of age like I am, he needs something to help nature along. It seemed like my strength had just given out on me and I was weak, run down and nervous. For months at a time, I wouldn't even try to go to town, I tired so easily. My appetite was poor and I was continually bothered with constipation. When I kept reading statements from well-known people of Los Angeles praising Sargon, I said to myself, 'all these people can't be wrong'. Then I phoned some of them and they all told me what a wonderful medicine Sargon was, so I bought a treatment.

"Now I feel like a new man! Sargon built me up generally and I'm stronger and better in every way. Why I haven't been as active in years and I have so much more energy. I don't tire like I used to. My appetite couldn't be any better and I eat three hearty meals a day. I go to town any time I want to and get back home feeling as fresh and fit as when I started.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills act smooth and thorough, and are the best thing I ever used for constipation. They regulated me perfectly and keep my whole system in healthy condition.

"I spend about half my time telling my friends about Sargon now and I'll be glad to have anybody come to see me about this fine treatment."

The above convincing statement was made recently by D. Marsh Allen, wealthy retired hotel owner of 1357 South Burlington Ave., Los Angeles. Mr. Allen operated the Winswor Hotel at Fremont, Neb., for twenty-two years, but has resided in Los Angeles for the past sixteen years. He is a Civil War Veteran, Stanton Post, No. 54, and a prominent Mason.

When people grow to the ripe old age of Mr. Allen, their digestive organs lack vitality and begin to act more slowly and less effectively than in youth. Sargon is the ideal strengthener for old folks because it creates a good healthy appetite, improved digestion, enriches the blood, and in this natural manner builds up and invigorates feeble and rundown people.

Mr. Allen is only one of many hundreds of people of advanced age in all sections of the country who have testified that they have used Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills with the most gratifying results.

The special Sargon representative at the Owl Drug Store, 6th and Broadway, is explaining the therapeutic action of this revolutionary new medicine to hundreds of people daily.

Sargon may also be obtained at All Owl Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

PARIS DEBT AGREEMENT TERMS TOLD

Secretary Mellon Makes Known Notes Exchanged Over Maturity Date

WASHINGTON, July 30. (AP)—Secretary Mellon today made public notes exchanged with Ambassador Claudel of France, constituting the agreement between the United States and France for postponing the maturity date of the $400,000,000 war supplies debt to this country.

In advising the Ambassador of the postponement, Secretary Mellon called attention to the reconvening of Congress next month, and expressed the opinion that "the Mellon-Berenger agreement will receive consideration at an early date."

The agreement was reached after ratification by France of the war debt amounting to $4,025,000,000.

Mr. Mellon said it is understood the French republic agreed to pay interest on the obligation until the agreement is acted upon by Congress. It is provided, however, that if the settlement is approved, the amount paid as interest will be credited to annuities specified in the Mellon-Berenger agreement.

Bremen Plows Ocean Toward Newer Record

NEW YORK, July 30. (AP)—Maintaining an average speed of twenty-eight and one-third knots, the ocean grayhound Bremen clipped off 651 miles in the twenty-three hours up to noon today in its dash across the Atlantic from New York to Europe, said a radio message from the liner to the North German Lloyd Lines.

The Bremen is expected to reach Plymouth at 9 p.m. Wednesday, Cherbourg at 3 a.m. Thursday, and Bremenhaven at 8 a.m. Friday. If the Bremen lands at Plymouth at the time scheduled, the crossing from New York to the English port will be the fastest on record by several hours.

SCHOOL COST REMEDY TOLD

Western States Taxpayers Discuss Problems

Better Trained Executives Needed, Says Utahan

Wyoming Man Sees Expenses Based on Growth

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) July 30. (Exclusive)—Declaring that the costs of schools in the United States will continue to mount until business it put into their administration and that the fault lies in the lack of business training in school executives, Dr. M. H. Harris of Salt Lake City today led the discussion by the Western States Taxpayers' Conference on "Why the Mounting Cost of Schools?" the principal subject on the day's agenda.

"In many States," he said, "more than 50 per cent of all revenues go for schools. Yet these millions of dollars are frequently administered by men who lack administrative experience. They are chosen largely for their scholastic attainments and yet are permitted to dictate things which deal with the economic aspects of schools and for which the taxpayers are being bled to death."

TRAINING NECESSARY

The Utah representative said that the solution lies in demanding that especially in higher institutions of learning and in cities of the first and second class, no man shall be engaged as superintendent who has not proved by experience his ability as a leader in scholastic as well as in economic phases of education.

Dr. Harris challenged the school people to remodel the curriculum based on the "time-honored responsibilities which the school would assume in training the boy and girl how to think and to relieve the curriculum of the incubus which has been saddled upon it by unthinking, selfish persons, added to the all-too-ready attitude of teachers themselves in building up this unshapely, unsymmetrical nondescript thing, called education."

DUE TO INCREASE

Answering Dr. Harris's statements, Dr. Arthur Crane of the University of Wyoming said that the tremendous increase in school costs had been due to the increased number of persons taking advantage of the educational system.

He continued by saying that about 23 per cent of the taxation revenue goes to the schools, and that the figure had varied but little in the last fifteen years.

"The most prosperous State," he said, "is the one spending the most for the education of its children."

In discussing several ways in which a limit might be set, Dr. Crane said that the people never will pass them, due to traditions and the way in which the schools previously have been run.

According to Dr. Crane, school buildings are used only about 25 per cent of the time, and that is one great factor in the mounting costs of schools.

SAVINGS OUTLINED

For very little added expense, he said, the schools could be used to their capacity and costs would go down inasmuch as the pupils would not take so much time completing their courses.

It was decided today that the conference should assume national aspects and as a result Arkansas, South Dakota, Nebraska and Iowa were admitted to membership.

The action followed a recommendation by the resolutions committee.

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE

In the report of the resolutions committee it was recommended that the conference oppose the creation of new counties, that a State body should control all assessments, that other groups be invited to affiliate with the conference, that colleges and universities be invited to affiliate with the conference and help discuss tax problems, that public officials be called upon to select capable men, that the correction of many of the educational faults lies in the control of education through a board or individual supervision, that taxpayers' associations be recommended to the people of every State, that budgetary legislation be enacted, that public accounts shall be audited only by men of reputation and ability and that the taxpayers should be given an opportunity of appealing from the action levying special assessments if the people cannot handle the payments.

The conference closed with the election of Robert E. Talley of Jerome, Ariz., as president. This automatically places the 1930 meeting in Arizona. Jerry Sheehan of Reno was elected vice-president and for the seventh time A. C. Rees of Salt Lake City was named as secretary-treasurer.

Ford Behaves as Usual on His Birthday

DETROIT, July 30. (AP)—Henry Ford turned 66 years of age today.

However, as far as Mr. Ford was concerned, the birthday was much like any other day in his busy life. An inspection of property at Dearborn, including visits to the Ford farms and experimental laboratories and the Fordson automobile plant, was the order of the day.

Numerous congratulatory telegrams were received at the Ford home, but their contents and the names of the senders were not disclosed.

Mr. Ford left early this evening for West Orange, N. J., to visit with his friend, Thomas A. Edison.

Both of the Confederate generals were superintendents of the academy and small pictures of each already are in place.

EX-CONSUL SHOOTS HIS OLD FRIEND

Former Representative of Guatemala Causes Mild Panic in Bay City Street

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30. (Exclusive)—F. D. Leon Peres, who was relieved of duty as Consul-General for Guatemala here Monday because of reports that his recent conduct had shown signs of mental aberration, shot and probably fatally wounded his long-time friend and landlord, Celso De Leon, on a crowded street in the financial district at noon today. A mild panic occurred in the luncheon throngs as Peres sent three bullets at De Leon, only one of which took effect.

The one bullet, however, went through De Leon's left shoulder, severed his spine, and paralysis set in almost immediately. At Mary's Help Hospital tonight, it was said he probably will die.

A second bullet shattered the glass in the standing automobile of Sterling H. Coen, causing lacerations in his face. The third went wild.

Only a few minutes before De Leon had told Peres's son that he could not accept a luncheon date with the ex-Consul-General, and De Leon was on his way to Peres's office when the two met on the street. De Leon advanced with hand outstretched. Without a word Peres drew the weapon and began firing.

Peres is in jail charged with assault with intent to murder.

The shooting disclosed the fact that Peres and his wife became estranged several days ago, and Mrs. Peres expressed the conviction her husband was jealous of De Leon. The latter operated the apartment-house in which the Peres family has been living.

Latest Freestone Type Perfected at Stanford Superior to Old Kind

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, July 30. (Exclusive)—A new type of freestone peach has been perfected by the Stanford "farm." The peach is golden to the heart and unmarred by the red streaks which lower the value of ordinary varieties for canning purposes, it was announced today.

The developer is W. F. Wight, a graduate of the university, who is working at the United States governmental orchard on the campus. The new peach, it is said, ripens two weeks earlier than any other freestone. A sister variety, similar except for the date of ripening, has been worked out by Wight also, it is said.

TLE ISLANDS CORD GAINED

Be Signed This Week Over Sovereignty

States Will Permit England to Rule

Boundary Also to Be Established

TON, July 30. (AP)—The question of sovereignty over insular possessions in is expected to be settled with the signing of a treaty between the United States and Great Britain.

Negotiations to determine the sovereignty of the Turtle Islands and establish the southern boundary of the Philippines have been concluded here, and are incorporated in a treaty being drafted by the State Department. An unusual arrangement, acknowledging American sovereignty in the Turtle Islands and assigning administration to the British, is expected to be evolved. The negotiations have been going on for only a few days.

The Turtle group includes seven islands of minute size, with a total population of 220, near the coast of British Borneo. Since 1885 the islands have been administered by the British government under the provisions of a Spanish-German-British protocol. After the Philippine archipelago was ceded to the United States by Spain in 1898, the United States entered into a provisional agreement with Great Britain whereby the administration was to continue in British hands, although the United States was fully recognized as having complete sovereignty.

The question was dealt with by a commission established by the two governments. The chief British delegate was the British Ambassador, Sir Esme Howard, assisted by F. W. Fraser, a British expert on far eastern affairs, and T. A. Shore, first secretary of the British Embassy. The chief American delegate was Maj.-Gen. Frank McIntyre, who has been prominent in American insular affairs since the Spanish-American War, and is an expert on Philippine questions. Gen. McIntyre was assisted by John K. Caldwell of the far eastern division of the State Department, and Jacob A. Metzger of the solicitor's office of the department.

EXERCISE AFTER FIFTY RISKY, SENATOR AVERS

WASHINGTON, July 30. (AP)—"Big Jim" Watson, 260-pound Senator from Indiana, approaching his sixty-fifth year, does not believe men near his age should seek to regain the vigor of youth through physical exercise if they have led sedentary lives.

Famous in the '80s as a Depauw University athlete, he long since has ceased to seek physical exercise because he believes that after passing the half-century mark men who have not led physically active lives will break down their mental or physical strength by excessive exercise.

"When my friends urge me to take up golf," he remarks, "I tell them I get plenty of exercise by acting as pallbearer to my cow-pasture pool shooting friends who die of heart disease and overexertion."

MEXICO BORDER RULES RELAXED

Foreign Workers "Asked" to Live Where They Toil

Americans, However, Will Not be Denied Entrance

Government Merely Tries to Promote Prosperity

MEXICO CITY, July 30. (AP)—Felipe Canales, Acting Secretary of the Interior, clarified the situation with regard to Americans residing in the United States and working in Mexico today with a statement to the Associated Press in which he said recent regulations controlling such border migrations should be construed loosely.

He said the regulation which requires those who earn their living by working in Mexico to reside in Mexico should be considered as a request rather than a demand, and hence any persons not wishing to comply with it will not have to do so.

The Secretary explained it is Mexico's desire that persons working inside the Mexican border live in Mexico so that they will spend their money on the Mexican side and contribute to the prosperity of Mexican border towns. He declared, however, it is not the government's intention to create misunderstandings or ill feeling along the border.

CZAR'S FORTUNE TANGLE GROWS

American Government May Claim it if Found

Soviet Move to Get Ruler's Coin Will be Fought

Investments Held Liable for Nation's Debts

WASHINGTON, July 30. (AP)—The American government, to protect its claims against the former provisional Russian government headed by Alexander Kerensky, probably will intervene legally in any efforts by the soviet government or private persons to take over investments which may have been made by the late Czar Nicholas II in this country.

While no official statement was made at the State Department today on reports the soviet has taken steps to recover such funds, it is the unofficial opinion the American government will take a hand in any attempts to obtain them if found. So far as can be learned, the American government has no information of the existence in the United States of any investments, in the name of the Czar.

The provisional Russian government is considered by the United States to be the only successor to the czarist regime, since the United States has not recognized the soviet government.

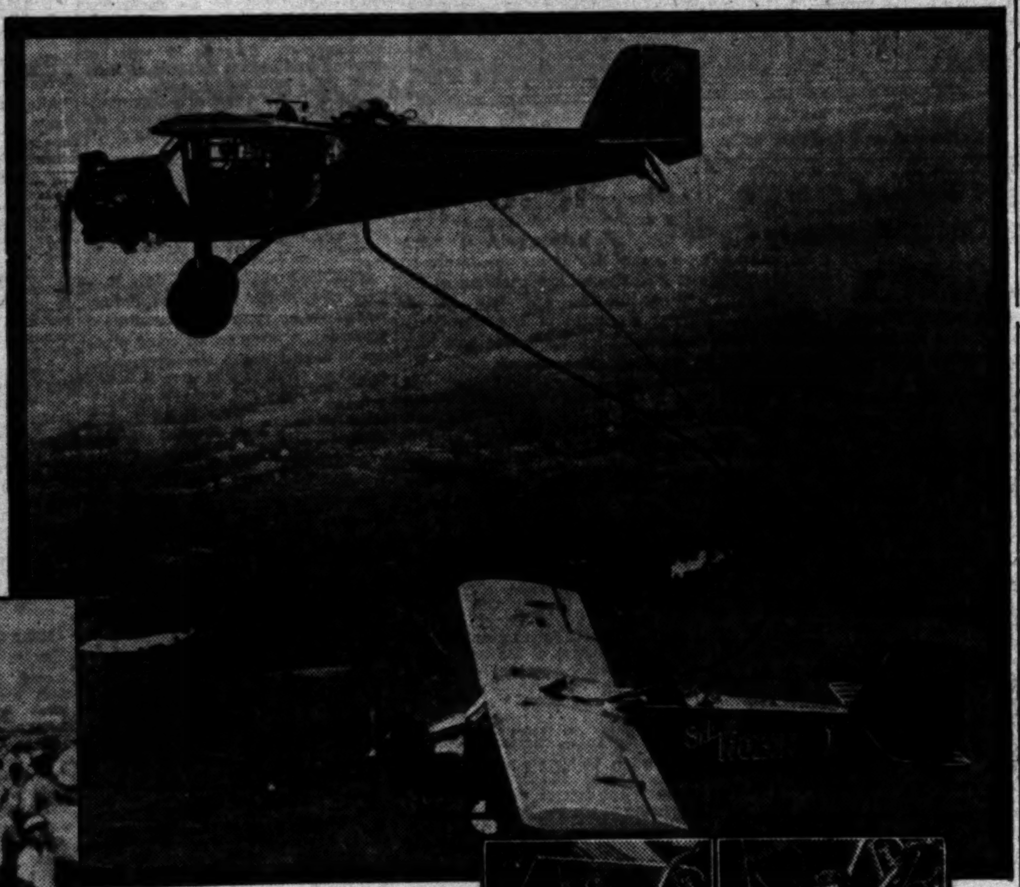
During 1917, a total of some $187,000,000 was loaned the provisional government by the American government.

This obligation, through the accumulation of interest, now amounts to some $280,000,000.

ERVE-TENSE CROWDS CHEER ROBIN'S CREW AS DRAMATIC FLIGHT STIRS WHOLE NATION

nt-up emotions break loose as St. Louis Robin lands after 420 hrs. aloft

WATCHERS, LIKE PILOTS, RELY ON CIGARETTES TO EASE NERVE STRAIN



A RISKY JOB! Here's how the flyers got their fuel. Contact was made by special Curtiss Robin refueling plane. Two packs of Tareytons a day were lowered to Forest O'Brine along with the food supplies.

SPECIAL PICTURE OF CROWD above was sent from St. Louis to New York by Telephoto for use in this advertisement. It gives you an idea of crowd that thronged Lambert Field to watch fliers surpass old records by a matter of days.

Red Jackson and Forest O'Brine photographed before take-off. Tareytons went up every day with food and fuel to help ease long nerve strain.

...WARDLY NERVOUS! ...poker face. All excited ...never shows it. He turns ...to help work off the ...tension. They give relief ...tightened from within.

ABOVE—OUTWARDLY NERVOUS! He yells his head off. Cheers . . . shouts . . . waves encouragement. Tareytons helped him let off steam when endurance record was broken by Curtiss Robin at Lambert Field, St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, MO.—High overhead a motor drones. Round and round the field. Monotonously humming its way through the minutes . . . the hours . . . the days . . .

Below, onlookers gather. Crane their necks and stare. Wonder and wager and speculate.

The field is buzzing. Phones ring with frantic calls. A tank-truck dashes through the night. Messages fall . . . food, fuel, cigarettes go up.

The nearby city talks of nothing else. Eyes of the nation find themselves focused on that orange speck, riding easily over a dusty field.

The tenth day dawns . . . creeps past noon. Cars flock to the field, bearing thousands. Two-thirty . . . two forty-five . . . three o'clock . . .

And the old record falls, to the roar of cheers, the shriek of sirens, the deep bellow of whistles!

But still . . . high overhead . . . that tireless motor drones on.

Into the eleventh day, the twelfth. Excitement turns to amazed delight.

Three hundred hours . . . three hundred ten. "70 gallons of gas," a cheerful note orders. "And two packs of Tareytons. Running low and don't want to stop to pick 'em up!"

Then, finally . . . a dramatic decision. Wise instructions go aloft. The plane noses downward.

Spectators rush out. Guards keep them back. Lower, lower, lower . . . triumphantly pilots and plane descend . . touch the ground . . .

They have been in the air longer than any man or machine before them!

Two wives dance and hug each other. A mother smiles through happy tears. A pilot sends his helmet sailing . . . leaps into the air in frantic joy. Another grins . . . and cranes his neck to get a better look. Some watchers shout, some dance . . . others merely stare, seemingly unaffected . . .

It is always so, scientists say, when excitement reaches high pitch. Invariably, in every such crowd, two nervous types make themselves evident . . .

Some you will recognize as outwardly nervous . . . Dancing frantically . . . Hugging perfect strangers. Shouting and yelling and pounding neighboring backs.

Others you would classify as "poker faces." Inwardly nervous, they show no signs. Jaws are set. Muscles tense. Only flushed faces and eyes alight reveal nervous tension boiling underneath.

Naturally both types turn to cigarettes for relief. And by thousands they are choosing Tareytons, because they find this cigarette keeps nerves in fit condition.

One type seeks the nervous outlet that the act of smoking provides. He discovers in Tareyton's mellow, full-tobacco flavor a taste which does not pall. He can smoke 2 or 3 packs a day without tiring of them.

The other, searching for the solace that good tobacco brings, learns that Tareyton's smooth and even blend helps to steady nerves without over-irritation.

Follow the example of these cigarette-wise smokers. Be as thorough in your own smoking tests as they have been. Taste reactions vary with the moment, but a week or ten days' trial . . . the test they have put to Tareytons . . . gives you trustworthy evidence.

When will you start smoking them . . . today?

Automobile Driver Killed at Ventura

Car Dives Over Cliff Into Pierpont Bay

Girl Companion Severely Injured

VENTURA, July 30.—When their automobile plunged over the Pierpont Bay bluff at the bluff end of Seaward avenue late last night, Wyman Rogers, 25 years of age, employee of the Pacific Western Oil Company, was killed, and his companion, Miss Theora Shultz, 18, was injured.

Rogers, formerly of Alhambra, was driving the small roadster, registered to the oil company, and had crossed the railroad track when he evidently failed to turn quickly enough to the left. The car hurtled over the bluff, turning over some half-dozen times.

Both he and the girl were hurried to the Big Sisters' Hospital.

Rogers was believed to have been killed instantly. Miss Shultz escaped with serious bruises. She was returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rex M. Shultz, today. Rogers's mother, who lives in Alhambra, was notified of his death last night and was in Ventura today making funeral arrangements.

Santa Maria to Entertain Fair Crowd

SANTA MARIA (Cal.) July 30.—Santa Maria is ready for its visitors. Every store and home in the entire valley is imbued with the spirit of the season and conversation on the streets and at dinner tables centers around one thing—the fair.

Starting next Tuesday at 11 o'clock in the morning the entire valley will be host at the official Santa Barbara County Fair, sponsored by the Thirty-seventh District Agricultural Association, and, during the five days of the festival it will have as its guests thousands from every city and village in the central coast district as well as hundreds of tourists who will stop here for one or two days of their summer vacation.

With Santa Maria as their mecca, the residents of the farms and city homes start their pilgrimage next week to "The Valley of Gardens." They will come, to be entertained and to learn. Santa Maria promises that both their desires will be met, particularly the former, for it is a gala occasion for this community and no effort has been spared to provide entertainment for a joyous five days.

A necessary adjunct to every fair, the Foley & Burke carnival, will set up its tents, its ferris wheels, and side shows ready for the happy laughter of adults as well as children.

From morning till midnight the activities of the exposition will continue, the blare of music mingling with the conversation of the crowd and the steady milling of thousands of pairs of feet.

New Head for Junior College

SAN BERNARDINO, July 30.—John B. Griffing, instructor in psychology and sociology at the San Bernardino Valley Junior College, was last night elected president of the institution to succeed George H. Jantzen, whose resignation was accepted by the board of trustees. Mr. Jantzen had been president of the college since the district was organized three years ago. He resigned to enter business, he explained.

Mr. Griffing is an educator of wide experience. A graduate of the Kansas State University, he taught at the University of Nanking, China, for seven years, fleeing the country with Mrs. Griffing on an American gunboat during the revolutionary uprising three years ago. He has studied at Drake, Columbia, Cornell and the University of Southern California, having been awarded five degrees.

Mr. Griffing will immediately take over his duties as president of the junior college and, until a suitable successor can be selected, will continue to teach psychology and serve as dean of men. He will receive an annual salary of $4500.

BEACH BATHER IS SAVED FROM RIP TIDE

REDONDO BEACH, July 30.—Caroline Gowman, 25 years of age, of 1415½ Myra street, Hollywood, was brought ashore through a heavy rip tide on the south beach here early this morning. Miss Gowman with a companion, Mary Connor of Los Angeles, was wading in the surf when swept into the breakers and was unable to swim. Life Guards Harry Poltz, Tom Medillcott and Ray McClelland of the Redondo Plunge and Municipal Life Guard Addie Cherry made the rescue. After first-aid treatment at the emergency hospital at the plunge she was able to return to her home.

IMPERIAL'S SCHOOL BUDGET

EL CENTRO, July 30.—A total elementary school budget of Imperial county schools for the coming year has been set at $187,642 from the district taxes and $495,127 from county and State taxes. Kindergarten expenditures will be $37,-907. High school district taxes are set at $299,211 from district taxation, plus county and State funds of $126,203. The grand total for county schools for operation will be $1,246,121. In addition there has been requested $56,693 for building fund.

TRAGEDY CLAIMS VICTIM

Former Peace Officer Killed on Eve of Inheriting Fortune

REDLANDS, July 20.—Henry Crain, former Redlands police officer and later deputy sheriff in Bear Valley, was accidentally shot and killed at the home of his brother-in-law, John Stocker, on Chestnut avenue, this afternoon. He was alone in the house and the body was found by his brother-in-law when he went home after getting off shift on the police force.

An inquest will be held, but officers say there is no doubt but that Crain was cleaning his revolver when it was discharged and he was shot through the head. He could not have been dead long for Mrs. Stocker had left the house just a short time before.

Crain was a well-known citizen of the county. Several years ago Henry Vogt died here and left Crain his orange grove and estate valued at about $60,000. Just recently he received word that Fred Vogt, a brother of Henry Vogt, had died in Mexico City and left his estate, valued at $6,000,000, divided 10 per cent to the Catholic church, 45 per cent to a nephew in Germany, and 45 per cent to Crain. In the event of the death of the nephew, 90 per cent was to go to Crain.

The will was made before the war, and the nephew was killed in battle, so it is said that Crain was entitled to the estate. Crain filed his claim to the estate this month. It was reported at the time that distant relatives would contest his claim. Crain first met Fred Vogt when Henry Vogt took him to his old home in Germany for a visit when Crain was just a little boy. Henry Crain is the son of Charles H. Crain, for many years a police officer here.

Officers say there is every evidence the killing was an accident and not a suicide. Stocker says that Crain had just returned from New York in good spirits and more convinced than ever that he would get the fortune left by Fred Vogt.

LIGHT FETE AT NEWPORT ANNOUNCED

Tenth Annual Event is Announced for Saturday August 10

NEWPORT BEACH, July 30.—Manager J. A. Beek, officials of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, and of other civic organizations, are completing the work of preparing for the tenth annual Tournament of Lights, most famous of all annual events on Newport Bay. It will take place on the evening of Saturday, August 10, next, having been postponed from August 3.

The lights fete was started in a small way a decade ago, and it has grown gradually until it is now to Newport and Balboa what the Tournament of Roses is to Pasadena. Like the rose carnival, the Tournament of Lights is a unique event, consisting of a big parade of illuminated craft of all kinds and description along a course in the bay which will allow up to 100,000 to witness it.

More electrical effects will be introduced this year than ever before, according to Manager Beek. Heretofore many of the boats, which range from tiny canoes and rowboats to cruisers and yachts, have used candles for lighting, and this has made it difficult to maintain the complete lighting effect throughout the parade. The more extensive use of electric lights will improve that condition.

Prizes will be awarded in many divisions of lighted craft, and a large number of cups, which will be among the trophies, are now on display here. There will be music on some of the floats as usual.

Although the nature of the lighting on many of the craft in former years would have compelled a postponement of "The Lights" had there been even a fairly stiff breeze, it is a splendid tribute to the Southern California climate to state that never yet has there been a postponement because of weather conditions. "A million dancing lights on one in a million nights," is one of the slogans used to publicize the event.

Gill Controls Highland Bank

SAN BERNARDINO, July 30.—J. B. Gill, president of two of San Bernardino's financial institutions, today acquired the controlling interest in the First Bank of Highland, purchasing 248 of the 500 shares of stock issued. He had previously owned twenty-eight shares.

Mr. Gill will be elected to the board of directors tomorrow, succeeding the late J. T. Wells. The other directors, G. T. Henslee, M. M. Randall, J. L. Yarnell, John Corwin, W. H. Roddick, D. H. Richardson, J. C. Smith and W. F. Grow, will retain their offices, it was announced. The consideration involved in the transfer of the bank's stock was not announced.

The bank has a capital of $55,000 and the last statement, issued on June 30, shows resources of $706,-049. It has for many years been regarded as a substantial institution and, with the affiliation with the two San Bernardino banks operated by Mr. Gill, will make possible the extension of its operations during the seasonal fluctuations of the citrus fruit industry, served by the bank.

Mr. Gill is president of the San Bernardino National and the San Bernardino County Savings banks, the two largest individually operated banks of the county.

SANTA ANA, July 30.—Citizenship papers no longer are purchased with cash, but with money orders, County Clerk J. M. Backs made known today in announcing new regulations covering applications for naturalization.

Money orders made payable to the Commissioner of Naturalization, Washington, must accompany each application for declaration of intention and for final papers, Backs said. The new fee for the former is $5 and for the latter $10.

PASADENA GIRLS AT BEACH RESORT

REDONDO BEACH, July 30.—Sixty girls between the ages of 3 and 16 years, who are protegees of the Boy and Girl Aid Society of Pasadena, are at 500 Esplanade here for a four weeks' outing. The girls are in charge of Superintendent Donnally and Mrs. Ethel Smith, Mrs. Lydia Simmons, Mrs. Elizabeth Stubbins and Miss Kate Reed. Upon the completion of their outing their places are to be filled by a like number of boys.

POSTAL CHANGE SOUGHT

MONTROSE, July 30.—Postmaster Frances Brown today requested a direct-mail service from Montrose to Glendale, a town with which Montrose has much of its commercial correspondence. Under present schedules mail from here first goes to Los Angeles and then is rerouted back to Glendale, causing long delays. Postmaster Brown has taken up the matter with Los Angeles postal authorities following complaints from residents here.

Community May Annex to Pasadena

PASADENA, July 30.—This city's population, now estimated at 87,000, will be increased 5000 to 92,000, if a movement to annex the "island" of county territory in the eastern section succeeds, it was revealed today when annexation petitions were prepared by the City Engineering Department.

The district which may become a part of Pasadena is surrounded by incorporated territory and embraces 600 acres. The "island" has a population of 5000 and a registered vote of about 1500.

It is bounded on the north by East Villa street, on the south by Locust street, on the west by North Allen avenue and on the east by the Pacific Electric right of way to Sierra Madre.

The city serves the "island" with water, but residents pay at a higher rate than those within the city limits.

The "island" annexation proposal is the third under consideration at the present time. West Altadena and the Pasadena Terrace tract, comprising eighty-eight acres in the northeast district, having had the matter under discussion for two months.

Vacation Ends in Boy's Death

COLTON, July 30. (AP)—Bertrand Drewett, 15 years of age, of 2803 Ellendale Place, Los Angeles, was found dead from a gun shot wound in the head near here today.

The boy had been spending a summer vacation on the ranch of his father near Colton and earlier in the day left for the surrounding hills to go hunting, relatives said.

Authorities believe a shot gun found near the body was discharged accidentally, killing the lad.

Drewett's body was found by Stafford Cooley, another boy, who was a friend of the dead youth and at whose home Drewett also had been visiting.

IMPORT DUTIES ARE LESS AT CALEXICO

CALEXICO, July 30.—Closing of the season for totuava and corbina fishing in the Gulf of California and the moving of cattle to the hills of Lower California for grazing this summer were responsible for the drop in value of dutiable imports received through the post of Calexico during July for the month ending today, according to the local customs office.

The total collections this month here were $2691, as compared to $12,907 last July. Value of free imports were $206,900, whereas last July they were $237,592. Exports this month were of the value of $251,776 and last July they were $240,184.

Two large herds of cattle raised and fed in Mexico, which normally would be imported through here were imported through Campo in the mountains, due to the fact that grass and forage in hills were better this summer than heretofore.

POULTRY SHOW FEATURE OF FAIR

SANTA ANA, July 30.—The poultry show at the Orange County Fair August 28 to September 2, inclusive, will break its last year's record of 1200 birds, in the opinion of Will S. Hatch, prominent Orange county poultryman and superintendent of this department of the county fair.

Poultry exhibitors are being spurred on to active competition by the announcement that there will be offered more than $700 in cash, cup and merchandise awards in addition to the regular cash awards given by the fair association. These specials have been donated by merchants and poultrymen of this and other counties.

A new feature in the poultry tent will be a pond filled with fancy water fowl and surrounded by comfortable benches for the use of visitors.

UNIQUE WEDDING CELEBRATED

Pioneer Couple Married Fifty Years

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Daley
Native son and daughter to have big party at San Bernardino.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 30.—Like the weddings of the pioneer days when everybody took the day off to dine and dance with the bride and groom will be the observance of the golden wedding anniversary tomorrow of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Daley, residents of the San Bernardino Valley for more than half a century.

The celebration will be held downtown in a hall; there'll be 600 guests, of whom 106 are relatives, near and distant; two dinners, one for the guests and another for the relatives and, if you please, Mr. and Mrs. Daley will dance every dance, beginning at 8:30 o'clock in the evening and continuing on into the early hours of the morning.

The dinner for the relatives, the first event on the day's program, will be served at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Will L. Brown, a life-long friend of the Daleys, will act as toastmaster at the dinner for the guests. There'll be informal speaking, reminiscences of the early days, old-time stories and, as Mr. Daley describes it, "just another one of those good old times we used to have."

The name of Daley is synonomous with the history of the San Bernardino Valley since the coming of the covered wagon trains. C. J. Daley is the son of Ed Daley, who drove one of the wagons in the train carrying Illinois pioneers into California. Mrs. Daley is the daughter of Frank Talmadge, another pioneer, who operated a sawmill in Little Bear Valley (now Lake Arrowhead) in the seventies.

The couple were married by Judge John T. Knox at Little Bear July 31, 1879, and have resided in San Bernardino virtually all of the time since the wedding, except two years when Mr. Daley was in San Francisco where he served as collector of the port. He is also a former chief of police of San Bernardino.

The Daleys have no formula for wedded happiness, except just "don't quarrel." They were sweethearts for years before their marriage, they said today.

OIL PUMPER KILLED

LONG BEACH, July 30.—Jack McCrawford, 51 years of age, pumper employed by the Richfield Oil Company, was killed early today when a pump head blew off at the Union Pacific No. 4 well in the Signal Hill oil field.

New Fire House to Be Built at La Crescenta

LA CRESCENTA, July 30.—Architects are now preparing plans and specifications for the erection of a fire station for the county fire warden's department, on Michigan avenue, following the approval of the Board of Supervisors for the purchase of a lot on which to erect the building. The lot, which was bought for $2500 from H. W. Peterson, 265 Kenneth Road, Glendale, has a frontage of sixty-two feet on Michigan avenue and will afford sufficient size to permit elaborate landscaping around the completed building.

The fire station will contain an apparatus room, a dormitory with room for eight beds, recreation room, office and kitchen, and will be erected at a cost of $9000.

Material used in the building will be stone, to harmonize with the Episcopal Church of St. Luke's of the Mountains, which stands on the adjoining lot, according to Spence D. Turner, county fire warden, who, with Norman C. Johnson, assistant, has been working on the project.

Work is scheduled to start by September 1, and the station will be ready for occupancy about sixty days later. The territory to be served by the new station will cover the entire La Crescenta Valley, and the present station, which is housed in a building at Verdugo City, will be discontinued.

MAN FOUND DEAD IN HERMOSA BEACH HOME

HERMOSA BEACH, July 30.—The body of James E. Collins, 73 years of age, believed to have been dead about thirteen days, was found in his home here this morning after the suspicions of a mail carrier had been aroused by the fact that mail was not removed from the mail box from day to day. Collins lived alone at 1150 Second street and is believed to have relatives living in the East. Death was due to natural causes, officers say. The body is at the Glade L. White mortuary awaiting funeral arrangements.

NAVY MAN TO TOUR WORLD

Commander Rosendahl to be Passenger on Long Flight of Graf Zeppelin

SAN DIEGO, July 30.—Announcement of a contemplated trip around the world aboard the Graf Zeppelin by Lieutenant-Commander Charles E. Rosendahl of Shenandoah fame and member of the navy's dirigible site selection board of five now in San Diego, and of the possible establishment at Camp Kearney of a naval school for the training of dirigible pilots and mechanics, which would be the largest of its kind in the world, was made here today.

Commodore Rosendahl, who arrived here late Sunday with the other four members of the inspection board, is to depart for Lakehurst, N. J., tonight. The next time Commander Ronsendahl "inspects" San Diego he hopes to do it from the air, aboard the world-famous Graf Zeppelin, for the young naval air officer, upon reaching Lakehurst, is to supervise the landing at the naval air station there next week of the Graf Zeppelin, and then is to be a passenger aboard "Graf" on its proposed trip around the world, during which the German Zeppelin will fly above San Diego, today's announcement states.

Upon completion of the world flight, Commander Rosendahl is to return to Lakehurst, and begin the training of a large number of officers and new men, who are to comprise the ground and operating crews of the Navy's new $2,000,000 giant ZRS-4 dirigible, now under construction in Ohio, and which is to be stationed on the Pacific Coast as soon as a site for a dirigible base has been selected here, and buildings for housing dirigibles and personnel erected.

Commander Rosendahl also is to train similar crews for the dirigible ZRS-5, sister-ship to the ZRS-4, which also is to be stationed on the Pacific Coast, at San Diego, if the Camp Kearney dirigible site, now being inspected by the board, is accepted.

SLOT MACHINES UNDER FIRE

Ventura Council Hears Story of Lad Who Stole to Get Money to Operate Gambling Devices

VENTURA, July 30.—Punchboards may be outlawed and the use of slot machines strictly regulated by city ordinances as the result of a lengthy hearing before the City Council last night on a complaint filed by Chief of Police Mattson alleging that minors were allowed to play the machines.

A signed statement from 12-year-old James Palm in which he declared he had stolen money from his mother, who is forced to earn her living, and from his employers in order that he might operate the gambling devices, was read.

Subsequently he was sworn in by Mayor G. A. Randall and gave testimony under the questioning of City Attorney Fourt to the effect that he had stolen some $15 from his mother and nearly $30 from his employers for the purpose of playing the slot machines in two cafes and two drug stores. This he did in most instances with the full knowledge of those operating the establishments, having made purchases with the chips he occasionally won and requesting them to make change for him, he testified. The proprietors of the stores in question were present and denied they knew the boy was placing his money in the machines and declared that minors were warned not to play. They admitted that children presented the slot machine chips in payment for purchases from time to time but said the chips were given them by their parents.

Mrs. Jessie Palm, a widow and the mother of the boy, gave information which substantiated her son's testimony, saying he had taken as high as $5 from her purse at one time without her discovering it until some time later.

At the conclusion of the hearing, the matter was taken under advisement by the Council. City Attorney Fourt informed them that he had prepared an ordinance which would strictly regulate the use of slot machines by allowing them to be placed only in pool halls, where minors are not allowed to enter, and which also would prohibit punchboards within the city.

WIFE FEARS FOR SAFETY OF ARTIST

Well-Known Painter Disappears from Home at Burbank

BURBANK, July 30.—Fearing that her husband was either a victim of amnesia or foul play, Mrs. George Demont Otis, wife of the well-known landscape artist who lives at 304 Avon street, notified police today of his disappearance from home on the 9th inst.

Otis, who had conducted a number of exhibitions of his and other Southern California painters' works in Burbank and Los Angeles, left his beautiful studio home here to accompany two Hollywood artists to Laguna, N. M. His companions, George W. Meyers and Edward Langley, returned ten days later and are reported to have told Mrs. Otis that her husband was suffering from some mental trouble.

Then followed a telephone call from Otis on the 22nd inst., from Holbrook, Ariz., in which he informed his wife that he had received several anonymous threatening notes and warned her not to tell anyone of his whereabouts. On the 26th inst., Mrs. Otis told police here today, she received a strangely worded telegram from her husband, stating, "Are you better—Here for a few days—silence—write." The message came from Laguna, N. M.

When she telegraphed him at that place the message was returned with the information that he had left town and failed to leave a forwarding address.

Otis drew out $2500 from a bank here on the day of his departure, police learned, and did not leave enough funds to cover a few checks outstanding. He was 53 years of age and had been a resident of Burbank for a number of years.

The Sheriff's office and surrounding departments were notified today of the artist's absence and mental aberration.

TIMELY WARNING AGAINST FRUIT FLY

SANTA BARBARA, July 30.—Montecito and Santa Barbara are two of the most dangerous communities for possible infestation by the Mediterranean fruit fly.

"So many of your people in Santa Barbara and Montecito do such a great amount of traveling and are liable to bring some infected fruit or shrub home to plant in your gardens that the two communities are the most dangerous as far as bringing the Mediterranean fruit fly into California," Mr. H. J. Ryan, Los Angeles Horticultural Commissioner, declared.

"All of your gardens have numerous hosts to the fly. Each of you will render a great service if you will refrain from bringing any plant or shrub into the State." Mr. Ryan told of the prevention and inspection work which is being done throughout the West. He asked members of the Garden Club to cooperate with the local Horticultural Commissioner by providing him with plats of their gardens and their planting.

SOCIAL EVENTS FOR VISITING YATCHMEN

SANTA BARBARA, July 30.—Plans for the social events in conjunction with the Southern California Yachting Association's regatta and racing program, August 11 to 18, were completed last night at the meeting of the secretaries of the various committees at the Santa Barbara Yacht Club, it was announced by Commodore Gourley. Among the plans to entertain the visitors will be trips through residential districts of Santa Barbara and Montecito, banquets, musical serenades and dancing also will feature the programs.

It was estimated that between 150 and 200 boats will be entered in the races. One hundred and fifty cups will be awarded the winning boats. Officials last night were advised that several boats would be sent here from San Francisco to do coast guard duty during the races. Rear-Admiral A. H. Robinson of the Eleventh Naval Base, San Diego, will be a guest of the yacht club during the regatta. The racing program will be announced later.

Valley Has New Plan for Trees

VAN NUYS, July 30.—More shade trees are wanted in San Fernando Valley, and at various times efforts have been made to get city-lot owners and ranchers to set out their share. A great deal has been accomplished within the last five years.

A new survey is now to be made with the city forester for the purpose of mapping out a street-planting program for all parts of the valley, it is announced by Gordon McDonough, secretary of the valley branch of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, who with various committees will co-operate in the work.

According to present plans every street in the valley is to be beautified by the planting of additional trees. As soon as the survey is completed the city forester will recommend which streets and boulevards are to be improved with trees, what kind of trees are to be planted, the number to be set out and the manner of planting them along the streets.

VETERAN OBJECTS TO OTHERS USING NAME

REDONDO BEACH, July 30.—Charles Mack, 43 years of age, a World War veteran, was ordered held for observation this morning after conviction in Judge Austin's court on a charge of battery. Mack was placed under arrest yesterday after he had entered a cafeteria here operated under the name of Mack's cafeteria and attacked the proprietor, Mrs. Isabel MacFarlane, disputing her right to the name under which she operates her business.

His attack was part of an attempt to prevent the use of his name by any other individual, he told the court, exhibiting newspaper clippings in which mention is made of the name. Among them were press notices of Moran and Mack, the Two Black Crows whom he planned to challenge for the use of the name, he said. He is understood to be on parole from the veterans' bureau and will probably be cared for by them.

Stearns, are well known in Santa Monica.

Buick's new controlled Servo mechanical brakes—the most effective braking system ever developed—not only are of the favored internal-expanding type, but are fully protected against dust, dirt and moisture, and provide maximum braking under all road and weather conditions. These remarkable new brakes are self-energizing, which means that part of the braking effort is provided by the car's own motion—and they are fully controlled through the foot pedal, thus eliminating all possibility of "grabbing." A single test will prove Buick's new controlled Servo brakes the smoothest, most positive, and most easily operated ever developed for any motor car.

New Longer Springs—with New Double-Acting Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers

The new Buick introduces an unparalleled comfort combination in its new, longer rear springs and new double-acting Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers. The new rear springs give the car a free and easy cushioning motion, which is controlled in both directions by the double-acting shock absorbers—thus eliminating both bound and rebound under severest road conditions. Through the medium of these two wonderful new comfort factors, Buick has widened still farther its decisive leadership in riding luxury.

New Road Shock Eliminator—New Steering Gear

Two vitally important features of the new Buick—a new steering gear and new road shock eliminator—mark the greatest contribution to handling ease and roadability achieved in recent years. The new steering gear, of worm and roller type, provides matchless steering ease throughout the entire turning range. The new road shock eliminator, built into the frame on the steering gear side, effectually absorbs road shocks and prevents their transmission to the steering wheel. The result of these twin features—found only in Buick—is unrivaled driving comfort at all speeds.

America has taken this new Buick to its heart. Millions have thronged to see it . . . tens of thousands have already placed orders . . . other thousands have requested demonstrations . . . and the reasons will be instantly apparent when you call at our showrooms and inspect the matchless array of new Buick models. **

The fact is that in the five major elements of motor car appeal—beauty, performance, comfort, safety, value—this new Buick with Body by Fisher strides far ahead of any other car in the entire quality field.

New Fisher Styling

The new Buick Bodies by Fisher are longer, lower, more luxurious. They reveal new Fisher styling—new beauty of line and appointment—new colors—which have won the outspoken admiration of all who have seen them. And in addition they introduce a host of new features of utility and convenience, including the new Fisher Non-Glare Windshield for safer night driving; new and richer upholstery; and new fittings and appointments of princely luxury.

Pacemaker of Performance

Moreover, Buick for 1930 reveals this same marked supremacy—this same increased leadership—in fleet, spirited behavior on the road. Its new and bigger Valve-in-Head engine—developing 99 horsepower—provides matchless new virility, pick-up, swiftness and flexibility. A single drive will prove it the pacemaker of performance. And the same drive will disclose marvelous new handling ease, comfort and safety, due to a new and improved steering gear and new road shock eliminator; new double-acting shock absorbers which check both bound and rebound; and new controlled Servo enclosed mechanical brakes, the most effective braking system employed on any car in the world.

See, Drive and Own This New Buick

Bear in mind, this new Buick with its many advancements is offered at new low prices—in three new series and three new wheelbases, with only one standard of quality throughout—the finest in its field.

Visit our showrooms today. See the new Buicks and arrange to drive one. Among the 14 attractive body types is exactly the Buick for you.

New Peaks of Power in The New Buick Valve-in-Head Engine

The wonderful new Buick Valve-in-Head engine—developing 99 horsepower—represents the splendid climax of 26 years of concentration on this one outstandingly efficient type. It is a bigger engine—a sturdier engine—and provides greater speed as well as a power reserve more than adequate to any need which may arise. Moreover, this great new power plant is smoother and quieter, as well as more powerful, and provides a measure of all-round performance without parallel in the Buick field.

*The new engine in the 132-and 124-inch wheelbase series develops 99 horsepower—the new engine in the 118-inch series, 80½ horsepower. Also it achieves this additional performance without increased gasoline consumption.

The New Fisher Non-Glare Windshield . . a Vital Contribution to Motoring Safety

The new Fisher non-glare windshield—a vitally important feature exclusive to Buick-built cars—adds immeasurably to the safety, pleasure and comfort of night driving. This new windshield—tilted at an angle of 7 degrees—protects the driver against the annoying and frequently dangerous reflection or glare from other cars. Test the new Buick and experience the remarkable advantages of this new and exclusive feature.

 So great is public confidence in Buick that thousands of motorists placed their orders for new Buicks before ever the car was shown. . . . Year after year, Buick sells more than 100,000 cars to Buick owners alone—more than the total output of the majority of cars in the Buick field.

Commissioner Mead Explains Operating Program

Applicants to Build Lines and Oversee Plants

WASHINGTON, July 30. (AP)—Commissioner Mead said today that the Bureau of Reclamation rapidly is completing allocation of power to be generated at the Boulder Canyon Dam and expects within the next two or three days to submit a temporary plan both to applicants for power and to the States for necessary adjustments.

Applicants also will be requested to form an organization to operate the power plant and to build necessary transmission lines.

The bureau in the menatime has instructed its electrical engineer, L. M. McClellan, and its consulting expert, William F. Durand, to work out charges necessary to retire the cost of construction within fifty years.

Commissioner Mead declared agreement also will be necessary between Yuma and Imperial Valley irrigation projects regarding a new dam at Laguna. Preliminary surveys have convinced the bureau that a new dam is necessary in order to raise the lowest level of the proposed all-American canal to the Imperial Valley at least twenty feet. Raising of the canal's elevation, Mead said, will save at least $20,000,000.

The General Land Office has withdrawn from entry all public lands, which will be irrigated under the Boulder Canyon project, and they will not be available for settlement until the dam is completed and water can be furnished for irrigation purposes. Land, when restored, will be subject to entry under the reclamation law and preference right will be given to ex-service men.

BUILDING POLICY TOLD

Mead said there are no irrigable lands in the immediate vicinity of the dam, such lands being mainly in the vicinity of Parker, Ariz., in the area tributary to the Yuma project in Arizona, the Palo Verde by the project in California, and lands in Imperial and Coachella valleys of California.

Mead said the present policy of the Department of the Interior is that all construction be done by contract. He said, however, that no decision has been reached as to whether or not Boulder Dam will be built by contract or directly by the Reclamation Bureau. If the work is done by contract, contractors and not the United States will purchase and furnish all equipment required on work. Materials such as cement, reinforced steel and permanent operating equipment will be purchased by the United States, however, but only after appropriate advertising.

WASHINGTON SEEKS MEXICO RIVER TREATY

WASHINGTON, July 30. (Exclusive)—With the hope of agreeing on a treaty covering all water rights of Mexico and the United States in three great rivers—the Colorado, Tia Juana and Rio Grande—a joint meeting of the American and Mexican commissioners has been called by the State Department for August 20 in Mexico City. Information collected by both commissions in the last few months will be submitted.

Officials of the United States believe that out of this meeting a treaty between the two countries covering the waters of the three rivers will be drawn and submitted to both countries for ratification. In view of the proposed Boulder Dam to be constructed by the United States in the Colorado River bed it is believed that adaption of such a treaty before actual construction of this great project is most important.

BOY SCOUTS CAMP IN RAIN

When Do We Eat? Cry 50,000 Youngsters in Many Tongues at Jamboree in England

ARROWE PARK (Eng.) July 30. (AP)—Four hundred and fifty acres of boys, their enthusiasm undampened by rainy skies, are waiting the opening here tomorrow of the Boys Scouts world jamboree. Fifty thousand Scouts from forty-two nations, including 1300 American boys, are camped at Arrowe Park, just across the Mersey River from Liverpool.

Most of the Americans received their baptism of English wet weather when they arrived late Sunday and yesterday. Dampness, however, neither crippled their campmaking skill nor took the edge off their appetites. In fact, Quartermaster Harvey Gordon of the American contingent today described the appetites of the young Scouts as simply ravenous.

The great camp will be formally opened tomorrow afternoon by the Duke of Connaught whose speech will be followed by an address by Sir Robert Baden-Powell, 72-year-old founder of the Scout movement. Thursday the Prince of Wales will visit the camp.

Coast Guard Commander Asks Washington on How to Cause Removal

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30. (Exclusive)—Capt. D. F. A. De Otte, division commander of the Coast Guard, disclosed today that he has asked Washington for instructions regarding procedure to have the gambling ships Johanna Smith and Montfalcone removed from coastwise steamer lanes. Capt. De Otte believes action can be taken against the vessels on the ground that they are a menace to navigation.

Both are anchored off the Ventura coast, having moved there from points off Los Angeles Harbor and Orange county. They are moved about from time to time, but Capt. De Otte declares most of their time is spent in the steamer lanes.

"It is not at all impossible," he pointed out, "that one of the fast passenger steamers running along the coast might collide with the Johanna Smith or the Montfalcone, resulting in great loss of life."

Snook's Illness Slows Up Trial

COLUMBUS (O.) July 30. (AP)—The physical condition of Dr. James H. Snook again today slowed up the already lagging process of selecting a jury in his trial for the murder of Theora Hix, 24-year-old Ohio State co-ed he has confessed he killed.

Dr. Snook was suffering more severely today than yesterday as the result of a spinal test made Saturday to assist in the determination of his sanity.

TWENTY-FIVE FIRES LAID TO LIGHTNING

PHOENIX, July 30. (AP)—Twenty-five fires due to lightning were reported from five ranger stations over the Tonto National Forest for the ten-day period ended today. No damage of consequence was caused by the blazes, however, as they were extinguished by rain as rapidly as started.

GOOD MAY QUIT TO PILOT G.O.P.

War Secretary Declared Sure to Head Committee

Lure of Law Practice Seen Back of Proposal

Hoover's Secretary Picked for Vacancy in Cabinet

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent

JAMES W. GOOD

WASHINGTON, July 30. (Exclusive)—James W. Good, now Secretary of War, is expected to be named chairman of the Republican National Committee when it meets within the next sixty days to seek a successor to the present chairman, Dr. Hubert Work, who has submitted his resignation. Before the actual meeting of the Republican committee, several Republican leaders will informally canvass the national situation and make suggestions as to the new chairman. But those who know the situation expect the committee will meet here in Washington between September 15 and the end of the month to take final action.

WILL QUIT CABINET

In case Secretary Good is selected as chairman he will resign from his present position and return to his home in Evanston, Ill., and become active again in his private law practice in Chicago. From that city he could handle the affairs of the national committee until the next Presidential election in 1932. Branch headquarters will be maintained here and in New York. Close friends of Secretary Good have insisted all along that he would like to return to his private practice of law in Chicago and believe he will be willing to head the committee.

In view of the effective work of Good in charge of Hoover's preliminary campaign last year and later in charge of the Chicago headquarters, it is certain that he will be acceptable to President Hoover, who after all may largely determine the final choice. In the event that this happens and Secretary Good leaves the Cabinet it is thought here that Postmaster-General Brown will be made Secretary of War and Walter H. Newton, formerly member of Congress from Minnesota and now one of President Hoover's secretaries, will be made Postmaster-General. For several campaigns Newton has had charge of the western headquarters speakers' bureau.

OTHERS MENTIONED

Several other men have been mentioned for the chairmanship of the Republican committee, but for political or geographical reasons they have not the strength of Secretary Good. Among those mentioned are Claudius Houston, former assistant Secretary of Commerce under Hoover. He comes originally from Tennessee and is now actively connected with several large business enterprises in New York. It is understood that he would have to sacrifice too much financially to accept the chairmanship and furthermore none of the real political advisers of President Hoover think there is any reason for naming a southerner for this place. They agree that the breaking up of the Solid South last year was anti-Smith and not pro-Hoover and that all the States will revert to the Democratic party in off years and probably in 1932.

Ralph Williams of Portland, Or., vice-chairman of the Republican National Committee for many years, also has been mentioned and will be glad to have the place, but in case President Hoover is a candidate in 1932, Oregon is too close to California and with that possibility there is little chance of the Republican committee putting all their prize places on the Pacific Coast.

OBJECT TO BENJAMIN

The same reason applies to the aspirations of Ray Benjamin of California, who was one of Chairman Work's principal aides during the last campaign. Benjamin also has handled several other California fights in national campaigns and also led several Senatorial fights in California and has been very successful as a party manager, yet he is in the wrong geographical location in the present line-up.

Most of the Republican leaders agree that the new chairman will come from the Middle West and they are certain that the selection will result in the drafting of James W. Good for the job within the next sixty days.

Reynolds Takes Stand as Death Trial Resumes.

LONDON, July 30. (AP)—Richard Joshua Reynolds, wealthy young American who is standing trial on a manslaughter charge growing out of an automobile accident, took the stand today at resumption of the retrial made necessary by last week's sudden halting of the case.

Reynolds, who is 23 years of age, denied that he was drunk when he ran into a motorcycle driven by Arthur Graham, who was killed last May.

Veteran Cashier Held for Theft

NEW YORK, July 30. (AP)—A cashier who five times in the last ten years refused promotions is under arrest today for the larceny of $50,000.

Philip K. Keller started with the International Tailoring Company twenty years ago as an office boy. After rising to the position of cashier at a salary of $60 a week he refused further advancements, saying he preferred that job to any other in the company. Asst. Dist.-Atty. Unger said Keller confessed losing the money betting on horse races and in stock-market speculations.

CENSUS QUERIES MAY BE VARIED

Advisory Committee Meets to Discuss Plans

Housing, Income and Other Questions Desired

Population Total Expected Near 122,250,000

WASHINGTON, July 30. (Exclusive)—Plans for the big count next April to include every man, woman and child in the United States were discussed at the Commerce Department today at the first meeting of the advisory committee for the census of population just called by Secretary Lamont.

The committee will consider the great range of suggestions which have been received as to the make-up of the proposed questionnaires.

It has been suggested, for example, that a question be included as to the rent paid by families occupying rented houses and also the rent value of homes occupied by their owners.

HOUSING QUESTIONS

Consideration also will be given to the suggestion that a question be included indicating the number of rooms per family. Census bureau officials say that this question has a long list of indorsers and it may be included on the schedules for one or two cities such as Chicago and a smaller city if it is considered impracticable to ask it nationally.

Among other queries which the Census Bureau has been petitioned to include is one relating to wages or salary income. The Canadian census authorities obtained this information in exact dollars. The proposal in connection with the United States census is to obtain the information by groups such as (a) $2500 or over, (b) $2000 to $2500, (c) $1500 to $2000, down to (f) under $500. It is not proposed to make any inquiry as to income other than that received for services.

RELIGIOUS DATA

Other suggested questions relate to religious affiliations, ownership of radio sets, a question to determine the extent of migration between farms and cities during 1929; a group of questions designed to furnish information as to the relative fecundity of various population groups, such as (a) number of children born to each married woman, (b) number of these children living, (c) age at first marriage or duration of marriage; (d) whether first, second or later marriage.

The first census of the United States taken in 1790 showed a population of 3,929,214, whereas the population returns of the fourteenth census taken in 1920 gave the population as 105,710,620. Estimates indicate that the present population of the United States is about 122,250,000.

Forestry Head Warns Nation of Fire Peril

WASHINGTON, July 30. (AP)—Characterizing the present forest fire situation as "the most critical the nation has known in many years," George D. Pratt, president of the American Forestry Association, today urged government, State and private agencies to action to prevent what may become a national catastrophe.

Mr. Pratt said present means for prevention and protection are "hopelessly inadequate," and pointed to fires sweeping over thousands of acres in California and the Pacific Northwest with little relief in sight. He cited that in the Modoc National Forest in California more than 50,000,000 board feet of lumber have been burned and more than 8000 acres of forest land burned over. Another fire is raging in Minnesota.

BANK MANAGER DEFIES ROBBER

Official Chases Bandit and Fires at Him

Gunman Escapes With Less Than $50

Note Presented to Teller for "All There Is"

Ignoring a bandit's threat of death A. V. Montin, bank manager, dodged around an office partition, ran for his revolver and thus frustrated an attempt by a bandit to rob the branch of the United States National Bank at Hoover street and Vernon avenue yesterday noon.

The bandit, after grabbing a few bills totaling less than $50, ran from the establishment and leaped into an automobile driven by a confederate. Montin, closely following him from the bank, fired several shots but failed to hit either of the fleeing pair.

The bandit, according to Montin, had entered the bank alone and presented a note to Charles Crozier, teller, demanding "all the money there is in fifties, twenties and tens." He carried a revolver partly concealed in a handkerchief, he said. Crozier was inside his office. Montin was standing outside near a corner of the partition. As the bandit turned his eyes toward the teller, the manager leaped around the corner and dashed for his office. The bandit then fled.

PROMOTER MAY LEARN FATE TODAY

Trial of J. W. Alford on Fraud Charge Reaches Argument Stage

Arguments were begun yesterday in the trial of John W. Alford, Los Angeles promoter, accused of misusing the mails in his asserted land-selling operations, following the closing of its case by the defense. A motion by the defense for a directed verdict was denied by United States District Judge Sawtelle, before whom the case is being tried.

The case, now nearing its third week of trial, probably will be given the jury some time today, depending on conclusion of the arguments. The prosecution, which is seeking to prove that the promoter obtained various sums of money aggregating several thousand dollars from investors by means of an asserted land-selling scheme, is being conducted by Asst. U. S. Atty. Armstrong.

Dr. Porter's Body Sent East for Funeral Service

The body of Dr. Samuel Smith Porter was sent to Meadville Pa., yesterday for services and burial. Dr. Porter had been a resident here since 1909. He died Sunday.

Dr. Porter was born April 22, 1840, in Meadville, and educated there, including a course in Allegheny College. This was followed by a course in the medical department of the University of Michigan. He also graduated from Bellevue Hospital Medical College, New York. He was house physician to the United States Marine Hospital, Detroit, and later surgeon to Blackwells Island Hospital, New York. At the close of the war he began the practice of medicine in Franklin, Pa. He also practiced in Mt. Vernon, Ill., St. Louis and Marietta, O.

He was married to Mrs. Nellie Van Zandt June 2, 1869. They had a son, Valetine Mott Porter, who died in 1915, one year after the death of his mother.

In 1917 Dr. Porter was married to Mrs. Edith Elrod, who is left. He also leaves a granddaughter, Valentine Mott Porter, who, with her mother, now is in Europe.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

Plans for a series of "twilight teas" to be held in the Venetian Lido of the Hollywood Knickerbocker have been announced by A. C. Berghoff, managing director of the newly opened Hollywood hostelry. These will take the form of a late afternoon "musical soiree," with orchestral and vocal numbers, light refreshments and with a celebrity acting as guest hostess at each affair. The first of these will be held on Thursday afternoon, August 8.

FILM FESTIVAL

Honoring Pauline Starke, popular screen star, a film festival will be given at the Montmartre this evening with many of the most prominent film players in Hollywood attending. Paul Whiteman's Rhythm Boys will offer a unique program of songs, parodying motion-picture favorites, while Proff Moore and his orchestra will stage the dancing contest to be judged by Miss Starke. Danny O'Shea continues as master of ceremonies.

SONG BEING WRITTEN

"Hollywood Boulevard, Style Center of the World," is to be a theme song of the film capital's famous thoroughfare, which Irving Aaronson, widely known leader of Aaronson's Commanders, now playing in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel, is composing in tribute to Col. Harry M. Baine, president of the Hollywood Boulevard Association.

"Red" Stanley and Phil Saxe are the featured soloists but every member of the band is an entertaining artist in himself.

MANN GOES TO POM POM

Joe Mann, manager of Arbuckle's Plantation for the past year, leaves that cafe to become manager of the Pom Pom, and will make his debut tonight at this popular Hollywood night club, where "Futuristique," new girl-and-music revue, staged by William Meiklejohn, is now playing.

A gala reception will be staged in his honor at the Pom Pom next Saturday evening, on which occasion prominent film stars and directors will attend, it is said.

Entre los viajeros hay tres del bello sexo, de los que don son yanquis. Con siete hombres de igual nacionalidad, son nueve los representantes de los Estados Unidos que irán a bordo.

Se Aclara la Disposición sobre Residencia de Norteamericanos en Méjico

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Julio 30.—Ha esclarecido hoy la disposición relativa a los norteamericanos que residen en los Estados Unidos y trabajan en Méjico, Felipe Canales, Ministro interino de lo Interior. Ha dado, con tal objeto, una declaración a la Prensa Asociada, en la que dice que deben interpretarse con cierta amplitud los reglamentos que rigen los movimientos migratorios en la frontera.

Manifiesta que la disposición que previene que residan en Méjico los extranjeros que ganen su vida trabajando en dicho país, debe considerarse más como una súplica que como una orden; y de allí que no se exigirá que cumplan con ella las personas que no estén dispuestas a hacerlo.

Ha hecho ver el ministro que el deseo de Méjico es que las personas que trabajan dentro de las fronteras mejicanas vivan en Méjico, a fin de que gasten su dinero en este país y contribuyan a la prosperidad de las poblaciones fronterizas. Declara, con todo, que el gobierno no tiene la intención de crear malas inteligencias ni de provocar malas voluntades entre la colonia extranjera de la frontera.

Será Administrador de la Prohibición el Jefe de Policía de Fresno

WASHINGTON, Julio 30.—Ha sido nombrado hoy W. G. Walker, jefe de policía de Fresno (California), administrador de la prohibición en el distrito septentrional del Estado de California. Sucede en el puesto a Edward R. Bohner, que no fue aprobado en el examen civil a que se sujetó últimamente.

El señor Lowman, subsecretario del Tesoro, ha anunciado el nombramiento de Walker, que sustentó brillante examen para ese puesto. Bohner, que está ausente con licencia, se ha ido a Alaska, donde, según declara, se tomará unas vacaciones para descansar de sus labores de administrador prohibicionista.

Walker Dejará la Jefatura de Policía al Recibir su Nombramiento

FRESNO, Julio 30.—Tan pronto como se le notifique oficialmente su designación para el cargo de administrador de la prohibición en el distrito norte de California, el señor Walker, jefe de policía de Fresno, renunciará a su empleo actual para poder aceptar el puesto federal que se le va a encomendar. Tal dicen los despachos de prensa del día de hoy.

NOTAS LOCALES

Shuler se Opone al Ensanche de la Calle de Flower

Tras la confirmación de los impuestos fijados al efecto, discutirá hoy el Concejo Municipal lo del ensanche de la calle de Flower, entre la calle Octava y la de Washington. Se propone el municipio ensanchar dicha calle, de ochenta pies que ahora tiene, a noventa que tiene el proyecto.

Apoyan este último muchos propietarios urbanos de ese barrio; pero se dice que el Reverendo R. P. Shuler, pastor de la Iglesia Metodista de la Trinidad, sita en la esquina de las calles Doce y Flower, va a protestar ante el municipio a la cabeza de un grupo de vecinos, que representa el 23 por ciento de las propiedades afectadas por la proyectada mejora.

Gerente de Banco que no se Acobarda ante un Salteador

Sin curarse de la amenaza de muerte de un bandido, el gerente de banco A. V. Montin, resguardándose con un tabique de su oficina, corrió por su revólver, y le frustró ayer al asaltante una tentativa de robo en la sucursal del Banco Nacional de los Estados Unidos, sita en la esquina de la calle de Hoover y la avenida de Vernon.

El bandido, tras apoderarse de unos cuantos billetes, que no llegaban en total a $50, salió a todo escape del banco y se alejó en un auto que conducía un cómplice suyo. Montin salió corriendo tras él, y aun disparó algunos tiros sobre la pareja de malhechores; pero no logró herirlos.

Dice Montin que el bandido entró solo y le presentó un papel al cajero, exigiéndole le diera todo el dinero disponible en billetes de cincuenta, veinte y diez dólares. Llevaba un revólver parcialmente oculto en un pañuelo. Entonces fue cuando Montin hizo el hábil movimiento referido, y se armó de su revólver. El ladrón se vio perdido y se dio a la fuga.

FOX SECURES CARL MILLER

James Murray to Play Lead in "Shanghai Lady"

Maurice Chevalier to Leave Soon for Paris

Virginia Valli Takes Lead in Tiffany-Stahl Film

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

That very talented young actor and artist, Carl Miller, is at last to have his genius recognized. Miller has just been signed by Fox on a long-term contract.

His first role under his new contract will be one of the principal featured characters in "Conquistador," the romantic Spanish-flavored, all-talking Fox-Movietone story featuring Warner Baxter and Mary Duncan.

Miller began his screen career as a juvenile with Lois Weber in 1916. Up to that time he had interested himself in the art of painting and sculpture, and had studied in Paris, as well as working as an actor on the stage. He was born in Wichita county, Texas.

Everyone who saw Miller in Charles Chaplin's production of "A Woman of Paris" prophesied excellent things for him. Then, somehow, he dropped out of sight so far as acting was concerned, and was supposed to be devoting himself to sculpture.

Recently he took up acting again, appearing on the stage with Ruth Chatterton in "The Green Hat" and afterward with Edward Everett Horton at the Vine Street Theater in "Her Cardboard Lover."

Winfield Sheehan made the announcement of Miller's affiliation yesterday. It is intimated that excellent things are in store for the actor.

JAMES MURRAY WILL ACT WITH UNIVERSIVAL

JAMES MURRAY

Looking hither and yon for a young actor skillful enough to play the lead in "Shanghai Lady," which Universal is to produce as a talking picture, Carl Laemmle, Jr., and other Universal officials decided that no one could interpret the part quite so well as James Murray. Universal therefore signed him yesterday.

As you remember, Mary Nolan is to be featured in the picture, and Murray will play opposite her.

The young actor first came into prominence playing the juvenile lead in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's picture, "The Crowd." Afterward he appeared in a number of other productions, in all of which he distinguished himself.

Other important members of the cast were announced yesterday, and include Leona D'Avril, Mona Rica and Lydia Yeamans Titus.

Maurice Chevalier to Paris

France's favorite entertainer is to return for a visit to his homeland.

Maurice Chevalier, idol of the Paris music halls, will leave the Paramount studios in Hollywood the first week in August, shortly after the finish of production of his current starring picture. The vehicle is "The Love Parade," the talking screen's first original operetta, which is being filmed under the direction of Ernst Lubitsch. Chevalier will remain in the French capital for a month or more and will return near the first of October to the Paramount studios at Astoria, Long Island, where his third American-made all-talking film will be produced.

The French star has been in Hollywood, except for an occasional visit to New York, since the fall of 1928. After he completed his first all-talking film, "Innocents of Paris," he went to Broadway and was starred in Ziegfeld's roof show during its run of eleven weeks.

It is likely that Chevalier will appear in a revue during his stay in Paris.

Virginia Valli With Tiffany-Stahl

VIRGINIA VALLI

That clever young actress, Virginia Valli, seems to have little time, these days, to don that sunback bathing suit of hers and go swimming.

Yesterday she was signed by Tiffany-Stahl to play the featured feminine lead in "The Lost Zeppelin," which Edward Sloman will direct.

Conway Tearle will be cofeatured with Miss Valli, and other important members of the cast will be Ricardo Cortez and Duke Martin.

"The Lost Zeppelin" is to be a talker, and will be one of the most important pictures which Tiffany-Stahl will put out during the coming year.

Several distant locations will be used in the making of the production, among them the Canadian Rockies. The story, having to do with aviation, has up-to-the-moment as well as dramatic value, and promises many thrills.

Herbert Bunston Returns

Herbert Bunston, that noted English player who achieved so much success on this side in Lonsdale's "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," with Ina Claire, and who appeared with Norma Shearer in the talking version of the play produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, is to make talking pictures his profession.

The actor went back to England to visit his family following the completion of the Lonsdale picture. He returned yesterday to Hollywood, and there are whispers that he will probably be signed by M.-G.-M. on a long-term contract, so great was his success in the Shearer feature.

A pillar dating from Roman days has been found supporting the corner of a house at Angora, Turkey.

ROACH STUDIOS CLOSE FOR VACATION PERIOD

Completing its 1928-29 program, the Hal Roach studios in Culver City are closed and will not resume production for a month, according to announcement yesterday. The studio closes at this time every year for its vacation period. Work on the program for the coming season will be commenced on August 27, when will be launched a schedule calling for approximately forty all-talking comedies, at least twenty of which will have silent versions. Last season the Roach units produced forty silent comedies and twenty talkies.

'PROTECTION' STARTS AT BOULEVARD

"Protection," a newspaper story with Dorothy Burgess, Paul Page and Robert Elliot, is scheduled for the Fox Boulevard Theater starting tomorrow. The story not only deals with a cagy reporter, but his editor as well and between the two of them manage to uncover a rum and dope ring in which several high city officials are involved.

A complete version of news gathering from the uncovering of the story, its writing, setting up, trip through the presses and eventual appearance on the streets is shown, it is said. Dorothy Burgess has much the same role which she created in "In Old Arizona," although she practices her wiles in a drawing room and the time is more modern.

Paul Page will be remembered for his leading role in "Speakeasy" and Robert Elliot, who is seen as the editor, is again the same easy going, soft-drawling man who played the detective in the stage version of "Broadway." On the stage Lynn Cowan and his Boulevard band and girls in a special offering "Odds and Ends Revue" with fifty people in the cast and a chorus of twenty will be seen.

Concert Pianist Once Ambition of Noted Star

Ethel Barrymore has no double when she plays the piano in the second act of Lili Hatvany's "The Love Duel" in the Mason Theater. As a child, her ambition was to become a concert pianist, but when she found it necessary to earn her living at the age of 14, she joined her grandmother, Mrs. John Drew's company, and abandoned the idea of devoting her life to music, though she continued her studies and, as a consequence, has become an accomplished pianist.

More than once her ability in this field of art has been useful to her. While still a girl she was acting a small role with Annie Russell in a play called "Catherine." In one scene she doubled off-stage for Miss Russell playing a Chopin nocturne while the other actress pretended to play it in view of the audience. One night, Miss Barrymore become so engrossed in reading a book in her dressing-room that she missed her cue and the curtain descended upon Miss Russell vainly attempting to draw forth the strains of Chopin's music, but with no forthcoming sounds.

Movietone News Offers Varied List of Items

As a special added attraction to "Show Boat," current feature talking-singing photoplay at the Fox Criterion, the theater is offering in Fox Movietone news a most interesting and varied series of subjects.

Scheduled today by Fox news for showing this week at the Fox Criterion is President Hoover proclaiming the peace treaty to be in force with representatives of forty-one leading nations at the White House in company with ex-President Coolidge and ex-Secretary of State Kellogg. The Fox Criterion is inviting all the consuls in Los Angeles to see this historic ceremony.

Actress Signs New Contract

Catherine Dale Owens's debut as John Gilbert's leading lady so impressed Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer that she has been signed on a long-term contract as a featured player. Miss Owen, New York stage star, was brought out to Hollywood recently to appear with Gilbert in the talking version of Molnar's romantic comedy, "Olympia," which Lionel Barrymore directed. Among her most recent stage appearances, Miss Owen played in "The Love Set," "The Whole Town's Talking," "Bootleggers" and "White Collars."

THEATER MART GIVES "SKY FULL OF MOON"

"Sky Full of Moon," a comedy of college life by Walter Browne Rogers opens at Theater Mart on Monday for one week.

The cast includes Beth Laemmle, Claude Gillingwater, Jr.; Iden Browne, Betty Boyd, Maybeth Carr, Eleanor Flynn, Aileen Carlyle, Winston Miller, Charlotte Wynn, Gloria Blacton, and others. The play is directed by the author, Walter Browne Rogers.

LION TO MAKE MARK

In order to perpetuate the popularity of Numa, veteran lion film star, who heads the troupe of 150 African jungle monarchs appearing at Gay's Lion Farm, near El Monte, his signature mark will be affixed hereafter to all correspondence and documents concerning his affairs. Numa's right front paw will be photographed, and a small zinc cut made from the picture, after which a rubber stamp will be struck off from the cut. In addition to the signatures of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gay, his owners, Numa's mark will be impressed on all film contracts.

New Screen Team Makes Debut

Patsy Ruth Miller and Jack Mulhall
Are costarred in the First National-Vitaphone production, "Twin Beds," which starts at Loew's State Theater tomorrow.

"ARABIAN" CAST SELECTED

"The Arabian," the romantic comedy of the desert in which Walker Whiteside will appear next as guest star with the Henry Duffy Players at the President starting Sunday, has been one of the actor's most popular successes. He starred in it for two seasons in New York and on tour and he believes the role of Abd-El Rey, the Arab chieftain, is one of the best acting roles that has fallen to his lot during his stage career.

Henry Duffy has completed the cast for "The Arabian" and supporting the star will be Franc Hale in the role of Diane, the English girl, while Charles Penman will play Capt. Penway, the young British soldier who loves her. Maj. Cromwell will be acted by Paul McGrath and Charles Coleman will play Col. Gordon. Alma Chester will take the part of Amrah and others are Frank Henderson, Irving White, Edward Earle, Frederick Wallace, Donelda Currie and Carl Vose. Rehearsals are in progress under the direction of Edwin H. Curtis.

"The Hindu," the comedy of the Orient in which Whiteside is now appearing as Prince Tamar, the East Indian ruler, will continue until Saturday night. This exciting story of romance and intrigue has proved highly popular with audiences, it is said.

Biblical Drama Creates Appeal in Southland

So general is the appeal of the colorful Pilgrimage Play, now being presented in its own picturesque open-air theater in Hollywood, that organizations of the city have made reservations to view the production in groups for nearly every performance during the remaining four weeks of its engagement.

At this evening's performance employees of the Union Oil Company and the Southern California Edison Corporation will attend. Tomorrow night the Standard Oil and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company will stage parties. On Friday night employees of the Southern Pacific Railroad and students of Manual Arts High School will see the play.

For the remaining weeks, employees of other railroads, department stores, banks and other business organizations, in addition to chambers of commerce from outside cities, have already reserved sections of seats, according to Sparks Berry, manager.

Spouse in Real Life Interprets Role on Stage

Dale Winter thinks that Tommy Tucker, the chief male character which is played by Henry Duffy in the production of "The First Year" by the Henry Duffy Players at El Capitan, is the perfect husband.

"Tommy is an ideal stage mate," says the actress, "mostly because he is not perfect himself. He still likes his parties, he wants to keep up a bluff of affluence before the man he hopes to interest in a deal, he tries to drown his sorrow in drink when his wife leaves him and he is knocked out in the fight with his rival in love. Everyone would like a Tommy Tucker for a husband because he would be an understanding and human companion as well as a devoted lover. The character, to me, is one of the most believable in any modern comedy."

Others in the cast of "The First Year" are Florence Roberts, Olive Cooper, Ann Little, Lloyd Neal, Ray L. Royce, George Leffingwell and Edward Lynch.

Tan Complexion Necessity for Villain Roles

Sun-tan is not so popular in Hollywood after all, according to George Rigas, who is playing a sinister oriental in "The Jade God," melodrama being produced by Franklin Pangborn at the Vine-street Theater. Rigas bases his belief on the fact that Hollywood and his native Greece have diametrically opposed opinions as to what constitutes a matinee idol.

A few years ago the actor was the idol of Athenian matinee audiences and now he is one of the most sinister villains of the screen. It is all a result of his olive skin. In spite of the sun-tan fad, Hollywood still demands that heros at least be a little fair and villains somewhat swarthy.

Rigas averred that he was resigned to his villainous role and that he was undergoing a daily bath of California sunshine in order to meet all requirements.

"Melody Lane" Shows Leonard in New Field

Eddie Leonard, minstrel man, stage favorite for years as the successor of Primrose and Dockstader, will be seen and heard as the star of "Melody Lane," Universal all-dialogue picture, which starts at the Pantages Theater for a limited engagement Saturday.

Alexander Pantages is preparing an elaborate opening for "Melody Lane." It is a story of back-stage vaudeville life, written by Joe Swerling. The picture marks Leonard's bow as a motion-picture star after stage success as a minstrel.

Opposite Leonard appears blond Josephine Dunn, who will be remembered for her performance with Al Jolson in "The Singing Fool." Miss Dunn has the role of Leonard's wife and the two are struggling along in three-a-day vaudeville. Leonard's slide-trombone voice and sunny personality are given full range in this picture of life behind the footlights. Besides old favorites of his, such as "Here I am" and "Oh, Didn't It Rain," Leonard sings three new song hits, "Beautiful," "Sugar Cane 'Round My Door" and "Bogie Man Am Here."

"Come Seven" to Start Run Soon

Robert Levy, manager of the Orange Grove Theater, which has been redecorated, believes in signs. That is why he is not surprised at the large advance sale reported for the Octavus Roy Cohen comedy that has its stage premiere at the Orange Grove tomorrow night. "Come Seven" is the comedy and Levy claims the seven in the title means good luck. Furthermore, there are exactly 711 seats in the theater. The seven and the eleven are sure to make "Come Seven' 'a success, Levy avers.

All this, coupled with the fact that the Christie brothers are sponsoring the opening night in honor of Octavus Roy Cohen, has made the manager very optimistic. The Christies report that every star invited by them to see the opening has signified his intentions of being present at the premiere to witness the debut of Evelyn Preer and the Lafayette Players in the Cohen play.

WALLACE LAUDED FOR "RIVER OF ROMANCE"

The capacity houses to which "River of Romance" has been showing thus far this week at the Paramount, is said to fully substantiate once again the claims of Hollywood's critics that Richard Wallace must be regarded as one of the leading directors in the industry. As the director of the sustaining love tale of the South, Wallace, it is claimed, reveals an understanding of drama, comedy, pathos and heart interest.

As further proof of the status enjoyed by Wallace, comes the announcement from the offices of B. P. Schulberg, general manager of production for Paramount, that Wallace has been assigned to direct J. M. Barrie's tremendously popular story, "An Old Lady Shows Her Medals," which he will make as an all-talking picture.

FAY WRAY SIGNS ANEW

Fay Wray, Hollywood High School girl, who was Erich Von Stroheim's choice for the feminine lead in "The Wedding March," has been signed to a new contract as a Paramount player. A direct cause for the contractural renewal was the performance Miss Wray gave as leading woman in George Bancroft's "Thunderbolt." Her next part will be in "Behind the Make-Up."

POST SEEN ON SCREEN AND STAGE

Noted Actor Comes to Hollywood Playhouse in "Masquerader"

Guy Bates Post, who comes to the Hollywood Playhouse Monday night as guest star with the Henry Duffy Players in "The Masquerader," is well known in the film colony as a screen star. Post made his two successes, "The Masquerader" and "Omar, the Tentmaker," into motion pictures and also starred in "Gold Madness."

Five countries have seen "The Masquerader" and the star has been offered contracts to appear in the popular vehicle in London next season, it is said. He presented it for five seasons in this country, starred in it twice in Australia and has been seen in the play in New Zealand, Tasmania and South Africa.

Prominent in the supporting cast of the play here will be Lilian Kemble Cooper, British actress, who will have the chief feminine role of Eve Chilcote; Elwyn Eaton as Brook, the butler, the role he acted for three seasons with Post; Raymond Lawrence as Bobby Blessington, the same part he acted with the star on his first tour of Australia, and Flora Bramley, one of the Wampas baby stars of 1928, who will play Robins, the little slavey. Robert McWade and the Henry Duffy Players are now in the final week of the presentation of "The Big Pond" at the Playhouse.

Unusual Scenes in Artists' Film Cause Comment

"The Four Feathers," current screen attraction at the United Artists' Theater, has elicited widespread comment from all who have seen it for two particularly unusual scenes.

One shows the rush of nearly a thousand baboons across a bridge, fleeing from a burning jungle. The baboons are of a rare type, seldom seen in the United States. They flee the flames with their young clinging to their backs. The bridge breaks and many of them are plunged into the waters below. They demonstrate that self-preservation is the first law of nature. The older animals toss the young into the waters and make an effort to escape alone.

The second impressive scene shows hundreds of hippopotami charging down an embankment into a river. Another particularly striking scene depicts thousands of camels and riders in the midst of a huge desert. All of the African scenes were produced by Cooper and Schoedsack, makers of "Chang" and "Grass." The cast includes Richard Arlen, Fay Wray, William Powell, Clive Brook, Theodor Von Eltz, George Fawcett and other Paramount favorites.

Bickford Makes Screen Debut in "Dynamite"

Charles Bickford, the good-looking "he-man" who has zoomed into the stellar firmament by reason of his leading role in Cecil B. De Mille's "Dynamite" at Fox Carthay Circle, is certainly no object for a student of heredity. The red-headed Broadway star is the only actor of seven children; his father was a coffee importer, and there have been no actors on either paternal or maternal side for hundreds of years.

Bickford "took a dare," went on the stage after traveling around the world in the navy as a first-class fireman, and went to the top on Broadway. Cecil De Mille took him out of "Gods of Lightning," a Broadway stage play, for the leading role in "Dynamite," Bickford's first motion picture.

"Dynamite" is the first all-talking picture to be made by Cecil B. De Mille, and is being shown at the Fox Carthay Circle Theater, with Carli Elinor's concert orchestra.

Topics of Town Hall Discussed at Hillstreet

When all questions, political, civic and even social and domestic were debated and settled by public meetings, the old town hall was the most important place in town. Al Abbott, one of the many stage features on the R.K.-O. program at the Hillstreet this week, has gone back to the old town hall and gives his impressions of the town folks who used to go there to settle their disputes.

These impressions are character highlights, it is said, fine bits of humorous acting made more graphic because Abbott uses beards, wigs and other forms of disguises for the various people he portrays. Monte Blue's first Vitaphone talkie of the marines, "From Headquarters," is the screen attraction.

Ladies Attend Unique Comedy of Press Life

That the wild hilarity of "The Front Page" still appeals to feminine theatergoers is evidenced, it is said, by the demand for matinee tickets at the Belasco Theater box office, where the Hecht-MacArthur comedy is now playing a brief return engagement.

From indications the matinee today will be largely attended by the fair sex with males much in the minority. Today is the first of the four matinees of "The Front Page" that will be given during the two weeks' engagement.

Roscoe Karns, Doris Kemper, Ralf Harolde, James Donlan, Marian Burns, Jack Carlyle and others take their original roles in this unique comedy.

NEON EARNINGS JUMP SHARPLY

Western Holding Unit Earns $1.79 in First Half

Annual Revenues Running at Rate of $3.59

Second Quarter Also Shows Sizeable Gain

Claude Neon Electrical Products, Inc. (Arizona) and its subsidiary, Electrical Products Corporation (California) for the first six months of 1929 showed net profits of $374,479.92 after all charges, including Federal tax, as compared with $121,246.42 for the same period of 1928, an increase of $253,233.10, or 208 per cent, according to the semi-annual report issued yesterday by Paul D. Howse, president.

These earnings are equivalent after preferred dividends to $1.79 a share on 185,000 common shares outstanding as against 42 cents a share on the same number of shares in the 1928 period. The half-year net profits are at the annual rate of $748,959.84, in comparison to $295,848.68 reported for the full year of 1928, or at the annual rate of $3.59 per common share against $1.14 per common share in 1928.

The second-quarter profits before Federal tax were $228,507.30, as against $202,608.46 for the first quarter, an increase of $25,898.84, or more than 12 per cent.

Gross profits on rentals and sales and royalties and dividends received from sublicensees totaled $628,614.83 against $392,248.48 for the 1928 period. MOTOR GIANT SHOWS HAND

Backs Investment in Aviation With Executives from Own Staff; Whalen Once With Edison Company

BY EARLE E. CROWE

By degrees the extent to which the General Motors Corporation is interested in the manufacture of aircraft is taking tangible shape. The announcement yesterday of the transfer of W. T. Whalen from the General Motors Export Company to the Fokker Aircraft Corporation as vice-president and general manager is additional evidence that the largest manufacturer of automobiles is taking more than a passive interest in aviation. So far General Motors has backed its investment in Fokker with the affiliation of five of its trained executives with the airplane company.

When the motor-car company purchased a 40 per cent interest in Fokker Aircraft the aviation industry was immensely gratified, for it was recognition that the industry had sought for some time. Then the General Motors company indicated that its interest went beyond the contribution of capital when Eddie Rickenbacker, premier American ace in the World War, was transferred from the sales direction of its Cadillac and La Salle divisions to Fokker as vice-president in charge of sales.

DIRECTORS ADDED

Following the Rickenbacker announcement came the election of three of the well-known General Motors officers as directors of the Fokker company. Fred J. Fisher, vice-president and director; C. F. Kettering, vice-president and director, and C. E. Wilson, vice-president, were the men named to the Fokker board. The latter was until recently assistant to the president of General Motors, and formerly was general manager of the Delco-Remy Corporation.

The new vice-president and general manager of Fokker, who will probably spend considerable time in Los Angeles if a new plant is built here, as expected, is not a stranger to this city. Part of his early business experience was obtained with the Southern California Edison Company, Mr. Whalen having been from 1914 to 1916 in the employment of the Edison company as a power salesman and also as a salesman of electric ranges.

Prior to coming to the Edison company, Mr. Whalen served in the graduate engineering apprentice course of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. He graduated in electrical engineering at the Iowa State College, attended the Walton Accounting School, Wharton College of the University of Pennsylvania, and also Columbia University.

JOINS MOTORS

In 1920 he joined the General Motors organization. First he was branch manager of the United Motors Service Corporation, and two years later was attached to the General Motors Export Company at Oshawa, Ont., in charge of factory relations. Later he was made manager of the far eastern division of the export company.

His next step was as managing director of General Motors Continental Antwerp, which he organized and operated from the beginning. In December, 1926, he was elected vice-president and general manager of the General Motors Export Company, which position he leaves to round out the executive personnel of the Fokker company.

As general manager it is understood that Mr. Whalen will make his headquarters in the East, where he will represent James A. Talbot, chairman of the board, and Harris M. Hanshue, president. Messrs. Talbot and Hanshue will continue at the head of the executive management, assisted by the General Motors representatives and several technical advisors from the automobile company's ranks.

Associated Gas Plans Call for Large Outlay

NEW YORK, July 30. (Exclusive) An outlay of upward of $40,000,000 is called for by the Associated Gas and Electric system in an ambitious program for the expansion and further improvement of existing facilities. Much of this sum will be expended in interconnections, additions to facilities and construction of new plants.

In addition to their own generating capacity aggregating almost 1,000,000 kilowatts, the Associated properties are so situated that the growing requirements for electric power in the areas served may be met by ability to draw on the power resources of the Atlantic seaboard.

Already the major properties of the Associated system are tied in with the gigantic power pool of the Atlantic seaboard and a part of this territory is served with electricity from Niagara Falls and Conowingo. In another year the huge Saluda 130,000-kilowatt hydro-electric project will have been built and added to the Associated system.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, July 30. (AP)—Favorable features in the weather news and bullish private crop advices, emphasizing increased weevil damage, seemed chiefly responsible for advances of somewhat over $1.50 a bale in the cotton market today. In early trading the advance was checked by some southern selling and realizing and was followed by partial reactions, but the market showed a generally steady tone during the middle of the afternoon.

M'FADDEN SCANS SITUATION

Author of Bank Act Making Study of Entire Field Preparatory to Meeting of Congress

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1929, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

NEW YORK, July 30.—Representative Louis T. McFadden of Pennsylvania, chairman of the House Committee on Banking and Currency, is spending the summer in Washington making a comprehensive study of the whole banking and financial situation preparatory to the meeting of Congress this fall.

He is including in its study the Federal Reserve system loans on speculation, the conditions of credit for general business and all facts dealing with the new trend in banking.

Branch or chain banking is a problem now up directly for discussion. What should be the place of the reserve bank in international finance? Should it, after all, take a definite place in the membership of the international bank to be formed upon the acceptance of the principle by the several countries?

The banking situation is moving rapidly into larger units, and the sentiment of the bankers as a whole has changed radically the last two or three years.

Whether the final outcome will be branch banking within State limits or chain banking with powerful financial support, is hard to say yet.

"Instead of 26,000 independent banks throughout the United States as there are today, I predict that five years from now there will not be 5000 independent banks," a Mid-western banker said to me.

That is a decided change. Doubtless the problem will receive some attention from the American Bankers' Association at its meeting in San Francisco, beginning September 21, next.

Many people in the United States think of Canada as merely an agricultural country given over largely to wheat and grain growing. But this is not the case.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics has just announced the increase in Canada's wealth for 1927—the net is $3,900,000,000. Agriculture contributed 38 per cent, manufacturing, 31 per cent; construction, 8 per cent, forestry, 8 per cent, mining, 6 per cent; electric power, 3 per cent, and remainder was miscellaneous.

The western provinces are the richest per capita. British Columbia is first with $4032; Alberta, second, $3660; Saskatchewan, third, $3586; Ontario, fourth, $3000, and Manitoba is fifth, $2976.

Many tourists from the United States are visiting Canada this year—even more than in the record year of 1928. Three hundred and seventy-eight thousand more automobiles crossed the peace bridge into Ontario in June this year than last. Figuring three persons a car, that means an increase of about 1,000,000 persons. Think of 11,000,000 crossing that bridge into Canada so far this year.

Western Canada has developed its co-operative marketing organizations much more effectively and efficiently than any other section of Canada. In fact, the record is one to be studied in the United States now that the Federal Farm Board has decided to work with co-operative institutions.

Take Saskatchewan as an example. In that province the total sales of all the larger co-operative agencies amounted to $176,640,000 for 1928; the Saskatchewan Wheat Producers, Ltd., $160,000,000; Co-operative Creameries, Ltd., $5,000,000; Live Stock Producers, Ltd., $4,918,000; Co-operative Trading Associations, $3,852,000; Municipal Hail Association, $1,856,000; Poultry Producers, Ltd., $553,000; Registered Seed Growers, Ltd., $281,000; Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers, Ltd., $180,000.

SALES OF GASOLINE INCREASE

State Figures Show Rise of 22,000,000 Gallons in Second Quarter

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30. (Exclusive)—American Petroleum Institute announced today that distribution of motor vehicle fuel in California for the quarter ended June 30, last, amounted to 307,517,855 gallons, compared to 285,430,743 gallons in the second quarter of 1928, and 287,770,306 gallons in the March quarter of 1929.

First half year distribution totaled 595,288,161 gallons, against 536,536,310 gallons for the same period in 1928.

Position of the major companies changed but little from the first quarter alignment. Wilshire Oil displaced Texas Company and Pan-American Petroleum as the only change. Comparative sales in gallons were as follows:

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, July 30. (AP)—Although time money was firmer and the demand loan rate held at 10 per cent, the bond market more than recovered its losses of yesterday in today's moderately active session.

The leaders in the upturn were the convertibles, which in the last hour or two of trading made a brisk rally that carried them well above the previous closing quotations. Many of the rails which were particularly hard hit in the Monday selling, also came back in the late trading and were joined by representative industrials, particularly steel-company obligations.

Outstanding in the share privilege group was the performance of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron 6s which made a net advance of 6⅞ points to the new high of 110¼.

Atchison convertible 4½s jumped 4½ points to 148¾. American Telephone 4½s were up 2⅝ to 184. International Telephone 4½s climbed 1 to 163, and American I. G. Chemical 5½s gained 2¾.

General Steel Casting 5½s were prominent in the industrial division, climbing nearly a point on active inquiry. Bethlehem Steel 6s at 105½, closed within ⅛ of their year's high.

United States government issues in substantial trading, proved irregular. The Treasury 3⅜s, 1940-43, advanced about a quarter point as $400,000 par value of the notes changed hands. The Treasury 4¼s and 3⅜s, 1943-47, sold off slightly.

Standard rails after early sluggishness, rallied under the leadership of the Atchison general 4s, which advanced a full point.

Utilities sold off slightly in the absence of demand. Foreign sugar bonds worked generally higher, but the Cuba 8s suffered from profit taking.

The market for foreign bonds broadened appreciably without effect on prices. Kreuger & Toll 5s again traded heavily, advancing nearly a point on a turnover of approximately $750,000, principal amount.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

DROP IN STOCK PRICES HALTED

American Telephone, Air Reduction, Montgomery Ward, American Can, Western Union, International Harvester, Sears' Roebuck and Mack Truck were among issues mounting about 5 points. Safeway Stores was eagerly bought, rising nearly 8 points. Certain-teed and Maytag were specialties reaching new high ground for the year. Steels were firm, but made little headway. United States Steel was not affected by its earnings report, as customarily, it was announced after the close. The stock closed little more than a point higher, and Bethlehem moved up a couple of points.

Midland Steel Products was a weak spot, selling off about 18 points, then reducing its loss to 10. Commercial Investment Trust more than lost yesterday's gain, falling back 10 points. Eastman Kodak slipped back about 3½ points on the granting of rights.

Grains again turned downward in the commodity markets. Wheat lost 3 to 4 cents a bushel on cooler weather in the Northwest and less bullish crop advices. Corn lost about 3 cents. Cotton, on the other hand, had a sharp advance on bullish private crop advices and unfavorable weather, but lost some of the gains, closing 35 to 90 cents a bale higher.

Foreign exchanges were steady, sterling cables holding around $4.85½, and the Canadian dollar mounting to 99 3-4 cents.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30. (AP)—Sharp gains, on limited sales volume, by Bank of California, which advanced 10 points to 370, and Crocker First National, which jumped 20 points to a new high at 450, featured an otherwise unsettled market on the San Francisco Stock Exchange today. After a weak opening, many of the issues strengthened and were found in higher territory at the close.

Caterpillar Tractor and Firemen's Fund led the industrial group, the former moving up 1½ to 82½, while the insurance issue added 1¾ at 110. Leslie Salt gained 1 at 31. Fractional improvement was recorded by Byron Jackson at 35½. California Packing at 79, Crown Zellerbach common at 19¼, Golden State Milk at 54, Illinois Pacific Glass at 41½, Langendorf "B" at 32½, Bond and Share at 18½ and Hawaiian Pineapple at 67½.

El Dorado Oil Works slumped 1 to 26½. Smaller declines were shown against Associated Insurance at 9¼, Clorox Chemical at 38¼, Atlas Diesel at 58½, Hunt Brothers at 22½.

Among the oils, Shell Union showed the only advance, with a ½ gain at 26½. Richfield dipped ½ to 39½, Honolulu ⅛ to 39⅝ and Tidewater preferred ½ to 86½. Standard at 71 and North American at 32¼ were unchanged.

Kolster Radio dropped ⅝ to 32½ and the rights sold at 14 cents. Magnavox was steady at 4.05. The American Company slumped 1½ to 137½ and Transamerica was down ⅛ at 136.

Sales: Bonds, $64,000; stocks, 26,348 shares of $1,811,713 market value.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Pacific Finance Soars on Brisk Demand to Reach New High Levels in Local Trading

Speculative interest was again directed toward the action of Pacific Finance shares yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange as the issue continued to outclass all others in strength and activity. The stock opened at 130, a new peak, and under a deluge of buying orders was swept up to a new record high at 134, up 5 points from Monday's close. Profit-taking near the latter part of the session brought the last sale down to 130⅝ for a net rise of 1⅝ points.

Pacific American Fire Insurance, another issue of the Pacific Mutual group, also featured the session with a jump of 3½ points to another new peak at 71. Other issues of the group, traded on the curb, were equally buoyant.

The balance of the market, continuing under the influence of a light turnover, developed no definite trend and price changes narrowed to small fractions. Republic Supply hit a new top at 35 1-4, up 1-4 and Emsco extended its rally with a gain of 3-4 to 33 1-4. Byron Jackson at 35½ was down ½ and Douglas Aircraft at 34 1-4, off 3-4. Utilities were less active than usual and held generally firm.

Security-First National Bank traded briskly and sold off 1-4 to 125 1-4. Pacific National Company struck another new low at 22 3-4, off 1 1-4. Oils were fairly steady with Rio Grande up 1-4 to 29, Signal off ½ to 36 and Union Associates down 1-4 to 46.

Sales totaled 22,935 shares valued at $1,400,254; previous day, 16,286 shares, valued at $663,146.

The S. Castorina Argol Corporation

2000 SHARES OF COMMON STOCK AT $100 A SHARE

THE MAIN OFFICE OF THE BANK OF ITALY, LOS ANGELES, IS ACTING AS DEPOSITARY AND REGISTRAR.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE

Proceeds from the sale of this stock will be used for the acquisition of land, buildings and equipment, some of which are now under option to purchase at a very satisfactory figure. The first unit of the factory will be located near Cucamonga, California.

The company will manufacture from the grapes, a great portion of which have been wasted in years past because of unsatisfactory market conditions, and convert a part of the huge wine stocks now lying idle in the bonded wineries, to industrial alcohol, and extract from the grape pulp the by-products known as argol, namely potassium bitartrates, cream of tartar, nitrogen fertilizers and tartaric acid. At present these necessary products are being imported from Europe at a very heavy cost conservatively estimated at $2,500,000 annually.

READY MARKET

Contracts have already been executed with Clarence E. Condon, Pacific Coast distributor of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, 57 Post Street, San Francisco, for the entire output of the California factories of the company for the next five years.

GOVERNMENT SUPERVISION

All of the work of the S. Castorina Argol Corporation will be under strict government supervision in accord with the National Prohibition Laws, Mr. S. Castorina, president of the company, holds a United States Government permit for the manufacture of these products.

EARLY START DESIRED

Owing to the possibility of saving hundreds of thousands of dollars to the California grape industry during the current season of 1929, it is the desire of the company's directors to start production within 45 days or sooner, on the first unit. By the reclamation of the present loss to the vineyards and commercial industries engaged in the manufacture of grape and wine products in the State, and because of the surplus of grapes and the lack of markets, the extraction of these many by-products by the S. Castorina Argol Corporation will prove an invaluable asset to them.

MANAGEMENT

The work will be under the direct supervision of S. Castorina, president of the company, who is nationally known and recognized for his knowledge and research work in the manufacture of grape argols. Officers and directors include S. Castorina, Warren H. Kerr, Oscar Krenz, Ella D. Lucero, Rex B. Goodcell, Mano Zan, Albert C. Martin, Lewis B. Randall and William B. Gilroy.

A PROVEN FACT

Mr. Castorina operated last season on a commercial scale from the crushing of the grapes to the extraction of the various by-products. Chemical analysis by Smith-Emery, chemical engineers of Los Angeles, show a much higher percentage than the imported products.

Under favorable circumstances, this capital stock of the company should show a quick and highly satisfactory appreciation.

Many industrial and business leaders of Southern California have already shown their approval of the project by subscribing to the stock issue.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 30. (AP)—Arrival of speculative activity and strength in the public utility and investment trust issues featured the irregularly higher price movement in today's curb market. Some heaviness was apparent at the opening but confidence was gradually restored and the rally gained considerable momentum in the afternoon with final quotations generally around the year's highs.

Trading failed to maintain the terrific pace set in the recent advance, but the day's volume was well above normal. Little attention was paid to the 10 per cent call money rate which was attributed to heavy month-end disbursements. Operators for the advance were encouraged by the fact that recent bear attacks apparently had dislodged little long stock.

Middle West Utilities which is to split up 10 for 1 after the issuance of valuable stock rights, soared 64¾ points to a new high at 464¾, and retained all of its gain. Electric Investors, National Investors, Stone & Webster, and Insull Utilities Investors ran up 8 to nearly 14 points in sympathy with the sharp advance in the stocks held by those companies. Directors for Electric Investors meet tomorrow and are expected to authorize a 5-for-1 split-up of the stock. Baldwin Locomotive (new,) again was active around 65.

New peak prices for the year were registered by Pilot Radio Tube, Portland Electric, Cities Service Bank, and a sprinkling of other specialties. Strength of American Cynamid B was based on the announcement the company had called for redemption of its remaining preferred stock at $120 a share on October 1.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

The Pennsylvania and Santa Fe

Railroads and the Wright and Curtiss Airplane Companies are said to be the principal stockholders. This stock is listed on the New York Curb Exchange.

CONSIDER GOOD OILS

We anticipate marked activity in the good oils in the near future. Now is the time to buy. We particularly suggest as offering promising profit possibilities. Net earnings for first quarter this year 900% greater than same period last year. Production for first quarter more than entire year 1928. Rio Grande now yielding very satisfactory earnings and a marked advance is frankly predicted.

We recommend the purchase of this stock at once, also a diversified investment of Rio Grande with other good oils. Richfield or Sinclair offer both security and opportunity for profit.

Bearish Tone Rules Trading in Grain Pits

CHICAGO, July 29. (AP)—Increasing suggestions that big shipments of domestic winter wheat may glut terminal markets during the next few weeks did much to overturn wheat values today. European buyers appeared to be systematically holding off and the world's available wheat supply showed 8,161,000 bushels' enlargement for the week, with crop damage reports seeming to have lost effect as an immediate price influence.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled at 2½@4¼c under yesterday's finish. Corn closed 2½@3⅜c down, oats ⅝@⅞c to 1c off and provisions unchanged to a setback of 25c.

Faced by announcement that the world stock of wheat is now 95,000,000 bushels greater than a year ago, and with Gulf of Mexico ports blocked with wheat awaiting outlet, wheat traders today showed decided uneasiness over expansion of wheat arrivals at Chicago, receipts here today totaling 958 cars, compared with 257 a week ago. Liverpool wheat quotations, lower than expected, did a good deal to emphasize sentiment here favorable to a lower range of values for at least the time being. Houses with eastern connections and of late prominent as buyers took the ground, too, that purchasing of wheat future deliveries had temporarily been overdone, and that realizing of profits was in order.

Downward slides in wheat prices began right at the outset of trading, and despite frequent rallies continued until, under pressure of profit-taking sales and because of dealings associated with the heavy movement of winter wheat, the market just before business ended was 7½c under yesterday's top figures. Meanwhile, new buying lacked the vigor which has been so plainly in evidence of late, although drought reports continued unabated both from North American regions affected, and from Argentina and Australia as well. A leading Chicago crop expert, who returned today from an eight weeks' tour of the Northwest, said Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta promise 225,000,000 bushels, compared with 510,000,000 bushels last year, and the Dakotas and Montana 135,000,000 bushels this season, against 241,000,000 bushels harvested a year ago.

Corn and oats prices dropped with wheat. Timely rains in Eastern Nebraska, helpful to corn growth, were an independent factor in easing the corn market, together with a forecast of showers in parts of Iowa, Illinois and Missouri.

Provisions were responsive to downturns in the values of hogs.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, July 30. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: No pessimism can be found in the iron and steel industry. For months a slackening of the breakneck pace has seemed unavoidable, and while the let-up has appeared this month, it is not as great as many observers had predicted.

The seasonal lull, therefore, is much less pronounced than usual. The strength of the iron and steel scrap market is an augury of continued high steel making activity months hence. Supplies of some grades of scrap appear to be continually becoming scarcer. Steel mill operations continue at an unusually high rate, although hot weather is beginning to cut into working schedules somewhat more sharply.

Copper is firm at 18c, Connecticut. Zinc is holding at 6.80c and lead 6.55c, East St. Louis. Tin is steady with spot straits quoted at 47.25@47.37½c.

A Consolidation of the Leading Manufacturers and Distributors of Motion Picture Equipment

MANUFACTURING in excess of 75% of all motion picture projectors used in theatres throughout the world—and is the largest manufacturer of professional cameras used either for sound or silent pictures.

Operating thirty stores and warehouses in the principal cities of the United States; and servicing booth equipment in three-fourths of all motion picture theatres throughout the country.

NET EARNINGS for the calendar years 1929 and 1930, based on estimates as to contracts or commitments now at hand or presently to be acquired, are estimated in excess of $4,000,000 and $10,000,000 respectively. This does not take into account any of the substantial economies which the General Theatres Equipment, Inc., should be able to effect due to its large purchasing power and the benefits of centralized operation and management.

A Dominant Factor in a Stable Field

The Manufacture and Distribution of Motion Picture Equipment for Theatrical, Industrial, Educational and Home Use

THE General Theatres Equipment, Inc., will constitute a complete unit for manufacture and distribution, installation, servicing, and financing of all types of equipment and supplies used in the operation of motion picture and legitimate theatres.

The companies being acquired are all outstanding factors in their respective fields. To insure a continuance of their present successful operation, management will remain in the hands of the men so largely responsible for their success in the past.

Of the companies acquired International Projector Corporation has been a leader in adapting projection apparatus to sound pictures and sells a large portion of its products to Western Electric Company, The Radio Corporation of America, Fox Film Corporation, Loew's, Inc., and Paramount-Famous-Lasky Corporation. The average number of projectors per theatre is 2.9; and some of the larger theatres use as many as five or six machines.

Also in the consolidation is National Theatre Supply Company, which maintains a nation-wide distributing organization, with stores and warehouses in the principal cities, retailing all types of theatre equipment, projector parts, supplies, and making available service for booth equipment for 75% of all motion picture theatres.

Other companies include Grandeur, Inc., which will distribute and service the new projectors developed by International Projector Corporation; Mitchell Camera Company, which manufactures professional cameras for both sound and silent pictures; J. E. McAuley Manufacturing Company, Hall & Connolly, Inc., The Strong Electric Corporation and Ashcraft Automatic Arc Company, which together manufacture substantially all projecting lamps used in theatres; and Theatre Equipment Acceptance Corporation, which finances commercial paper taken for theatre equipment.

In short, General Theatres Equipment, Inc., will occupy a predominant position in the most stable field in the motion picture industry—the manufacture and distribution of equipment for theatrical, industrial, educational and home use.

A New Day Dawns in the Motion Picture Industry

The present world-wide success of the motion picture industry is in reality but a forecast of what the future holds for those with the technical and financial resources necessary to take full advantage of every opportunity.

Already General Theatres Equipment, Inc., has completed plans for marketing several new motion picture devices—outstanding among them a new type of camera with a revolving lens and a new type of projector so designed that when the pictures are thrown on the screen they give the illusion of a third dimension, life-like and convincing. This will make possible the showing of pictures at least two or three times as large as those now generally shown.

This new device has been hailed by men in authority in the industry as the greatest forward step since the introduction of sound.

A CLOSE-UP of the Motion Picture Industry

THE FIFTH LARGEST industry in the United States, with a capital investment of approximately $1,750,000,000.

20,000 MOTION PICTURE theatres in the United States alone, with a seating capacity of 16,500,000 and an average weekly attendance of 100,000,000, and annual gross receipts conservatively estimated to be over $800,000,000.

WHAT THE FUTURE promises may be gauged from the fact that less than 15% of the motion picture theatres in the United States have as yet installed sound devices; and that although many producers believe that the largest installations in the future will be in the industrial and educational fields, and in the home, the home and industrial markets have not as yet been touched.

MILL STRIKE PACT LOOMS IN ENGLAND

Owners Willing to Meet Workers in New Parley on Wage Reductions

MANCHESTER (Eng.) July 30. (AP) The great halt in the Lancashire cotton industry, which has tied up 1500 mills and thrown 500,000 operatives out of work, loosened somewhat tonight despite failure of three meetings of different organizations today to bring resumption of negotiations between employers and workers.

Although a committee of the Master Cotton Spinners' Federation confirmed the action of the employers' wages committee in reducing wages 12½ per cent, the employers generally tonight expressed themselves as ready to meet the workers in new negotiations.

This attitude on the part of the employers, however, presupposed the workers will be ready to discuss some reduction in wages, though not necessarily to the full 12½ per cent demanded by the Master Cotton Spinners.

A new branch of the industry was brought into the dispute today by announcement of the Cotton Waste Spinners' and Manufacturers' Association that it will seek similar reduction of wages for its employees. Representatives of employers and workers in this branch will meet tomorrow.

BRITAIN TO FREE EGYPT, SHAW SAYS

War Minister Explains Treaty Will be Such as to Make Alliance Happy

PRESTON (Eng.) July 30. (AP)—Tom Shaw, British Minister of War, in a speech here last night said his government intends to give Egypt independence on terms which will establish happy relations between Britain and Egypt, but insure the safety of British communications with her eastern empire for all times.

CAIRO (Egypt) July 30. (AP)—The newspaper Al Ahram said today it has learned from officials in contact with Premier Mohammed Pasha Mahmoud that events in London are "progressing satisfactorily and that preparatory negotiations are proceeding very successfully."

The newspaper added that a delegation of prominent people representative of Egyptian opinion probably soon will be summoned to London to examine the draft of the Anglo-Egyptian treaty which will be submitted to the British government.

ALLEGHANY SHUTTLE AIR LINE TESTED

Pittsburgh-to-Washington Service Declared to Be Proved Feasible

PITTSBURGH, July 30. (AP)—Feasibility of a shuttle air service between Pittsburgh and Washington has been demonstrated by test flights conducted from Bettis Field here for a week. The flights are sponsored by Col. Harry Fry, Pittsburgh aviation enthusiast. A Stinson-Detroiter monoplane with a 300-horsepower Whirlwind motor is used.

The flights are not in the nature of an attempt to set any sort of a record, Col. Fry said, but to demonstrate the practicability of flying between here and the capital, traversing the Allegheny Mountains, which are known as "the graveyard of the air."

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

The Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination is reported to be planning to make its Doty No. 5 well at Elwood a deep test of that district. It is drilling ahead below 4100 feet at the western end of the field.

This project has picked up about 350 feet of oil sand in the Vaqueros formation, it is asserted. This same sand has been a good producer in eleven other wells.

The Doty No. 5 also has already picked up the Sespe sand, it is said, and reports are that it will be drilled considerably deeper before a production test is made. The Luton-Bell No. 8, near by, is drilling ahead below 3053 feet.

Swabbing to Test

The Lincoln Drilling Company yesterday was swabbing for a production test in its Williams No. 1 well, at the extreme western end of the old Summerland field, and reports were that it once started to flow at the rate of about 600 barrels of oil per day.

This project originally came in from a depth of 1250 feet, but due to insufficient gas pressure it sanded up and later was cleaned out for deepening. It proceeded to about 1350 feet and cored approximately 300 feet of saturated oil sand. Company officials think that it is capable of putting out at least 1000 barrels of oil per day.

Williams About Ready

Derrick for the Williams No. 2 at Summerland has been constructed, and it will rig up soon to spud in within two weeks. Work on Williams No. 3, No. 4 and No. 5, depends upon the outcome of the first tests, it is asserted.

On the bluff about 400 feet from the edge of the surf the Twitchell No. 1 of the Southern Exploration Company is preparing to set casing at 275 feet. Field reports stated that a cave-in at about 150 feet somewhat delayed operations. To date, about 150 feet of saturated oil sand has been cored, with bottom of the hole at 1150 feet.

George F. Getty, Inc., has completed derrick for Becker Fee No. 1 at a point 130 feet due east of the Williams No. 1, and yesterday was rigging up. B. C. Morrison is reported to be drilling ahead below 500 feet in his project about 800 feet northeast of Getty's test.

Resumes Drilling

The Western Gulf Oil Company has resumed drilling in its Hollister No. 1 wildcat at the foot of Gaviota Pass, in Santa Barbara county, and reports are that it is preparing to land eight and five-eighths-inch casing at 3152 feet, with bottom of the hole at 3172 feet.

This project blew out some time ago while testing for a water shutoff, put out approximately 25,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day for a time and was killed to deepen. A fishing job tied it up for a week, and water troubles caused additional delays.

MOTORISTS LICENSED BY THOUSANDS

Cards Issued at Rate of 30,000 a Day, Says Snook; Address Changes Noted

SACRAMENTO, July 30. (Exclusive)—More than 400,000 California motorists have been examined for new drivers' licenses in the past two weeks, Frank G. Snook, chief of the State Division of Motor Vehicles, announced today. Under a law that becomes effective August 14, all operators' cards issued prior to 1927 will be canceled.

Snook said new licenses are being issued at the rate of 30,000 a day. In addition, he says, within two weeks 40,000 motorists have written to the department to give new addresses. The 1929 act makes it a misdemeanor to fail to notify the department of a change of address within ten days.

B. B. Meek, director of the Department of Public Works, with which the motor vehicle division will be joined on August 14, announced today that Snook will remain as motor vehicle chief under the reorganization. He said that reports have gained circulation that the appointment of Eugene Biscailuz of Los Angeles as superintendent of traffic patrol meant the retirement of Snook.

PORTER ELECTS TO BACK DRAKE

Mayor Finally Declines to Withdraw Name

Didn't Know of Old Union Record, He States

Fight on Confirmation Now Turns to Council

The nomination to the Police Commission of Francis Drake, the man who threw the city government into a turmoil in 1919 with his efforts to unionize the police and fire departments, will not be withdrawn from Council consideration, Mayor Porter stated definitely last night.

The Mayor said he had received a report from one of his numerous "investigators" to the effect that Drake was not responsible for the attempted unionizing of the departments, and that his hurried resignation from the Fire Commission ten years ago was because he was "out of sympathy" with the rest of the commission. Mayor Porter added that Drake had said that he was not in favor of unionizing city employees.

VIEWS IN COUNCIL

The whole Drake affair is thus placed up to the City Council, with the strong probability that the nomination will be rejected. Only two of the fifteen Councilmen admitted yesterday that they will vote for Drake's confirmation, while the remainder declared they will oppose it or were noncommittal.

Mayor Porter said yesterday that publication of Drake's record by The Times came as a complete surprise to him. He said that his "investigators" had "investigated" Drake and "O. K.'d him."

"But I guess they didn't go back to 1919," he added.

He said that W. J. Mosher, his $250-a-month "investigating secretary," had aided in the investigation of Drake, but did not report on the man's previous municipal experience. Others "investigated" the nominee, he added.

FIRST REACTION

His first reaction upon learning of Drake's record, he said, was to withdraw the nomination. Then he decided, on additional investigation, that he would withdraw the nomination. Finally he announced that it will stand.

"The city is protected, however," he said yesterday, "because when I sent in his nomination I took his resignation. If he leans too far toward unionizing activities I'll just accept his resignation and he'll be out."

In reply to questions, Mayor Porter said that he had not asked for a legal opinion as to the effectiveness of an appointment under such conditions.

The nomination comes up before the Council for confirmation tomorrow morning, and a lively battle is expected. At present the nomination is in the files of the Police and Fire Committee, Councilman Martin, chairman; Ingram and Williams. Councilman Martin denied that he is pledged to vote for the confirmation, but said he will do so.

Councilman Randall said he will vote for confirmation unless "a showing is made that Drake will try his tactics again."

WEBSTER AGAINST

"In the light of Drake's activities in the past," said Councilman Webster, "I strongly doubt the advisability of placing him on the Police Commission, where he can resume his efforts to form a police force union. I intend to vote against his confirmation."

"Boston had an experience with a police union," said Councilman Davis, "and we don't want a repetition of the 1919 affair. The police department has been too much of a plaything in the past. There seems to be considerable danger in the Drake nomination."

"Drake has been in trouble before," said President Sanborn. "The Council must be sure of its ground in this thing. His confirmation should be carefully investigated."

"If reports of Drake's previous activities are borne out," said Councilman Burns, "I shall vote against his confirmation."

Councilman Williams said he wished to be quoted as being "noncommittal" on the Drake affair, but added he has very definite opinions on the subject of unionizing the police force.

"I want to hear Drake's side before I vote," said Councilman Cooke.

"This thing needs a careful personal investigation," said Councilman McAllister.

WE WANT NO FRANCIS DRAKES

No man should sit upon any city commission, or hold any other public office, who seeks to serve class interest at the expense of the public as a whole.

Much less should any man be given a public trust of great responsibility whose record shows that in the past he has assumed such responsibilities merely in order to get an opportunity so to serve class interest at actual peril to the public and who abandoned his trust as soon as he found he could not gain his end.

Mayor Porter should withdraw his appointment of Francis Drake as a member of the Police Commission, an appointment into which the Mayor was evidently misled by lack of information as to Drake's record. His investigators, the Mayor says, told him nothing of the prominent part played by Drake as a Fire Commissioner in the notorious campaign to unionize the Los Angeles police and fire departments in 1919, notwithstanding that the facts are still vivid in the memory of indignant citizens who participated in or witnessed that bitter, city-wide battle less than ten years ago.

If the appointment is not withdrawn, the Council should emphatically reject it when Drake's name comes before that body for confirmation tomorrow.

Not because Drake is a representative of organized labor. No reasonable person questions the right of organized labor to a voice in the city government proportionate to its strength and share in the whole of the city's economic life. Drake should be rejected as a Police Commissioner because in the past he has demonstrated his willingness and intent as a public official in a similar capacity to serve organized labor not only at the expense but at extreme jeopardy to the lives and property of all the citizens of Los Angeles whom, as an officer of the city government, it was his duty to serve and protect. It would be the same should he have sought similarly to favor any other class or group at the cost or peril of the whole.

The circumstances under which Drake's previous association with the city government were terminated were not known to Mayor Porter, according both to the Mayor and to Drake. They may be recited briefly. Drake was appointed Fire Commissioner by Mayor Snyder in July, 1919, for a term of four years. In October, 1919, a short time after the Boston police strike had called public attention to the danger of permitting any outside organization to control either a fire or a police department, it was discovered that most of the members of the Los Angele Fire Department had been organized into a union with a charter from the American Federation of Labor and subject to that body's orders.

This charter provided that the firemen might be called on strike, either to redress grievances of their own or in sympathy with some other striking labor organization, thus leaving life and property in the city unprotected. There was at once a storm of public protest, in which Fire Commissioner Drake appeared as the sole supporter, in official life, of the unionization movement.

When Mayor Snyder and Fire Commissioner Denman, the other members of the commission, joined with Chief Scott in a demand that the firemen surrender this union charter, and when it became apparent that the firemen were willing to comply with the demand, Commissioner Drake denounced the firemen and the Mayor whose appointment he had accepted.

Within a few days thereafter the City Council had voted unanimously a resolution declaring it contrary to public policy for any city employees to affiliate with "any organization which requires an obligation of fealty to the organization which would be greater than the duty they owe the city," the firemen had, by a three-to-one majority, decided to send the union charter back where it came from and Fire Commissioner Drake and two other unionist members of the administration had resigned.

At the same time strong efforts were being made to form a similar union in the police department, which were similarly overwhelmed by a wave of public sentiment.

It is plain from these circumstances that if Fire Commissioner Drake did not originate the idea of unionizing the fire and police departments, thus permitting the possibility of such anarchy and riot as had occurred in Boston in September of the same year to be repeated in Los Angeles, the movement had his cordial approval. From all appearances, he took office for no other purpose than to further this unionization scheme. The chronology alone is enough to indicate this: Drake appointed July 11, 1919; organization of firemen discovered October 9; firemen vote to surrender charter October 22; Drake resigns, October 29, coincident with the adoption of a resolution by labor-union bodies condemning the administration of Mayor Snyder.

At the time of his appointment and ever since, Drake has been connected actively with the labor-union movement. He was then editor of the Citizen, the local union-labor paper, and later became editor of the Southern California Labor Press, a similar organ. In other words, his interests and sympathies have not changed.

A man's, or a city official's, membership or lack of membership in any organization is his private affair so long, and only so long, as that membership and his attitude toward it does not injuriously affect the public interest. But a man so obtuse as not to be able to see or refusing to see, with the example of the Boston police strike brought so startlingly to his attention, why policemen and firemen must not be allowed to hold allegiance to a labor union which may call upon them to strike, is unquestionably disqualified.

That Drake is such a man no one can doubt. The Boston strike, only suppressed when Gov. Coolidge declared martial law, was less than a month old when Drake fought to create a situation making possible a similar occurrence here, in the face of virtually unanimous opposition on the part of the public and private citizenship of Los Angeles.

There is no objection and will be none to the naming by Mayor Porter of an equitable representation of union men or union sympathizers to office, provided such men will serve the whole public without bias or prejudice. But the City of Los Angeles wants no Francis Drakes in any public post.

MOFFETT DISCLOSES NAVY DIRIGIBLE PLANS

The navy's plans for construction of its two 785-foot dirigibles also will be used in building the two commercial dirigibles for Los Angeles-Hawaii service. Rear-Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, announced last night that the Navy Department has authorized the Goodyear-Zeppelin Company to use all plans and specifications of the giant lighter-than-air craft now building at Akron.

The two Goodyear craft, said Admiral Moffett, will thereby be identical with the aerial men-of-war, except that the central space designed for hangars for the six fighting and scouting planes carried by the navy dirigibles will be utilized as passengers' sleeping quarters in the commercial ships. They therefore will be available almost immediately as fighting craft in the event of war.

The announcement was made following the return of the navy dirigible base board, of which Admiral Moffett is the head, from San Diego last night after inspection of the last of the many sites on the

MEXICAN QUOTA OPPOSED

National Chamber of Commerce Official Tells Objections to Immigration Limit

Whether Congress shall be urged to put a quota on Mexican immigration is one of the four nationally important questions that will be debated before 1500 business men, merchants and industrialists at the seventh annual meeting of the western division of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to be held at Ogden, Utah, September 30 and October 1, it was revealed yesterday by Paul Clagstone, manager of the western division. He is in Los Angeles on his annual conference with associate chamber members in Southern California.

The national body itself is committed against the quota as advocated from time to time by both organizations and individuals in various sections of the country, Mr. Clagstone declared, but being a fact-finding institution, it aims to determine the attitude of a majority of its members. And to this end the problem will be placed for discussion before the delegates representing eleven western States, Alaska and Hawaii, who will attend the forthcoming conclave.

TRADE IMPORTANT

"Before the war," said Mr. Clagstone, "the United States enjoyed only 10 per cent of Mexico's trade annually. But since the war this has increased steadily until today we sell Mexico $150,000,000 in goods yearly, which amounts to 70 per cent. That in itself is sufficient to make highly undesirable any restriction against Mexican immigration, apart from the all-important fact that we want Mexican labor, particularly in the West."

Nevertheless, he pointed out, the issue will have to be determined by a majority vote at the annual meeting before the chamber will adopt a resolution one way or another, and by a two-thirds vote before it will take a referendum. And in order that no phase of the problem may be neglected in the discussion, Mr. Clagstone said, high officials of the Mexican republic, from President Portes Gil down, will be invited to attend and address the delegates. William Butterworth, president of the chamber, will preside at the sessions. The Los Angeles chamber, it is expected, will be represented by 100 members.

UNION ORCHESTRA STRIKE HALTS CONCERT AT BOWL

Musicians Walk Out as 10,000 Wait; Stage Employee Without Card Cause of Radical Move

For the first time in the history of the Hollywood Bowl, music lovers of Los Angeles last night were turned away without the scheduled concert, when the 100 musicians of the orchestra walked out in a sympathetic strike controversy over the employment of one man. An estimated audience of 10,000 persons joined in resounding applause when a statement was read from the stage by Raymond Brite, general manager of the Bowl, stating the directors of the Hollywood Bowl Association had refused to give way to the demands of the theater employees' union and hire a union electrician whose sole duties were to move two switches during the evening performance.

The announcement that the union demand was for the employment of this extra man, who would replace Frank Cooper, a gardener employed at the Bowl, who also switched the lights when night performances were given, was greeted with cries of "Throw him out!" Brite was repeatedly interrupted with cheers for the attitude of the directors of the association.

CONFERENCE FAILS

After a two-hour conference between the directors of the Bowl association and William Scott, walking delegate of the theater employees' union, Mrs. Leiland Atherton Irish, general chairman of the board of directors, declared that concerts had been given in the Bowl for seven years without interference from stage hands or any active demand for the employment of union laborers.

"I feel in a way," Mrs. Irish said, "that this trouble has come directly from the efforts of the Actors' Equity Association to unionize the motion-picture industry here."

The trouble between the theater union and the directors has been brewing for three weeks, according to C. E. Toberman, real-estate broker and vice-president of the association, but it was only yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock that an ultimatum was delivered that the union electrician be hired or the concerts would end.

Toberman could give no definite time when the strike will be over "I am sure I don't know what the outcome will be," he said, "we have contracts calling for the appearance of artists from Europe, many of whom are already on their way here."

PLACE TIME LIMIT

The directors of the Bowl association first were given until 3 p.m. yesterday to meet the demands of the union, and the time later was extended until 7 p.m. At that time the directors of the association met in the offices in the rear of the Bowl stage and for two hours attempted to reach a settlement with the union delegate.

Two hours of argument led only to mutual recriminations, however, and at 9 p.m., Raymond Brite, general manager of the Bowl, walked to the stage and announced to 10,000 waiting people there would be no performance. The statement follows:

"In view of the fact that the Theatrical Stage Employees' Union is insisting that the Hollywood Bowl Association employ a member of their organization to operate the switchboard in the Bowl, and have threatened to cause the musicians' union to call a sympathetic walkout by the Bowl orchestra in the event that their demands are not met, the board of directors of the Hollywood Bowl Association wish to make the following public statement:

DIRECTORS' VIEWS

"For the past seven years the board of directors of the Hollywood Bowl Association has regarded its office as a trust, feeling that the great music-loving public of Southern California has relied upon it to make it possible to hear the world's greatest music at the lowest possible price. During the past seven years, by dint of strictest economy and careful planning, the board has made it possible to maintain the price at the very low level of but 25 cents per concert upon a subscription basis—this in spite of the fact that every year the costs of operation have mounted, the salaries of the orchestra alone having increased approximately 33 1-3 per cent.

"The Bowl switchboard has always been manned by a thoroughly competent operator who has received a salary of $3.50 a night for three hours' and a half of work. The operator is a man who is in the employ of the association during the day at a regular monthly salary. He is delighted to get the additional $3.50 for overtime work four evenings a week. This man is not permitted to join the Stage Employees' Union so that he might receive the benefit of the increase in pay, and the union is demanding that one of their number be given the job at a salary of $12.50 per day. While the board as a group, and as individuals, has no quarrel with the union as such, they feel that it would be a breach of their trust in administering Bowl funds

R. H. WRIGHT TO SUCCEED BISCAILUZ

Temporary Choice for Undersheriff Announced by Sheriff Traeger

Accepting the resignation of Eugene W. Biscailuz, undersheriff, who is leaving the Sheriff's office to become chief of the California State Highway Motor Patrol, Sheriff William I. Traeger yesterday announced that he has chosen R. H. (Harry) Wright, former chief of the criminal department, to fill the vacancy temporarily.

R. H. WRIGHT

Although the appointment is announced as temporary, Wright's appointment is certain to be made permanent at an early date, according to those in close touch with the situation.

Mr. Biscailuz's resignation is to take effect on August 22, next, according to his letter to the Sheriff. Meanwhile he will leave the city for a short vacation before taking over his new position.

"It is with mingled feelings that I am taking this step," Mr. Biscailuz wrote in his letter of resignation, "regretful at severing a happy association with you and the office of over twenty-two years and happiness in feeling that I will have an opportunity of greater service to the people of California in this new line of endeavor.

"I have taken pride in co-operating with you for the progress and upbuilding of this office, known as it is far and wide as the largest and one of the most efficient Sheriff's offices in the United States."

Sheriff Traeger expressed keen regret at Mr. Biscailuz's departure from his office.

"I am deeply appreciative of all that you have done to make my administration whatever success it may have attained," he said. "I repeat to you what I have said many, many times to others—that you are the best right hand an executive ever had. I congratulate Gov. Young upon his choice of you to fill the highly important position to which he called you. From our intimate relationship for a great many years, and from my knowledge of you as a second in command of this office, I can assure the people of California that Gov. Young could have made no wiser choice."

Firearms in Hills Banned

At the request of Spence D. Turner, County Forester, the County Board of Supervisors yesterday passed the annual summer ordinance prohibiting the discharge of firearms in the foothill districts of the county, including the Santa Monica Mountain district, Topango Canyon, Newhall district and Verdugo Hills.

The ordinance will be repealed as soon as the autumn rains begin.

Today's flight will institute tri-weekly passenger, express and prospective mail service between the Pacific Coast in the United States, the Pacific Coast of Mexico, its capital and its neighboring country to the south, Guatemala.

No mail will be carried from points in the United States, however, until the company obtains necessary contracts from the Federal government, it was pointed out by Thomas E. Morgan, vice-president and general manager of the Pickwick organization. Until mail contracts from here are obtained

IT LOOKS to me as though the next time a St. Louis flyer starts to make an endurance record they might as well build a bungalow up there for him.

This amazing feat makes it plain that space and time are no longer to be taken into consideration in flying. The engines can keep going as long as the man. Having progressed so far with the development of the internal-combustion engine, flying resolves itself, in the last analysis, to a question of man endurance.

FIND THE BLOND

The police of Hollywood have a most discouraging task. Two young men were buncoed out of $21 (for a booze party that never came off,) and all they know is that the offending vamps were beautiful blonds. Hollywood is full of nothing else but.

THE HOT SPELL

There is nothing for us to cheer about in the fact that the Middle West is burning up with the heat.

The failure of the wheat crop is not a local misfortune; it is a national calamity for which every part of the country will suffer—including us.

For ten years the United States has enjoyed almost unexampled prosperity. It is not at all improbable that we are approaching a period of readjustment when it will behoove us all to steer for the safe harbors.

It is great good luck that President Hoover is, above all else, a business man.

BILL'S AN AUTHOR

Bill Hart has turned author with flattering success.

A "hold-out" from the screen as a result of a business disagreement with the producers, Bill recently wrote an autobiography. It is one of the few books that I have read from cover to cover at one sitting.

It is a fascinating narrative—especially of his boyhood among the Sioux Indians. He is one of the few living white men who speak that melodious and poetic language. Some Indian languages are harsh and slithery; but the Sioux is very beautiful.

THE ART OF LIVING

Writers always speak of our plains Indians as "uncivilized" in comparison with peoples like the Mayas and Incas. But what is civilization?

I think that no people ever existed who lived a more perfectly balanced life. The only people I ever heard of who recognized that war has a distinct function in life and arranged for an outlet. They didn't know how to count, and they never progressed to the point of permanent buildings; but they knew how to live.

Lone eyewitness to the slaying by bandits of Frank A. Foster, 34 years of age, local soap manufacturer and former promoter of the Hollywood Polo Club, Miss Beth Taylor, 26-year-old secretary, spent several hours yesterday in the police record bureau endeavoring to identify, from a mass of morgue pictures, the assailants of her escort.

The effort was unavailing. Miss Taylor described the bandits as follows: No. 1, American, 22 years of age, five feet five inches in height, about 135 pounds in weight, with reddish-brown hair parted in the middle. No. 2, American, 22 years of age, five feet seven inches in height, about 140 pounds in weight, with black hair, slicked straight back. Both had sheikish appearances, she said.

DESCRIPTION BROADCAST

These descriptions were broadcast yesterday by Captain of Detectives Cato, who declared that his investigation of the murder shows it to be the work of a nervous bandit and not the result of any other cause.

An inquest will be conducted at the County Morgue tomorrow at 1:30 p.m.

Foster met instant death when a bullet ripped through his heart. He and Miss Taylor had just left his apartment at 2700 San Marino avenue and were preparing to leave in his automobile when two youthful bandits stepped up and commanded them to hold up their hands.

"What is this," Foster asked, "a joke?"

"No, we mean business," one of the bandits replied.

FIRED POINT-BLANK

And then, without any apparent reason, according to Miss Taylor, the partner of the bandit who had spoken fired point-blank at Foster.

Foster slumped against his car. Miss Taylor screamed. The bandits, apparently terror-stricken at their act, ran from the scene, abandoning the automobile they had driven up in. This car was reported stolen from Edward T. Lacey of 727 West Seventh street.

Shortly after police were called detectives found a .32-caliber revolver in a clump of shrubbery about two blocks from where the shooting took place. Capt. Cato says he does not know whether this had anything to do with the case as it was fully loaded, and had not been discharged. The bullet which brought death to Foster was fired from a .38-caliber revolver, Cato said.

PRINTS OBTAINED

The gun and the abandoned stolen automobile were examined for fingerprints. Several were obtained and experts in the police research bureau were checking these yesterday with prints of known bandits on file there.

Foster was the owner of the Desert Saponan Company, 1318 South Grand avenue, which manufactures a soap for the cleaning of rugs. He and Mrs. Dorothy Foster, had been separated for a year and a year, police say. Mrs. Foster with a daughter, Gay, 2½ years of age, has been age, have been in Toronto for some in Toronto for some time.

Jack Roberts, brother-in-law of the slain man, was to have left his home at 6626 Whitley Terrace yesterday to visit his sister in an effort to effect a reconciliation, according to Cato. This report was substantiated by Foster's attorney, Judge David Rose, who is said to have been aiding in the family reconciliation.

Foster leaves a father, W. J. Foster, lumberman and automobile dealer in North Bay, Ont. A brother also lives there. The mother of Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Lora Roberts, lives at 6660 Whitley Terrace.

DOPE SUSPECT UP TODAY

"Hymie" Cohen Faces Charges of Violating Narcotic, Gun and Liquor Laws

Charged with two counts of violation of the State Narcotic Act, with violating the gun law and liquor possession, "Hymie" F. Cohen, asserted by Dist.-Atty. Fitts to be the head of a Los Angeles dope ring, is slated to appear before Municipal Judge Stafford this morning for preliminary hearing. With him will appear Matilda Smith, an asserted assistant, who was arraigned before Municipal Judge Ballard yesterday on the narcotic charges.

Cohen, according to Captain of Detectives Seager, who made the arrest, is known in the underworld as "The Louse Kid," and has a record of seventeen arrests in as many large cities with no conviction on a more serious offense than petty theft.

He was arrested at Fifth street and Western avenue, where he owns a service station. The evidence against him, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Bialock declares, was found at his residence at 109 South Hobart Boulevard. It consists, Bialock states, of a small trunk full of morphine valued at thousands of dollars, two revolvers with the numbers filed off and 200 gallons of liquor.

Cohen recently was arraigned before Municipal Judge Ambrose on the charge of possession of liquor and was granted a delay until tomorrow to enter his plea to the charge. He is under bail of $40,000 on the narcotic charge, $10,000 on the gun law charge and $500 on the liquor charge. Mrs. Smith is under $25,000 bail.

TROPICS PLANE TO FLY TODAY

Mexico-bound mail will be picked up at Tia Juana.

The first north-bound plane of the new airways, which took off from Mexico City by way of Mazatlan and Nogales, Ariz., will arrive here today.

Eight large cabin monoplanes will wing their way along the west coast route mapped by the company and will make their local terminal at the Glendale airdrome.

Besides Gov. Young's message today's plane will carry word from Mayor Porter, Mayor Rolph of San Francisco, Mayor Baker of Portland, Mayor Edwards of Seattle, William M. Garland, Harry Chandler and Shannon Crandall.

MEXICAN QUOTA TO BE DEBATED

three major subjects that will be reviewed.

In the matter of forestry control, Mr. Claystone explained, the chamber will seek to determine what its western division members wish Congress to do further toward combating the destructive pine beetle.

"The timber market of the Northwest," he said, "is unfortunately not at present in such a lusty state, due to overproduction resulting principally from extensive improvements in machinery and yet it faces the possibility, on account of the pine beetle, of being still further weakened. The pine beetle, once it attacks the tree, renders the cutting down of that tree imperative. Therefore, unless the pest is controlled, vast government tracts of timber are likely to be dumped on the market, with a consequent further increase of overproduction. Last year Congress appropriated $50,000 to fight the pine beetle. The chamber believes this is totally inadequate for the work. Its western division therefore will be asked to determine if the amount should be increased to $500,000, as we believe it should."

The subject of reclamation will be concerned with an outline of present and future projects and with a discussion of how the various chambers may best co-operate toward finding markets for the products that will accrue through increased reclamation. The current Columbia River basin project will receive marked attention, Mr. Clagstone declared. Reports of the findings on this subject will be referred to the chamber's agricultural committee.

Industrial development will be threshed out, especially with reference to the increase of trade with the Orient and with relation to the changes that are taking place as the result of a mounting oriental buying power. There was a big increase during 1928, Mr. Clagstone stated, and the prospects are that it will continue. In this connection, the executive said, all the associate chambers west of Denver will be urged to adopt some efficient means of working in future as a united force instead of as individual bodies.

come actively connected with the legal department of the Sunset-Pacific Oil Company, which took over the old Julian Petroleum Corporation.

In his letter of resignation to Fitts Simpson said:

"I am grateful to you for the privilege of having served as one of your deputies. Not only because of the opportunity thus presented to have had a small part in the work you have done, but as well because of the most pleasant personal relationships thus made possible."

In accepting the resignation Fitts said: "The loss of Simpson is one of the greatest ever to face this office. His leaving the staff creates a vacancy that will be difficult to fill."

Simpson came to Los Angeles after serving two terms as City Attorney of Fresno, a term as a member of the Legislature from Kern county, a term as United States Commissioner of that county as well as deputy District Attorney. He will be associated with his brother, J. E. Simpson, former Assistant United States Attorney, in the law practice.

preferred to be quoted as "noncommittal." They explained that they had not had time to study the files in the case and reach a decision.

PAST RECALLED

Something about Los Angeles' union-ridden fire department of ten years ago and Drake, unionist member of the Fire Commission, was recalled yesterday by A. C. Denman, chairman of the 1919 commission, when he learned that tomorrow the City Council is to consider Mayor Porter's proposal that Drake now become a member of the Police Commission.

"When Mayor Snyder appointed me to the Fire Commission," Denman said, "I told him I couldn't serve, but when he insisted I said I would if he'd back the commission in cleaning up the department. He said to go ahead and I did.

"The fire department was in bad shape. About 80 per cent were members of a union and there were cliques and friction among them and the situation was certainly bad. I went to the boys and asked them what they expected to get from the union and they told me it was promising them this and that.

"I told them that they were citizens as much as anybody else and that the fire department was for the protection and service of citizens and that they could not serve two masters, that their allegiance was to the city.

"I said to them that it was right that they should be well treated and that I was sure the citizens wished them to be and I asked them if the commission got them what they wished whether they would abandon their union and they promised they would.

"It was a struggle and in all that time Drake, who also had been made a member of the commission, was a union man. Unionism was his creed and his work. I don't wish to say anything against him personally but in cleaning up this very bad situation, we got no help from him. He told us that if the union was broken up he would quit. When the boys surrendered their union charter, he did. He got his hat and said he was through and walked out.

"Fire Chief Scott was put in by our commission and the situation was cleaned up of unionism and with it went the bad situation there and now Chief Scott and his boys operate a thoroughly clean department of our city and one that is known as such all over the country."

Drake has been a member of the printers' union for forty years and now is its representative on the Central Labor Council. He was a unionist in San Francisco before he came to Los Angeles and at the time he was appointed to the Fire Commission he was editor of the Citizen, a local union paper.

STARTS NEW PAPER

When the carpenters' union had difficulty with other unions in their building trades council and withdrew, Drake left the Citizen and the Labor Press was started, in 1924, as the organ principally of the carpenters. It continued until the American Federation of Labor convention here, late in 1927 the carpenters' difficulty was ironed out and after some smoothing the Labor Press passed out of existence in January, 1928. Drake did not go back to the Citizen.

Drake, on announcement that he had been proposed by Mayor Porter for the Police Commission, was described by the Citizen as "one of the best known members of organized labor in Los Angeles and in fact in the whole State . . . During the last mayoralty campaign he supported the candidacy of Mr. Porter . . . Some of his friends expected that he would be recognized in a fitting manner."

Pacific Coast offered for establishment of the navy's $5,000,000 base for the two new dirigibles, ZRS-4 and ZRS-5. These twin flyers, of which the first, the ZRS-4, will be completed by July 1, 1931, are the largest lighter-than-air craft yet contracted for and, together, will cost $8,500,000. They have an overall length of 785 feet, a beam of 132 feet, a height of 146.5 feet, and a gross lifting capacity of 403,000 pounds. They are two and a half times the size of the U.S.S. Los Angeles and will have a speed of 72.8 knots, as against 63.5 knots for the Los Angeles.

HONOR FOR ROSENDAHL

Of equal interest was the Navy Department's announcement last night of the appointment of Lieutenant Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, also here as a member of the dirigible base selection board, as navigator of the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin on her trip around the world. Rosendahl left here by train last night for Lakehurst, N. J., to supervise landing of the Graf Zeppelin at that base on August 5, next. The Graf Zeppelin, leaving Lakehurst August 7 on her 18,000-mile globe flight, will arrive at Los Angeles on her eastward swing August 29, following stops at Friedrichshafen and Tokio.

Mr. Rosendahl announced that following completion of the Graf Zeppelin's flight at Lakehurst on August 29 he immediately will begin training an already-selected force of 165 officers and men to be the crew of the ZRS-4.

ON FATAL TRIP

The Graf Zeppelin's new navigator until recently was commander of the U.S.S. Los Angeles and was navigator of the ill-fated U.S.S. Shenandoah when she was destroyed by a line-storm while flying over Ava, O., September 2, 1925.

Of the other members of the Moffett Board, Rear-Admiral Joseph M. Reeves, member of the Navy General Board, will leave for Washington today; Commander Garland Fulton and Lieutenant-Commander E. L. Marshall, aircraft construction experts, will depart Friday, while Admiral Moffett will remain here until August 5.

MAP SUBMITTED

The modified assessment district map for the improvement of the Dickens street and Kester avenue district was submitted to the Council yesterday by the City Engineer and referred to the Public Works Committee.

STORK'S PRISON CALL THWARTED

Mrs. Holland Granted Stay in Still Case

Sentence to be Carried Out After Baby's Birth

Prospective Mother in Jail Would Begin Term

The status of Mrs. Thelma Holland, 22-year-old prospective mother who is under a one-to-five-year sentence in San Quentin for possession of a still yesterday was an undecided matter in the minds of everyone interested in the case with the exception of Superior Judge Wilson, who imposed the sentence.

Developments came quickly following the publication of the fact that the young woman will become a mother within four or five months and that under the terms of her sentence the child would be born in San Quentin unless some other provision were made.

COURT GRANTS STAY

Judge Wilson reiterated that the young woman must serve sentence for having a still in her possession, but ordered a stay of execution until February 1, 1930, so that her child may be born outside prison walls.

In her cell in the County Jail, Mrs. Holland declared that if a stay of execution merely will prolong her sentence by keeping her in the County Jail for six months, she would prefer to go to San Quentin now.

Attorneys stated some action may be taken to set aside the sentence on the ground that Mrs. Holland cannot be made responsible for the acts of her husband, Charles W. Holland, now serving a term in Folsom for possession of the same still involved in his wife's case.

Mrs. Holland, her husband and Walter Payne, 19, were arrested May 17, last, on the still charge. They all pleaded guilty. Holland sought to assume responsibility for the still and asked that he be sentenced immediately. He was, and his wife and Payne then applied for probation. At the conclusion of the probation hearing, the court sentenced Mrs. Holland to San Quentin and Payne to the Preston State School until he attains his majority.

Judge Wilson let it be known yesterday that public opinion will not interfere with his decision in the case of Mrs. Holland. It was revealed that he had not been positive of her condition and he has appointed Dr. Charles Decker to examine the woman and report to the court.

MUST SERVE TERM

Nevertheless, the court stated, Mrs. Holland will have to serve her term in San Quentin as soon as she is physically able to do so. Under the stay it is planned that Mrs. Holland be confined in a hospital during the birth of her child, then ordered to San Quentin to begin her sentence upon her recovery.

Judge Wilson said it has been his policy to send all still-law violators to prison under the terms of a statute which became effective last year. No person convicted of or pleading guilty to a still-possession charge will receive any leniency from the court, it was stated.

SEEKS PRISON NOW

"If I have to go to San Quentin eventually under a stay of execution I would rather start serving my sentence now," said Mrs. Holland. "Perhaps it could be arranged that I could be released long enough to take care of the birth of my baby, and then I could go back and finish the sentence. I would rather get it over with than stay here in jail for six months and then have to start serving time in San Quentin."

Mrs. Holland said she pleaded guilty on advice of her attorney in the belief that she would be admitted to probation.

Several attorneys who have become interested in the case argue that she should be allowed to change her plea and stand trial. Others declare she could not legally be punished for an act of her husband. It was considered likely the case will be brought up in court at an early date.

Mrs. Holland, according to the probation officer's report, is not a criminal type and was under the domination of her husband. The report recommended probation for the woman, who is said to have been burdened with the care of six stepchildren in addition to her other duties.

COUNCILMAN WINS POINT IN ZONE ROW

Webster Victor Twice in Day, Overriding Veto of Mayor in One Case

Councilman Webster yesterday scored two distinct victories in the Council when he obtained sufficient votes to override Mayor Porter's veto of an ordinance granting a spot zone for a building at 6300 Wilshire Boulevard, and had James Sheldon's request for a spot zone to establish a gasoline service station at the southwest corner of Beverly Boulevard and Manhattan Place referred back to the City Planning Commission for further investigation.

Monday Mrs. Jules Kauffman, Mayor Porter's recent appointee to the Municipal Art Commission, appeared against the Sheldon petition, before the City Planning Committee, and was sustained by Councilmen Holland and Randall, but Webster's minority report was approved yesterday morning by Council as a whole.

STREET WORK ADVANCED

The ordinance of intention for the improvement of Dalton avenue between Eighty-seventh and Ninety-second streets, was adopted by the Council yesterday and set for hearing, September 4, next.

GETZOFF FLEES DEATH THREATS

Nemesis of Keyes and Davis Leaves for Chicago

He Will be in Custody of His Brother There

Expects to Enter Hospital to Take Treatment

Ben Getzoff, former Spring-street tailor and asserted "pay-off" medium in the bribery of Asa Keyes, Harold L. Davis and E. H. Rosenberg, departed last night for Chicago, where he will remain for the next few weeks.

The self-confessed bribe giver, whose testimony was considered the chief evidence in the conviction of Davis, former chief deputy District Attorney, on a charge of accepting $7500 in the Julian cases, and who was a codefendant with Keyes and Rosenberg, is on probation from his sentence of one to fourteen years for bribing the former District Attorney with money supplied by Jack Bennett and Rosenberg.

Bennett, so-called "bright boy" of the Julian crash, became the State's chief witness against Keyes, Getzoff and other codefendants at the first bribery hearing.

COLLAPSED AT TRIAL

Immediately following his conviction and sentencing to prison, Getzoff made a confession to Dist.-Atty. Fitts, which formed the basis for the conviction of Davis. Shortly after his revelations of the asserted Davis conspiracy, Getzoff was granted probation on account of ill health. He was placed in a sanatorium at Pasadena for treatment for stomach trouble and, according to his relatives, showed signs of improvement. Several weeks later, however, he collapsed while on the witness stand in the Davis trial.

A $25,000 bond of Getzoff in pending cases connected with the Keyes revelations was recently reduced to $5000 on representation by Getzoff that he wanted to go to Chicago and visit his brother. He also declared that he had been made the target of some threatening letters in which the writers asserted that he would be killed.

PAROLED TO BROTHER

The necessary probation arrangements have been perfected and Getzoff will be in the custody of his brother, E. H. Getzoff in Chicago, and will be placed in a hospital for treatment and observation by stomach specialists.

He will return here to appear as a witness in the bribery conspiracy case against Donald McKay, former deputy District Attorney under Keyes, which is set for trial on September 3. Getzoff, according to his plans, expects to return to the Illinois medical institution after his appearance at the McKay hearing.

ZINNICKER DISCLAIMS PATERNITY

Defense Trying to Show Pickard to be Father of ex-Wife's Child

Otto Zinnicker, defendant in the action on trial before Superior Judge Blake wherein he is accused by Mrs. Margaret Seinburch Pickard of being the father of her 13-months-old baby and for whose support $50 a month is asked, took the witness stand yesterday in his own behalf and denied the accusations.

Zinnicker admitted he had associated with Mrs. Pickard, but denied he is the father of the child that sat in its go-cart just outside the courtroom fretting and whimpering while the mother was in court. The defense is busy endeavoring to show that Ernest Pickard, the man whom the plaintiff married and who later deserted her, is the father of the child.

Mrs. Pickard, a young German woman, declared in court the day before that when she discovered her condition, after her association with Zinnicker, she went to an employment agency where she met Pickard and paid him $250 to marry her in order to give the baby a name when it was born.

An attempt was made by attorneys for Zinnicker yesterday to show that Pickard and the young woman knew each other in Chicago before either of them came to California.

AIRMANAGER OPENS LINE OFFICE HERE

Universal Offering Two Types of Service for Plane-Train Traffic

Following the arrival here from St. Louis of H. J. McNally, assistant general traffic manager of the Universal Air Lines, local offices have been opened at 922 Union Bank Building. One of the earliest established of air transportation systems, Universal was the first company to put into service an air-rail route from Los Angeles to New York. It offers two types of this service.

The first service, as explained by McNally, leaves Los Angeles daily at 8 a.m. on the Fokker trimotored, twelve-passenger planes of the Western Air Express, conveying its passengers by air to Albuquerque, N. M., thence over the rails of the Santa Fe to Garden City, Kan., by trimotored planes from that point via Kansas City and Chicago to Cleveland, and into New York over the New York Central, arriving there at 9:50 a.m., the third morning, in forty-nine hours and fifty minutes.

Leaving Los Angeles daily on the Santa Fe at 12:30 p.m., the other service conveys its passengers by rail to Garden City, Kan., thence by air to Cleveland, and from there into the eastern metropolis over the New York Central, arriving at the Atlantic seaboard at 9:50 a.m. the third morning out, in slightly more than sixty-six hours.

CRIMES OF THE CENTURY

A Literary Digest query asks what is the commonest crime among literary men. Offhand we would say that it is smoking cigarettes without undergoing any blindfold test.

THE TALKIE WEDDING

The correct thing now in screen circles is to make a talking movie of the wedding. If anything comes up later they can go into a projection room and find that it really happened. With the average bride this can take the place of a scrapbook.

THE WILL TO WON'T

It is pleasant when a man in public life can move along the lines of least resistance and give satisfaction to the crowd. It is comfortable to be a yes-man and accept the suggestions of friend or stranger. The will to do as one is asked or bidden will frequently pass for patriotism or statesmanship. But the hour comes when this pliancy is dowered with peril. The man needed is not the spineless trimmer. The call is for the man with the will to won't. It takes courage to say no and stick to it.

ON THREE WHEELS

Three-wheeled trucks are being extensively introduced in London for the delivery of freight and merchandise. They are much more mobile than the four-wheeled kind and seem to answer most purposes. A car can almost be turned in its own length and the pliability of the truck in congested parking is wonderful. The three-wheeled truck was tried here years ago, but was never able to make a hit. It looked too much like a motorcycle with a side car. But they are worth looking at anyhow.

THE CANADIAN VIEW

The Canadian government says it is even now spending about a million dollars a year trying to head off the smuggling of liquor into this country, although they are technically not bound to do a thing in this line. But the officials say that the trouble is that most of the smugglers are American citizens and not readily susceptible to the check and espionage that may be had upon their own people. We not only provide the customers on this side of the line, but we supply the producers and distributors on the other. We cannot expect an alien government to keep our citizens pure.

HOLDS AN EDGE

If Senator Walter E. Edge of New Jersey could hold his resignation until after October 5 his successor could be appointed by the Governor of his State. Otherwise a special election would be needed to fill the vacancy caused by his designation as French Ambassador. This is where politics enters the situation. Presumably the Jersey statesman is perfectly all right with France although it is hard to step into the shoes of the late Myron Herrick. But Walter knows the country and something of the language and he is the virtual owner of a large advertising agency in Paris. Of course he cannot use it for publicity purposes, but he organized it years ago and although it has passed from his keeping he could probably step in there most any day and borrow a match. That is where he would have the Edge on some of the other boys.

SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL

There seems to be another call for an investigation of the dramatic schools that give promises or guarantees of film positions to their graduates. It is insisted that no school can do that and that the profession is completely overrun with candidates and applicants. Now it is intended to place the schools under the jurisdiction of the Police Commission; to rgulate them by city ordinance and to charge a stiff license fee as a certificate of responsibility. Something like this seems to be necessary to meet the situation. Fictitious advertising lures foolish girls to schools that really have no standing in the profession or the film industry. There are good schools that teach dramatic art and improve movie technique, but they can guarantee nothing, and they certainly do not provide Hollywood with its stars.

THE PEACE PACT HELPS

It is plain that a strong—perhaps the strongest—influence for the now probable prevention of war between Russia and China has been the Kellogg-Briand peace treaty. Ever since the breaking off of diplomatic relations between the two countries, there have been repeated declarations both from Moscow and Nanking that, because both are signatories of the pact, there will be no aggressive step by either country across the border of the other and that each will strive to maintain peace. Now come reports that direct negotiations are about to be undertaken to settle the controversy. Failing the success of these, China indicates she will appeal to the League of Nations. In any case there probably will be arbitration of the matters in dispute with nothing worse than an armed truce in the meantime.

It is needless to say that such a situation is without precedent. Never before in the world's history, probably, have two nations drifted so close to war without entering it. A precedent has been set of tremendous importance to the other signers of the pact which may become involved in disputes in the future. The situation still is critical, but the longer hostilities can be postponed the more hope there is that they can be avoided.

China is reported ready to compromise by permitting the staffing of the Chinese Eastern Railway half with Russians, as provided by the treaties of 1924, provided new men are named by the soviet government and the offending propagandists withdrawn. This proposal may or may not be accepted by Moscow as a basis for discussion, but it is at least something to talk about and points the way to a possibility of agreement.

It may be urged that the developments show that neither country is really anxious to fight and is but using the Kellogg pact as a convenient face-saving device to obviate the necessity of making good a bluff. But in the first place there is no reason for taking the declarations as otherwise than sincere, and in the second place even this argument admits the usefulness of the treaty, since in the absence of such an exit from a bad situation, war would almost certainly result.

What the result of such a war might be could not, of course, be predicted with any certainty. The Red army has some six divisions of well-drilled and well-equipped troops near the Manchurian border. The Chinese army in Manchuria is three or four times as numerous, but its quality is untested. A possible factor in the situation is the presence of a considerable number of White Russians in the vicinity—some accounts say an army of 50,000, well equipped, could be recruited for service against the Reds. Then there is some question as to how well the Red army would fight beyond its own borders—a question raised by the military collapse of the drive toward Warsaw a few years ago, when troops that appeared very formidable and had been so on Russian soil were easily routed by the Poles. The possible attitude of Japan, in the event of a military clash, also has to be taken into account; there is little doubt that, if forced to take a side, Japan's side would be on that of the Chinese.

It seems likely that whatever success the Red army might have at first, and it might be able to penetrate Manchuria for a considerable distance, Russia lacks the resources for a sustained effort so far from home and would be compelled, in the long run, to retire and acknowledge defeat.

It is even being suggested that this gesture toward a foreign war is being made by Moscow to stave off domestic difficulties and in the hope that support may rally to it from various disaffected elements.

But whatever weight may be assigned to these various elements, the important consideration is the maintenance of peace and if the Kellogg pact succeeds in this it will have demonstrated great utility.

The occasion is being seized upon by the persistent friends of sovietism here to renew agitation for American recognition of the Moscow government and the argument is being made that American trade with Russia has now reached such proportions as to render diplomatic relations necessary. This is somewhat in contrast to the previously heard argument that relations were necessary to render trade possible. Neither argument is tenable. The conditions of American recognition of Russia as laid down by Secretary of State Hughes do not appear to need changing. The salient factors of the Hughes conditions are the assumption by the Russian government of the Russian exterior debt, so far as it is owed to the United States, and restoration of the private property of American citizens confiscated by the soviets. When Moscow evinces willingness to discuss recognition on this basis it may be listened to.

The demonstration of its willingness to keep the Kellogg-Briand treaty is something, but it is not enough.

A CROWN OF LIFE

There are many sacrifices in private life that hardly reach the public print; many deeds of quiet heroism that bring little remembrance beyond a name graven on a tombstone; many acts of courage and devotion whose only reward is the example left behind to inspire the few who witnessed them on earth.

Yet when the roll is called up yonder there will be thousands upon thousands of unheralded Ben Adhems whose names will lead the army of martyrs and heroes inscribed with imperishable honors in the man-made records of the human race.

And among those names not the least will be that of Herman Mohr of Los Angeles. He will be found in that precious category of whom the Redeemer said, "Greater love than this hath no man . . ."

No spectacular deed of amazing daring, such as dazzle the eyes of the crowd, no act of stupendous climaxes whereby a man matches the human heart and will against the opposing forces of nature or his enemies, won for Herman Mohr a crown more lasting than that placed on the brow of a victor or above the sarcophagus of a patriot.

Herman Mohr did not risk his life in a fight against terrific odds. He gave it to save a fellow-being through a silent and unwitnessed sacrifice the end of which he knew for himself was inevitable. He did not gamble with death—he accepted it—because he met it in the path of duty.

For five years in the high, dry climate of New Mexico he had struggled back to precarious health against the ravages of the great white plague. He knew his life hung on a slender thread. Yet when it was his own life against that of a young boy, drowning in an isolated spot with no other help in sight, he did not hesitate in pursuing the—to him—only possible course. Youth and health must not perish though his own weakened physique should pay the price of rescue.

To lay down one's life for one's friends—that is the greater love extolled by the Lord of heaven. But in a lonely spot to lay down one's life for the stranger—surely that act writes a name first among the immortals "whom love of God has blessed." And surely that position belongs to Herman Mohr of Los Angeles.

STRANGE ENGLISH SUMMER

Outside of California this summer has been one of climatic vagaries, but perhaps the most extraordinary of the year's weather stories is that of a water famine in England. Year after year and century after century English summers have been consistently wet and in that consistent wet weather country July has averaged a little wetter than the other more or less sopping months.

That a hot wave should have prevailed throughout the whole of July in that island proverbial for its excessive summer rainfalls must have caused the Britisher to suppose that even his good old "beastly climate" is no longer to be relied on. No one in that land of precedents would have believed (before the last election) that he would see the day when a pail of water would be worth more than a pint of milk or a mug of Burton ale. Yet it happened this summer in many parts of the island.

In California we may smile to think that a few weeks of continuous sunshine should bring our British friends to such a pass. And yet the British had no more reason to provide against a drought in July than we in Los Angeles would have for enlarging our storm drains to take care of excessive rains in August. On an ordinary English summer day the man who starts out without an umbrella is regarded as a reckless and venturesome spirit—something like the one of Byrd's company who took a naked sprint over the Antarctic snows. Ninety in the shade was something for the Londoner to read about, but not to permit in the streets of the world metropolis.

Science may account for this freak English summer, as little to be expected as continuous rain throughout July in California. Old-fashioned Britishers, however, will set it down to the Labor government, giving the vote to flappers, the scrapping of "Rule Britannia," the doggerel of Dean Inge, the Hollywood movies, the importation of the "hot dog," the growing habit of chewing gum and the many other revolutionary changes that the protesting Tory can no longer ward off even by writing letters to the "Thunderer."

But England's prolonged spell of sunshine, by last reports, has at last broken up in a happy riot of rain, so, it may be taken for granted, its inhabitants are once more enjoying their summer umbrellas.

THE ROUGH STUFF

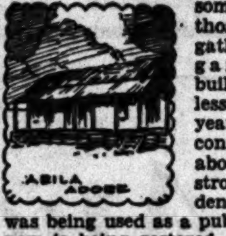
The House of Commons must be getting quite common. Anyhow, some of the members are forgetting that Lady Astor is a lady and coarsely resent her interruptions. Even the presiding officer told her to keep still. Half a dozen members told her to shut up and one Labor leader added the statement: "I tell her straight to her face that I am a better man drunk than she is sober." This seemed to be a statement that called for neither answer nor denial. Nancy admits that she is a lady and no gentleman.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.
BY Lee Shippey

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

TWO gatherings of unusual significance recently have been held at the old Abila adobe on Olvera street, just north of the Plaza. The first was a tea given by the Native Daughters of the Golden West, in course of which a bear flag was presented to the adobe by the Native Daughters. That meeting brought together the women of the first families of Los Angeles, and it meant something for those women to gather in the garden of a building which less than two years ago was condemned and about to be destroyed — a garden which then was being used as a public dump, but now is being restored into a proper and beautiful setting for the oldest and most historic building in Los Angeles. The other gathering was of men as prominent in business and civic affairs as those women were in social affairs, representing the city government and many of the most important interests in the city. They were there for the purpose of launching definite plans for Plaza de Los Angeles, a picturesque and colorful Mexican market taking in all of Olvera street from the Plaza to Macy street.



The Mexican Market

When that market is a going concern, an area now of no credit to the city will be transformed into one of the greatest assets this city has, a place far better illustrating Mexican life and customs than anything you can see in Tia Juana, a place every visitor will want to see and a place in which patriotic groups will want to gather frequently, as those two groups did, to recall the lost atmosphere of the old Los Angeles and pay tribute to those things in the city's history which are as great assets to us as Paul Revere or the Wayside Inn is to Boston or Independence Hall is to Philadelphia. The old Abila adobe on Olvera street is 111 years old, was Commodore Stockton's headquarters after the final capture of Los Angeles and was shared by him with Gen. Fremont for a time. The bed in which Fremont slept was there until recently, when the building got into such unsafe condition that Miss Sophie Rimpau, the owner, took it away.

What Visitors Like to See

To think that Los Angeles, boastful of its fine new homes and its wonderful growth, almost let a historic treasure like that old adobe be wiped out utterly! The roof was leaking, the adobe walls crumbling, the floors sagging. It was unnoticed except by those who had rubbish to throw away and were looking for public dumping ground. Yet we Angelenos, when we go to Boston or Philadelphia, do not ask to be shown the fine homes of the millionaires of those cities. We ask to be shown the old North Church, the Wayside Inn, Independence Hall. When we go to Europe it is the old and historic which awe us most. Yet we have let our own historic buildings vanish. Only a tablet tells the approximate location of the house in which the treaty ending the war between the Americans and the Californians was signed. No vestige of the house remains and its exact location is disputed. The house Fremont later used as headquarters also is gone, and not even a tablet shows where it stood. It is good to know that at last Los Angeles has started to preserve its heirlooms.

THE DELUDED CANNIBAL

By James J. Montague

The cannibal was not a man
  Of deep or learned mind.
He formed the very lowest clan
  Among all human kind.
When he had half a chance to err
  He almost always erred,
And often his conclusions were
  Both stupid and absurd.

His smartest foes he always stewed
  With fatuous delight,
He fancied that this kind of food
  Would make him also bright.
Of course we know to reason so
  Proclaims a man a fool,
But then, poor chap, he did not know
  A dietary rule.

Moreover, when his smartest foes
  Assuaged his appetite,
They never more again arose
  To start another fight.
A man who's figured in a stew
  Though filled with mental charm
And craft and guile can never do
  Another bit of harm.

And so perhaps the cannibal
  Though he did not become
A brighter man, was after all
  Not so extremely dumb.
His reasoning, of course, was wrong,
  As you and I well know,
But yet it served him to prolong

Protecting Fruit Trees

LONG BEACH, July 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I wish to reply to Mr. I. Deach of Escondido in regard to the Mediterranean fly and give him my experience on two fig trees.

Three years ago I had two fig trees on my place. They were seven years old. When the fruit was nearly ripe I determined to find some method to keep the bees, birds and ants from destroying the figs.

I purchased twenty yards of mosquito netting for each tree. I had it sewed together and at the bottom I fixed a draw string. I spread the netting over the trees like a tent and then drew the string at the bottom to fit closely around the trunk of the tree. I then dissolved four ounces of rosin in one quart of castor oil. And put a bandage of heavy domestic cloth seven inches wide around the trunk of the trees about three feet from the ground which I painted with the oil and rosin mixture. This was to keep ants and other insects from getting up the trees. When I desired figs I untied the string and pulled the figs from the trees, replacing after I had finished gathering. You would have been surprised at the different kinds of ants and bugs that were caught on the bandage. I never saw finer figs than I gathered from those trees.

The cost of the netting and the bandage was 90 cents per tree. I gathered one and a half bushels of figs from each tree at two crops.

I feel satisfied that the fly and other pests could be kept from the orange and other fruit trees by this method.

I hope that some orange grower will give this method a fair trial. R. B. KING.

First Appearance?

LOS ANGELES, July 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Has any definite time been found to be that in which the Mediterranean fly first made its appearance in Florida? If not, it would seem quite necessary for every State in the Union to start its own investigation of local conditions.

Every dining car on every transcontinental train in the United States carries—or did carry—fruit and vegetables from Florida. The refuse from these cars is scattered to the four winds of all territory through which these trains pass. If grapefruit or oranges were infected to the point of rendering them unfit to serve, where would they go? Out the window and their menacing parasites be liberated to start anew in fresh fields.

So it seems logical that there is today not a single fruit-producing area in this country that has not already been imperiled, unless the Florida situation was discovered in its incipiency, which is not very likely.

Shade Trees for Wilshire

HOLLYWOOD, July 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] We have just returned from an auto trip through the north, Del Monte, Yosemite and San Francisco, and were much impressed by the "101" State Highway lined with beautiful eucalyptus trees for miles and miles as it enters San Francisco and I thought what an opportunity to make Wilshire Boulevard the show place of the world if only concerted action was taken to plant eucalyptus trees the entire length from Los Angeles to the sea. Just notice the beginning made by Beverly and the eucalyptus trees from Beverly to Los Angeles Country Club. Why can't the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce cooperate with Beverly and make Wilshire Boulevard the pride of Southern California? It is wide and long and with uniform shade trees would be a joy forever. MRS. K.

New Styles for Men

WHITTIER, July 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It was with great pleasure that I read the article in a recent issue of your valuable paper, entitled, "White Collarites Revolt," and subsequent editorials and news items dealing with the subject of dress reform for men.

It might be a good policy on the part of your paper to ask all those who are interested in this question to submit suggestions as to a suitable all-year costume for men which would be practically collarless, or open-necked, light, comfortable, washable, hygienic and sightly. I believe there are many men who are ready to follow the example of Dr. Thomas Darlington of New York and wear a sensible suit if they knew of a suitable design. H. P. N.

HUBBY'S FAULT?

With their increasing leisure American women are, like the men folk, becoming a nation of joiners. Feminine organization is growing by leaps and bounds. Not only do social, civic, business and fraternal groups number many women, but women are becoming more exclusive as a sex organizing their own movements.

No less a person than Gertrude Atherton, novelist, declares it is husbands, not wives, who are responsible for the growing number of women's clubs. She explains:

"Women of recent generations have been driven into banding together to find an outlet for their mental energy because the American husband, engrossed in business, insists on regarding them as ornamental, useless and his mental inferior."—[The Pathfinder.

NATURAL VS. CIVIL LAWS

BY F. C. LEONARD, S.M., P.H.D., of the University of California at Los Angeles

We depend for our understanding of nature largely upon the comprehension of certain fundamental principles, whose statements are called natural laws. The word law connotes ordinarily a civil law; yet it is doubtful whether any two things more unlike each other than natural laws and civil laws are called by the same name. On account of their essential dissimilarity, it is unfortunate that the same word is applied to both ideas; the case is, however, but another illustration of the inconsistency of language.

A civil law is the prescription or the prohibition of a mode of conduct, or a rule for human behavior. Often included in the statement of the law itself is a specification of the penalties which shall be imposed upon violators, in the event that they are apprehended, convicted and sentenced to punishment. For instance, it is a law or an ordinance in most cities that in the business districts automobiles shall be driven with speeds not in excess of fifteen miles per hour and that persons exceeding this legal speed limit shall be liable to a fine or to imprisonment. Civil laws are of the nature of imperative statements or obligatory regulations; obviously, every civil law is of human origin.

A law of nature, on the other hand, does not order or prohibit anything. A law of nature does not prescribe or forbid anything; it merely describes how, under given conditions, things in nature act and react toward one another.

Consider one of the greatest and most far-reaching of all natural laws, namely, the Newtonian law of gravitation, which asserts that "Every particle of matter in the universe attracts every other particle by a force which varies directly as the product of their masses and inversely as the square of the distance between them." Obviously this is a simple descriptive statement. It matters not whether one believes in—or is even conscious of the existence of—a natural law; he—as well as everything else in the universe—is subject to it nevertheless. As soon as the proper conditions for its operation manifest themselves, a law of nature becomes immediately effective, just as certainly and just as inexorably for the individual who is totally ignorant of it—and even for inanimate objects—as for the learned scientist whose painstaking researches may first have revealed it to mankind.

In one respect only is the theory of both civil and natural laws similar: ignorance of the law is no excuse for breaking it. Even here, however, there is a significant difference: since, in the essence of things, one cannot really violate a natural law, he automatically experiences the consequences the moment he attempts to do so! He may break a law of man and possibly escape the penalty for his misdemeanor, but he can never break a law of nature regardless of whether he is in sympathy with it or not. The inviolability of the laws of nature is probably the most patent respect in which they differ from civil laws.

The principles underlying the laws of nature are seemingly inherent properties of nature; those laws transcend the authority of man and they can be neither passed, amended, repealed nor annulled by him, or, so far as is known, by any other existing agency in the universe; and everything in the natural world is subject to the laws which govern it. In order, then, to live most happily in his environment man is virtually compelled to apprehend those laws and to shape his life and conduct in accordance with them. This circumstance is, perhaps, one of the most cogent reasons for the pursuit of science.

The entire superstructure of every department of science rests upon those laws which constitute its foundation. Every fact, every phenomenon, encountered in the study of any science is explainable, either directly or indirectly, by one or more of the basic laws which underlie that science, for a science is simply a body of knowledge whose elements depend upon and are inter-related by definite rudimentary principles.

The value of a natural law to the pure scientist is that it empowers him to interpret and coordinate his observations, to make predictions, and, finally, to arrive at a coherent philosophy of nature. The value of such a law to the applied scientist is that through its use it enables him to construct various mechanical contrivances which contribute to the ease and betterment of life. It is hardly necessary to point out that every one of the multifarious inventions which have made civilization what it is today has been possible only through the previous application of some law or laws of nature to the needs of every-day life.

DIPLOMACY IN FRENCH

The enterprising inquirer who has discovered that almost all foreign diplomats in Washington speak English, and has concluded, therefrom, that English is supplanting French as the language of diplomacy, is confusing a tendency with an accomplished fact.

If he were to make a corresponding survey in the capitals of Europe, he would find that, while many of the diplomats know English, French is still the "official" language. In the Far East, it is true, English is the only lingua franca among foreign officials. But it will be long before the convenience of French in diplomatic intercourse ceases to outweigh the difficulties of learning the language.—[New York Times.

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

The Frank Wiggins Trade Evening School, Venice Boulevard, between Hill street and Grand avenue, offers a free course in designing and cutting of patterns for ladies' and children's garments to dressmakers and people who are employed in factories and are anxious to become experienced in their line.

The course includes the [illegible] flare, full circular, plain and fancy coat, forming of pleats and tucks and many other phases of the work. The class meets in room 729 from 7 to 9 p.m. every Tuesday and Thursday evening.

The instructor is Mrs. [illegible] Fenton Coe, who has had many years' experience in this type of work in the industrial field.

There is a waiting list and applicants for the work must apply in person at the school between 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. Inexperienced persons are admitted to the [illegible] classes, but not to the [illegible] classes.

WHERE CAN I LEARN
Pattern Drafting?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

The Frank Wiggins Trade Evening School, Venice Boulevard, between Hill street and Grand avenue, offers a free course in designing and cutting of patterns for ladies' and children's garments to dressmakers and people who are employed in factories and are anxious to become experienced in their line. The course includes the semi-flare, full circular, plain coat, fancy coat, forming of pleats and tucks and many other phases of the work. The class meets in room 729 from 7 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday evenings. The instructor is Mrs. Vera Fenton Coe, who has had seven years' experience in this type of work in the industrial field. There is a waiting list and applicants for the work must apply in person at the school between 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. Inexperienced persons are admitted to the day classes, but not to the evening classes.

This Woodchuck Trapped Itself

The attention of passengers aboard the bus between Lancaster and Danville Monday was attracted by the peculiar antics of a groundhog on the turnpike. The car was brought to a stop and it was discovered that the animal's head had become wedged up to the ears in a quart-size empty can. Some of the men passengers, alighting from the car, gave chase and finally captured and set free the plunging woodchuck. — [Louisville Courier-Journal.

Pasadena City Employees Jailed in Construction Graft Quiz

PAIR LOCKED UP BY JURY ORDERS

Inspector on Public Jobs and Instrument Man Held

Both Appeared as Witnesses in Graft Inquiry

Arrest of Others Seen as Early Possibility

Indicating that vigorous action will be taken soon in the investigation of charges of graft and corruption among employees of the Pasadena city engineering department, two witnesses were taken directly from the county grand jury room to the County Jail last night upon the orders of Elwood De Garmo, foreman. They are charged with grand theft.

The two men are Cletus M. Ward, 36 years of age, an instrument-man in the Pasadena engineering department, and William J. Watson, 54, a contractor, who recently was an inspector for the Pasadena engineering department, and is asserted to have figured in numerous transactions now under investigation before the grand jury.

JURORS KEEP SILENT

Although no member of the grand jury would intimate the reasons the two men were placed in jail, it is believed that they had made admissions while on the witness stand which convinced members of the grand jury that they should be placed in custody.

Among the other principal witnesses summoned before the grand jury are O. K. Hearte, constructor of the Pasadena outfall sewer; T. C. Breitenstein, paving contractor, and Warren C. Earle, former Pasadena City Engineer. They are expected to be called before the grand jury again today for further questioning.

Foreman De Garmo declined to discuss the case at the close of the grand jury session except to assert that evidence has been revealed indicating that corrupt conditions existed in the Pasadena engineering department and that the investigation is not yet closed.

LARGE GRAFT CHARGED

According to John Berwald, investigator for the District Attorney's office, certain contractors collected large sums of money for "cradling" foundations under an outfall sewer which never was installed. It also was revealed that other investigators had obtained information that $8000 was paid to inspectors, foremen and others to facilitate overcharges on extras on a paving contract.

Other information has been obtained which indicates that approximately $75,000 in "easy money" has been paid to city engineering employees of Pasadena to pave the way for overcharges, according to investigators.

With the imprisonment of two of the principal witnesses yesterday, the grand jury is expected to conclude its investigation today by the return of an indictment naming five or six individuals.

STREET PROJECT UP

The confirmation of assessments on the improvement of Effie street at Redesdale avenue, the improvement of Third street between Vermont and Western avenues, and the improvement of Colorado Boulevard between Broadway and a point near Eagledale avenue will come before the Council today, in company with the hearing of protests against the setback lines in Third avenue between Rodeo Road and Santa Barbara avenue.

GIRL DROPS FROM SIGHT; HUNT BEGUN

Deputy Coroner Here Asks Aid as His Daughter in El Paso, Tex., Vanishes

Fearful that his daughter Pauline, 16 years of age, has become the victim of kidnapers somewhere between here and El Paso, Tex., Edgar S. Burlington, local deputy Coroner, yesterday appealed to police here to join in an interstate search for the girl.

Burlington told police that his daughter had been living with her grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Burlington, at 3908 Monroe avenue, El Paso, and had been going to high school there. Last Saturday night she went to a picture show and later was seen driving in her grandmother's automobile. With her was an elderly woman and a young man about 25 years of age, the father said he was informed.

When the girl failed to return to her grandmother's home or communicate either with the grandmother or her father here, Texas authorities were asked to instigate a search.

Fear for the girl's safety was aroused when the Texas police discovered Mrs. Burlington's car abandoned on a highway near Fort Bliss.

His conditions was so serious that he was transferred to the General Hospital.

MANY ROBBERIES LAID TO YOUTHS

Police Say Trio Admits Fifteen Hold-ups

Also Charged With Shooting Gas Station Employee

They Will be Included in "Show-up" at Jail

Identified as the bandits who robbed two gas stations and wounded one of the attendants, three youths, apprehended by Detective Lieutenants Castle and Mosina of the Seventy-seventh-street division, yesterday confessed to fifteen other robberies, the detectives reported.

The trio are James W. Winn, 22 years of age, of 2624 West Boulevard; Alvin Carruthers, 20, of 1324 Maple avenue, and Emmet Baker, 20, of 621 North Heliotrope Drive. All are held on suspicion of robbery and assault with a deadly weapon. They will be included in a public show-up of more than a dozen bandit suspects to be held at the City Jail today at 1 p.m.

According to the detectives, the youths have been identified as having held up J. B. Klem in a gas service station at 1900 Lincoln Boulevard on the night of the 24th inst. In this robbery, Officer Watson, a near-by resident, reported firing several times at them as they fled.

The following night the trio is said to have slightly wounded an attendant in a service station at Manchester and McKinley avenues.

MRS. HARDY HELD AFTER AUTO CHASE

Woman Booked on Charge of Driving While Drunk Denies Being Actor's Wife

Mrs. Oliver Hardy, 31 years of age of 3687 Fredonia avenue, was jailed yesterday after being booked on a charge of "drunk in automobile." In the County Jail she told the matron her name is Mrs. Myrtle Hardy. She denied being the wife of Oliver Hardy, motion-picture comedian. On the 24th inst., Mrs. Myrtle Hardy sued Oliver Hardy, screen comedian, for a divorce. At her attorney's office yesterday it was learned that her address is the same as that given by the Mrs. Oliver Hardy, arrested.

Motorcycle Policeman Clementine reported that he saw Mrs. Hardy driving in reckless fashion west on Cahuenga Pass. Clementine said he rode ahead of her three times before he could force her to the curb, and then he had to operate the emergency brake to stop her car. He reported that he found a half-pint of prescription liquor in the car, and that at the North Hollywood Emergency Hospital he had certified that Mrs. Hardy had been drinking.

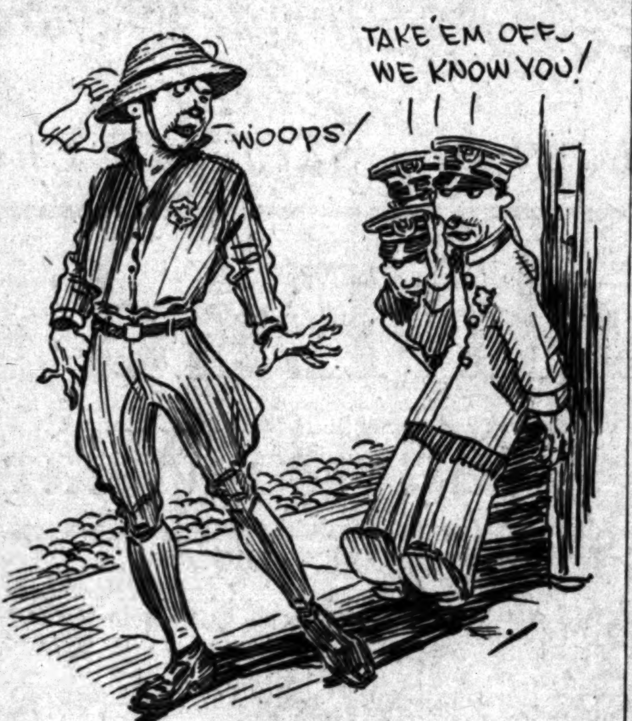
A sister, Mrs. A. Spence of 3687 Fredonia avenue, told the police that Mrs. Hardy recently recovered from an operation and that she had been given liquor on a physician's orders. Mrs. Hardy was booked and finger-printed at the Hollywood Police Station and then transferred to the County Jail. The studio for which Oliver Hardy is working gave his address as the Masquers Club.

Search Made for Assailant

Francisco Gonzales, who lived in a tiny shack near Independence Square, Norwalk, is being sought by deputy sheriffs following the shooting of Milquiades Martinez three times because he refused to take a drink with him Monday night, according to reports at the Sheriff's office.

Martinez was taken to the Artesia Hospital, where physicians said his chances of recovery are slight. He was wounded in the cheek, under the arm and in the back. One bullet lodged near his heart.

SHOULD TRAFFIC POLICE DON SUNBACK CLOTHES?



TAKE 'EM OFF—
WE KNOW YOU!
WOOPS!

Maybe This Will Be Next
Staff Artist Ewing's conception of how traffic officers of the future may appear.

Holding that the heavy uniforms worn by Los Angeles traffic officers are not humane and are inefficient in warm weather, Dr. Richard C. MacCloskey of 756 South Broadway pleaded that the men should be given relief with a distinctive semitropical garb, in a communication to the Police Commission yesterday.

He suggested a uniform of O. D. shirts, riding breeches and a tropical hat.

The commission referred the request to Chief Davis for a recommendation. Chief Davis recently opposed a request by officers stationed in the San Fernando Valley that they be allowed to go coatless during the heat of the day. He held it would interfere with discipline.

BELL PROJECT HALTS SALE

Witness Tells How Deal for Property Was Stopped by Fear of Cement Quarry

A specific instance where Alphonzo Bell's proposed cement quarry stopped the sale of residence property in the Santa Monica Bay District was recited last night by a witness testifying before the City Planning Commission, to whom Bell has applied for a permit to operate the quarry.

Floyd B. Howard, sales manager for the Santa Monica Land and Water Company, real estate developers, testified that Mrs. Sadie E. Fuller of 3126 Santa Monica Boulevard, stopped payment on a check for $1000, originally tendered to bind the sale of two lots, when she was erroneously informed that the Santa Monica Land and Water Company had stopped its fight against the quarry.

PRICES HELD DOWN

Howard further testified that he believed that his firm probably would be able to sell twice as many lots at a higher price than now obtained if Bell's application were not pending.

Although he proposes to load cement slurry from a pipe line aboard a tanker a short distance away, Bell now is trying to sell beach lots in the exclusive Bel-Air Bay Club for as high as $30,000 each, it was developed from testimony by A. B. Boyd, sales manager for the club, subpoenaed by Attorney Thorwald Siegfried, representing a group of protestants.

VALUE ESTIMATED

Boyd admitted that the club was organized as an outing-place for wealthy residents of Bel Air and other neighboring communities. He estimated the average price per acre for approximately thirty acres included in the club grounds at $75,000.

Boyd was followed on the stand by O. W. Lord of 238 North Vermont avenue, owner of two lots in Pacific Palisades. Lord testified that he has lived in Los Angeles for forty-two years and for thirty-three years at his present address, and as a property owner and member of several improvement associations has closely watched Los Angeles' development toward the west.

The witness declared that it has been his experience that the intrusion of industry always spoils a residence district. He stated that it is his opinion that the operation of the quarry not only would affect adversely the immediate area but also would hurt all of Los Angeles and even the East Side industrial area. He explained this by saying that if the quarry were allowed it would spoil the city's finest residence area, thus keeping from locating in Los Angeles wealthy eastern persons whose money supports local industry.

Lord further asserted that he believes the quarry would result in a 50 per cent depreciation in the value of his lots in Pacific Palisades, and that if the permit were granted that he would not construct a home he has planned to build on one of the lots.

PANTAGES CASE SET TODAY

Wife of Theater Magnate Will Have Hearing on Murder Charge as Auto Crash Result

Mrs. Lois Pantages, wife of Alexander Pantages, theater magnate, is scheduled to appear before Municipal Judge Ballard at 9:45 a.m. today for preliminary hearing on charges of murder and driving her automobile while intoxicated. She is at liberty on $50,000 bail.

Mrs. Pantages is charged by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Burgess with responsibility for the death of Joe Rokomoto, Japanese merchant, following an automobile crash on Sunset Boulevard and Serrano street on June 16, last. A coroner's jury found that Rokomoto's death was due to injuries sustained in the collision, which occurred when Mrs. Pantages was driving on the wrong side of the street.

Burgess declares he has several witnesses who saw Mrs. Pantages driving her car recklessly before the accident, and several who have stated that she was drunk a few minutes before the crash. One witness at the Coroner's inquest testified that she sat in her car with a "glassy stare" in her eyes and failed to move with a traffic signal and that when advised to drive to the curb and take a taxi, she became abusive and drove on.

Mrs. Pantages, who was injured when her machine struck the one occupied by Rokomoto and his family of six, recently was arraigned before Judge Ballard, appearing in court in a wheel chair.

CASH BY WIRE SAVES PYLE

Bunion Derby Promoter Telegraphs $500 for Labor Claims and Wards Off Prosecution

A blue-clad messenger boy rushing into the office of Deputy Labor Commissioner Richardson yesterday saved the day for "Cash and Carry" Pyle, bunion derby promoter, and warded off, for the time being at least, criminal prosecution of that individual under the State Labor Act. Given until 10 a.m. yesterday to "plank down" more than $1500 on the desk of Richardson to pay labor claims growing out of his last cross-country derby fiasco, Pyle telegraphed the deputy commissioner from Santa Rosa that he was rushing $500 by telegraph and begged Richardson to give him until next Saturday morning to pay the balance.

Shortly after noon the messenger boy arrived with the money order and Richardson, obtaining the cash for it, proceeded to dole it out among Pyle's former employees. To Miss Cleo Balcom, leader of Pyle's girl orchestra, went $250 as part payment of her $834 claim. To Paul Hickman, head of the Hickman show troupe, $225, on account for his $708 claim, and to Mike Fekete, runner, $25 of the $50 entry fee ordered refunded several weeks ago.

READY TO ACT

Richardson had announced earlier in the day that, failing to receive the money from Pyle before the close of the business day, he would make good his threat of last Saturday to start criminal prosecution of the financially entangled sports promoter.

Pyle, following announcement that civil suits and criminal prosecution loomed as a result of his asserted failure to pay the winning racers their prize money when the cross-country derby ended here in June, left for Santa Rosa after announcing that he would endeavor to raise money on real estate, which he holds there. Before his departure he visited the home of A. Bozzani, automobile dealer, now engaged in heading a movement on behalf of the winning racers to force Pyle to pay prize money, and assured Bozzani that, if given time, he would raise the money, Bozzani said.

PLAN FOR ACTION

Several leading business men have joined with the auto dealer to assist the racers in their fight to obtain their winnings and to offset unfavorable comment launched against Los Angeles by foreign newspapers as a result of the manner in which the Pyle race ended. Attorneys have been engaged with a view to starting civil suits against the promoter and to investigate the feasibility of placing the entire race promotion project before Federal authorities with a view to prosecuting Pyle in case it can be shown he misused the United States mails in furthering the scheme, it is said.

Additional trouble piled up for Pyle yesterday, when James Thorpe, stage worker employed by the promoter for his road show, filed a wage claim for $259.82. Date for a hearing on this claim will be set later by Deputy Commissioner Richardson.

Widow Will Get Nerney's Estate

Stephen S. Nerney, Hollywood auto dealer, who was killed recently in a plane crash, left an estate of $100,000 to his widow, Mrs. Helen Hughes Nerney. It was revealed when his will was filed for probate yesterday.

Mrs. Nerney inherits the family home at 354 North Las Palmas avenue and, according to the will, is expected to care for her 11-year-old son. With Nerney was killed his instructor, Elmer C. Brown, when their plane crashed near Santa Barbara, the 22nd inst.

HARBOR'S FERRY PROBLEM AIRED

Board Hearing Produces Wide Opinion Differences

Speakers Score and Praise Great Tube Project

Mayor Porter Attends to Gather Information

Views on methods of transporting passengers and vehicles across the main channel between San Pedro and East San Pedro proved to vary widely at the hearing conducted by the Board of Harbor Commissioners yesterday afternoon, and at its conclusion, President Walter B. Allen informed the delegations present that the suggestions, transcribed, will be scrutinized carefully and a decision for solution of the problem will be reached as soon as possible.

Some speakers suggested tubes or tunnels as the only real solution. Others urged the construction of one or more large ferries, with double decks. Still others contended that the present system operated by the San Pedro Transportation Company cannot be bettered for speed and safety. Mayor Porter attended in order to get a first-hand idea of the situation.

Attorney Clyde Leach gave a brief history of the port from 1881 to clarify the situation in regard to the Southern Pacific Railroad's holdings on the west side of the channel, agreements made with the city in regard to the property and what is necessary to acquire sufficient frontage for slips and a ferry landing.

NICHOLSON TELLS PLAN

Harbor Engineer Nicholson described his plans for a double-decked ferry, to be operated from the foot of Sixth street. His estimates of costs are from $632,000 to $1,500,000.

General Manager Edwards told of the progress of negotiations with the Southern Pacific.

President Mott of the San Pedro Chamber, expressed the view that the problem greatly is exaggerated and urged early action. He thinks an improved system can be installed without the expense of buying a lot of the railroad's property. President Pitcherly of the Wilmington Chamber, expressed hearty co-operation with San Pedro toward getting the ferry service it desires. Clarke F. Waite, San Pedro newspaper editor, lauded Engineer Nicholson for plans he has made for improvement of the service.

Councilman Henning of the Harbor District, lauded the co-operation between the San Pedro, Wilmington and Los Angeles chambers of commerce, and asserted there is an excellent chance at the present time to get definite results.

Clarence Matson, representing the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, read a letter from President Crandall, now in Honolulu, urging the city to acquire the Southern Pacific frontage and improving the ferry service for the benefit of the port.

COST OF TUBE SYSTEM

Edward Kosin of 351 West Eleventh street, San Pedro, asserted he has been a commuter to East San Pedro for twenty-seven years, and asked the board how it proposes to improve the present service by operating a combined vehicular and passenger ferry. He asserted that passengers will be delayed greatly awaiting for vehicles. Passengers cannot be transported faster across the channel than they are at present, he declared. The only improvement, he said, is the construction of a T-shaped tube under the channel, with one entrance near Wilmington, one at San Pedro and the other at East San Pedro.

Nicholson estimated that a tube will cost $5,000,000, and it will be difficult to locate the entrances or exits near enough to make it feasible. He asserted the ferry he plans will provide a ten-minute service.

Frank A. Garbutt, partner with Matt Walsh in the company now operating the ferries, expressed willingness to improve the service if given the opportunity. He gave figures showing the speed in handling passengers. He asserted the interest on the cost of Nicholson's plan will be more annually than the gross revenue which can be derived.

Frank Karr, general counsel for the Southern Pacific Railroad, told of the railroad's position and said the company is perfectly willing to part with its frontage. He suggested the appointment of appraisers for the city and the railroad, in order to reach a figure which can be discussed.

TENEMENT CONDITIONS IMPROVED

Head of Bellevue Social Service Unit Tells How Hospital Aids sPoor

Miss Lola Yerkes, who, as head of the social service department of Bellevue Hospital, New York, is said to have a most intimate knowledge of the metropolis's tenement situation, is in Los Angeles for vacation after arrival from New York aboard the Panama Mail liner El Salvador.

Forty workers on Miss Yerkes's staff daily investigate the home conditions of the thousands of charity patients cared for by Bellevue and under her direction many families are provided for during the incapacitation of the bread winners.

"We have in little more than two years vastly improved the general health condition of Greater New York, chiefly because we have created a feeling of confidence in Bellevue among the poorer classes," said Miss Yerkes. "No family whose bread-winner becomes a patient of Bellevue ever wants for food and necessities of life, a factor that brings us many people badly in need of hospitalization who formerly fought illness while trying to keep the wolf from the door."

Bellevue Hospital, which Miss Yerkes says was established in 1795, now is an institution of 3000 beds and additions are being made.

WIFE LOSES COURT FIGHT ON DIVORCE

Appeals Tribunal Rules Danielson's Decree on Desertion to be Valid

Bearing out the dictum that the home of the wife shall be where the husband makes it, the District Court of Appeals yesterday affirmed the judgment of Superior Judge Guerin in a divorce action brought by Carrie Danielson, against Charles B. Danielson, wealthy Los Angeles and Bakersfield oil operator.

Although Mrs. Danielson brought the original action, a decree was granted the husband on the ground of desertion. The wife appealed to the higher court, declaring there was insufficient evidence to sustain the judgment.

Justice Hollzer, in his opinion upholding the lower court, sets forth that for some time Danielson's business kept him in Bakersfield, while his wife maintained a home in Los Angeles. Finally Danielson requested his wife to move to Bakersfield and she refused to comply, preferring to remain in Los Angeles.

The wife, Justice Hollzer held, drove her husband away. "The evidence leaves little if any doubt that his wife had thrown off everything like allegiance and duty to her husband," the opinion concludes. Justices Conrey and Houser concurred.

Speed Sought in Psychopahic Case Handling

Councilman Ingram yesterday sought the elimination of the commotion and noise occasioned in the vicinity of the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital by psychopathic patients by the introduction of a resolution asking that the proper authorities be petitioned to establish a continuous court to take care of these cases.

He stated that at present the patients must be confined in the hospital pending the opening of court, and sometimes this means several days over week-ends and holidays. There was considerable discussion as to the proper body to petition, Council finally referring the matter to the City Attorney and the Health and Sanitation Committee.

HOMELESS MAN FALLS DEAD

Wandering in search of a home last night, J. P. Allen, 65 years of age, who had just moved out of 538 Wall street, died unexpectedly on the sidewalk at Fifth and San Julian streets. In his coat was found a note reminding him that he owed three weeks' rent and demanding his room. He was carrying a bundle of clothes when he collapsed after a heart attack. A letter in his possession indicated that Allen had lived in Tustin.

FLOOD-PERILED AREA INSPECTED

City and County Chiefs See Ballona Creek Basin

Danger Near Culver City in Rain Season Shown

Early Session to be Held for Going Into Matter

Danger of floods along Ballona Creek was pointed out to city and county officials by flood-control engineers during an inspection trip to the lowlands in and near Culver City yesterday.

The dangerous area, it is said, extends from a point near the old Pacific Electric power house at Vineyard, where one unit of the Arroyo de la Sacatela storm drain empties into the dredged channel of Ballona Creek, to the tide lands, near Playa Del Rey, ten miles away. At other points along the creek, two other concrete storm drains debouch, all three being capable of discharging a total of 26,000 second feet of water into the small channel.

Recent completions of concrete conduits of the storm drain have accelerated greatly the calculated speed of the runoff, and the rapid extension of the city into the 135-mile basin served by the Sacatela drain, has increased greatly the surface of roofs and pavements, which shed rain water instantly, giving it no chance to soak into the ground.

City Engineer Shaw and Assistant City Engineer Tuttle pointed out that a heavy rainfall in Hollywood and the western section of the city undoubtedly will inundate the lowlands near the outlets of the big drains.

Supervisors McClellan, Wright and Shaw, Flood Control Counsel Dowds, and Assistant Flood Control Engineer Hedger were the county officials with the party. Members of the Board of Public Works represented the city.

A meeting at the rooms of the County Board of Supervisors to consider flood-control plans for the threatened area will be arranged at an early date, it was announced.

AGITATOR SUSPECTS ARRESTED

Accused of Fomenting Mutiny on Two Japanese Battleships en Route Here

Distribution of Russian "Communistic" literature printed in the Japanese language among residents of the local Japanese colony resulted in the arrest of Yogi Yoneda and Horiuchi-Tetsuji, asserted agitators, last night. The arrests were made by Detective Lieutenant Hynes and his "Red squad" following complaints from both Japanese and Chinese residents that attempts were being made to cause friction between the two nationalities.

The two Japanese were charged with illegal distribution of handbills, and were taken into custody after Lieut. Hynes had conferred with City Prosecutor Nix and a translator determined that the handbills contained anarchistic teachings. They were being distributed on East First, Los Angeles and Weller streets.

According to Lieut. Hynes numerous complaints have been made to the police department concerning the distribution of asserted Red literature among the orientals. The City Prosecutor's office obtained translation of the asserted Red handbill.

The handbills seized in last night's raid were directed to "friends of men who man Japanese battleships." It stated that on August 23 two Japanese battleships were due to arrive in Los Angeles Harbor, and urged that "an effort be made to have the crews mutiny."

The trend of the statements contained in the circular urged a "revolt" against efforts to align Japan against Russia in the Japan-Russian controversy in the Far East.

BAY CITY AND BACK IN DAY NEW AIR TRIP

The first one-day round trip between Los Angeles and San Francisco on the service recently established by Western Air Express was made yesterday by George Whiting and Edwin Weber, New York song writers. They recently came west on the W. A. E. air-mail system from New York to gain inspiration for a new aviation song. They left here at 8:50 a.m., arriving in San Francisco three hours later. Departing from the north at 5:10 p.m. they reach the Valley Boulevard airport at 8:10, giving them an hour's night flying.

NEW SPAN PROVES OF AID TO TRAFFIC

How the Grade Separation Project Looks

Automobile detours around the Myra-avenue and Sunset Boulevard grade separation have been abandoned and an estimated 100,000 automobiles a day are passing over the graceful new $160,000 boulevard and electric track arch.

Work will start at once on hooking up Myra avenue with Santa Monica Boulevard on the south and Myperion avenue on the north, a street connection which is expected to relieve much of the rush-hour traffic congestion at the intersection of Sunset and Santa Monica boulevards.

The new bridge is constructed of reinforced concrete with a clear span of eighty-five feet. It is 100 feet wide and was built by DeWaard & Sons, contractors.

Financing of the span was carried out jointly by the city and the Pacific Electric Railway. The city is reported to have stood 80 per cent of the cost and the railway 20 per cent.

While the new bridge was under construction rail traffic over Myra street was continued over temporary trestles, while automobiles were detoured on both sides of the construction work.

Shortly after the contractors sank their first piling for the arch it was found that ordinary piling would not suffice if the bridge was to have its foundation on bedrock. Operations were held up for a short time while an additional $30,000 was provided by the city and the Pacific Electric for special Raymond concrete piling.

BILLBOARD FIGHT UP TO OFFICIALS

Service Obtained in Order Sought by Two Nortons; "Shake-down" Quiz Ends

Mayor Porter, the Board of Public Works, Chief Davis and City Prosecutor Nix accepted service yesterday in the injunction suit filed against them by Walter and Thomas J. Norton, who seek to restrain these officials from further enforcement of the billboard ordinance. The matter was turned over to the City Attorney.

At the same time, the board stated that the complaints of a "shake-down" lodged by the Nortons against two billboard inspectors, H. W. Anderson and F. W. Chatham, have been investigated and found to be unsubstantiated. This statement was issued:

"This board conducted a thorough and impartial investigation of the charges of the Nortons and failed to find any evidence to substantiate the same and the board hereby exonerates the inspectors."

On the 1st inst. a report was made to the board that there had been no evidence of an effort to remove the disputed billboard, whereupon the board referred the matter to Nix for "vigorous prosecution."

Suit Over Arrest Charges Malice

Charging malicious prosecution, James A. Spates, proprietor of the Corporation Analytical Bureau, a collection agency, yesterday filed suit in Superior Court for $202,000 damages against Alexander Hursh, real estate operator, H. W. Bowers and others.

Spates asserts he was arrested at the instance of the defendants on a charge of conducting a detective agency without a license. According to his complaint, he was booked, finger-printed and held in jail for several hours, later being acquitted of the charge.

"Refueling" of Infant's Lungs Still Goes on

SANTA MONICA, July 30.—A "refueling" contest with a baby's life for the stake continued to break all records today when the Santa Monica Fire Department's inhalator crew went into its 237th hour at midnight last night. The fuel is air for the lungs of tiny Marie Valle, Mexican laborer's daughter, less than one month of age.

The doctor's report today was that the outlook is hopeful. The firemen, working in shifts with the "mechanical lungs" which breathe for the child, are confident they will win against the stalking death which almost snatched Marie from their hands last week, when she suffered a brief relapse.

Trained nurses are at the humble shack aiding the firemen, and an entire city has thrown its interest into the dramatic battle.

Dr. Higashi Held in Weapon Case

"Dr." Kimi Higashi, asserted diploma-mill head, was ordered held for trial by Superior Court on charges of possession of a revolver by an ex-convict yesterday by Municipal Judge Ballard. On motion of S. S. Hahn, defense attorney, Judge Ballard reduced Higashi's bail from $10,000 to $5000.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Burgess called only two witnesses to the stand. Detective Phillips testified that he found a small revolver in Higashi's possession when he was arrested and Detective Chitwood proved that the man was sentenced by Federal Court here to serve a two-and-one-half-year term at Leavenworth for violation of the Harrison Narcotic Act June 21, 1926.

Chief Davis Declares Aid of Courts to Be Needed

Chief of Police Davis yesterday was directed by the Police Commission to make an investigation and report toward permanently stopping the practice of solicitors of all kinds using the sidewalks and doorways on Hill and other streets for realty bus rides, selling peanuts, prunes and other articles. Wholesale arrests are contemplated. The action was taken on complaint of the Greater Hill Street Improvement Association, represented by President C. C. Tatum and Secretary Frederick Drowns.

Drowns stated that the use of sidewalks and doorways for such purposes is wholly illegal under the city ordinances and that the practice has grown until it is "unholy and intolerable."

JAIL SENTENCES URGED

He said that the last time arrests for such violations were made, all cases except one were sustained by the courts, but that appeals were taken and now are before the Supreme Court. He urged that judges be asked to co-operate by giving jail sentences to those convicted of repeated violations.

Tatum said that if the practice were general in all the downtown district, it would be different, but that he objects to Hill street, especially between Fourth and Sixth streets, being used as a "dumping ground" for solicitors not allowed elsewhere. The association is trying to bring Hill street back to an important street, but cannot be done under present conditions, he said. He asserted women have refused to use the east side of the street because they are pestered so much by solicitors.

BUSSES ASSAILED

He asserted that the operation of realty busses is the worst menace because solicitors try to shove tickets into the hands of pedestrians. Ninety per cent of those buying property in this manner, he said, do not know what to do with it when they get it, and deposits of jewelry and other articles are being accepted as down payments. The Los Angeles Realty Board has been fighting the situation for twenty years, according to Tatum. He pointed out that no such conditions exist on Broadway.

The practice not only causes pedestrian and traffic congestion, he said, but the city is being held up to ridicule in editorials of eastern newspapers for allowing it.

Chief Davis said enforcement of the ordinance will be a simple matter if the courts will co-operate. Commissioners Pierce, Gollum and Thorpe favor enforcement of the ordinance.

COUPLE HELD FOR PASSING BAD CHECKS

Print Shop Owner and Girl Accused of Many Frauds on Stores

Asserted promoters of what police call an endless-chain method of distributing worthless checks, Salvadore F. Becerra, 21 years of age, proprietor of a Spanish print shop at 111 Market street, and Miss Agnes Chavira, 21, of 537 South Mott street, were taken into custody yesterday by Detective-Lieutenants Crowley and White. Both were booked for passing checks without sufficient funds in the bank.

In their asserted operations the pair, according to the detectives, have distributed to numerous department stores, florists and other shops, more than 200 checks. Becerra, they said, would make out a series of pay checks in favor of the girl as an employee and she would cash them at the stores, purchasing at the time small amounts of merchandise. The surplus money was given to the printer.

Later when the checks would return marked "insufficient funds," Becerra would give the girl another series of pay checks and with the proceeds the first checks would be made good. In this way he was able for months to stave off apprehension, Crowley said. Several of the checks turning up repeatedly in the accounts of one department store aroused suspicion.

Y-GUN FOR DISCHARGING DEPTH BOMBS

DURING THE SUMMER AND FALL OF 1917 THE UNITED STATES NAVY CARRIED ON A VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE GERMAN U-BOATS. AFTER THE ADOPTION OF THE CONVOY SYSTEM THE NUMBER OF AMERICAN DESTROYERS IN EUROPEAN WATERS WAS INCREASED.

THE DESTROYER'S CHIEF WEAPON FOR FIGHTING A SUBMERGED SUBMARINE WAS THE DEADLY DEPTH-BOMB, KNOWN IN THE NAVY AS THE "ASH CAN." LOADED WITH TNT, THE BOMB WAS EQUIPPED WITH A FIRING DEVICE THAT WAS CONTROLLED BY PRESSURE OF THE WATER WHEN THE BOMB HAD SUNK TO ANY REQUIRED DEPTH.

EACH DESTROYER CARRIED MANY DEPTH-BOMBS, AND HAVING SO MUCH HIGH EXPLOSIVE ABOARD WAS A TERRIBLE HAZARD, PARTICULARLY IN ROUGH WEATHER. DEPTH-BOMBS WERE EITHER DROPPED OFF THE STERN OF THE SPEEDING DESTROYER OR FIRED OVER THE SIDE FROM "Y-GUNS."

WHEN THE APPROXIMATE LOCATION OF A SUBMERGED U-BOAT WAS DETERMINED, THE RACING DESTROYERS CIRCLED THE SPOT, DROPPING DEPTH-BOMBS, EACH OF WHICH WOULD DESTROY OR CRIPPLE A "SUB" WITHIN 200 YARDS. GREAT PATCHES OF OIL RISING TO THE SURFACE WAS THE SIGN THAT ONE OF THE BOMBS HAD FOUND ITS MARK.

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

The lovely new church of St. Brendans in South Van Ness avenue at Third street was the charming setting chosen by Miss Orine Marie Souden for her marriage yesterday to Edward Austin Calvert Hammond, Jr., the ceremony taking place at 12 o'clock noon followed by nuptial mass at both of which Rt. Rev. Bishop John J. Cantwell officiated. The high altar and side altars were lovely in their decorations of gold and white blending with the rich dark woods of the edifice and lighted by myriads of tall cathedral candelabra.

During the service Lester Cole sang the Ave Maria and several other selections while Francis Wagner presided at the organ and also played the wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Renaissance gown of ivory satin, fashioned after the Princess model and trimmed with seed pearls.

The veil of tulle was caught into a pearl headdress, high in front away from the face and forming a cap at the back and she carried an arm shower of Easter lilies and lilies of the valley.

Miss Virginia Sevier, maid of honor, wore a frock of green lace, made with tight fitting bodice and long skirt, a hat of maline to match and she carried golden rosebuds and lilies of the valley.

The other attendants were frocked in chiffon gowns fashioned after the same model, Mrs. Cameron Livingston Thom and Miss Virginia Thom in turquoise blue, Miss Marjorie Harriman and Mrs. Samuel Ritter Brown in peach and Miss Edith Syankland and Miss Betty Richardson in the rich fuchsia shades and all wore hats to match and carried armfuls of harmonizing flowers.

Truby J. Lawrence, Jr., came from abroad to serve as best man and the ushers included John B. Brown, Jr., Harvey Hammond, Joe Crall, Jr., Donavan Lawrence, Vernon Sheblak and Teddy Wilson.

A reception and wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar May Souden, 2190 Ponet Drive, Los Feliz Heights immediately followed the ceremony. Here the same decorations scheme of gold and white was carried out effectively with roses, gladioli and dahlias while the bridal table was exquisite with garlands of pansies and gardenias with showers of lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Souden received her guests in an ensemble of lavender chiffon with hat to match and Mrs. Hammond, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue ensemble with hat to match.

After the breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Hammond left in their motor for their wedding trip, destination a secret and after a month wil return to the Souden home until their plans for their future home are settled. Mr. and Mrs. Souden are leaving shortly for an indefinite visit to Hotel Del Coronado.

The bride's going-away gown was a black satin and eggshell ensemble with white fox fur and Soleill hat to match.

Mrs. Hammond was graduated from Marlborough School and was a senior at University of California this last year, being graduated in June, and is a member of Delta Gamma Sorority while young Hammond, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. C. Hammond of Cochran Road, Beverly Hills, claims University of California at Los Angeles as his alma mater and is a member of Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity.

Observe Birthday Anniversary

An attractive affair of recent date was the dinner-dance with which Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Willits of Second avenue entertained the 27th inst., in compliment to their daughter, Miss Vivian Willits, and in observance of her birthday anniversary.

The Sea Breeze Beach Club was chosen as the setting for the affair, dinner being served in the Egyptian Room at a long, beautifully decorated table on which a scheme of orchid, yellow and Nile green was used effectively. Centering the board was a mound of flowers and maidenhair fern, while tall yellow tapers tied with orchid tulle and placed in green candlesticks cast a soft light. Place cards, candy baskets and favors also stressed the pastel motif, which was carried out even to the decoration of a huge birthday cake.

Bidden were Miss Florence Goss, Miss Florence Shreve, Miss Marjorie Master, Miss Carlita Wetherell, Vernon Maxson, Bill Shreve, Clarence Berger, Ted Baker and Fred Richards.

Convalescing

Carelessness of Attorneys Arouses Judge

Carelessness on the part of attorneys in preparing briefs to back up their appeals from lower-court decisions will result in the appeals receiving scant consideration in Division One of the District Court of Appeals, it was indicated yesterday by Judge Harry Hollzer, justice pro tem in that court, in an opinion handed down in the case of the Southern Land Corporation versus J. Irving McKennt et al., defendants and appellants. The appeal sought a reversal of judgment rendered by Superior Judge Collier in an action to quiet title.

"It is difficult to ascertain on what grounds the reversal is sought. Appellant's brief is a mixture of rambling and more or less disconnected narrative and discussion. No particular finding of fact is attacked. No points of law respecting which it is claimed the trial court erred are presented under separate headings or any headings. In short, appellants have failed to comply with rule eight of this court requiring that a brief must present each point separately under an appropriate heading, showing the nature of the question to be presented."

This is the language employed by Justice Hollzer in the opening remarks of the decision. After reviewing the case, the court affirmed the judgment of the lower court.

The opinion was concurred in by Justices Conrey and Houser.

GUIDING YOUR CHILD

"NATURE WALK"

By Mrs. Agnes Lyne

The very name "nature walk" was enough to make any one of the children in camp look bored and disdainful. With the most beautiful countryside at their feet it seemed too bad that they elected to walk through it deaf and blind.

Then one day Tom received a present from home—a magnificent hunting knife that hung from his belt in a leather sheath. Eager for a chance to use it, he went into the woods to cut stakes for a game of quoits. He came back with a stick of black cherry, which he began to sharpen and strip of its bark. Suddenly the beauty of the dark, satiny bark caught his eye.

"Hey, what sort of wood is this?" he asked.

"I don't know for sure," I lied cheerfully. "But there's a tree guide on the shelf. You can find out if you look in it."

He looked. "Black cherry; that's what it is," he announced and went on looking through the tree book.

That afternoon with his knife swinging on his hip he disappeared into the woods. Before supper he returned, bringing treasures galore. He had cut pieces of a dozen different kinds of bark with that beautiful new knife, and he had remembered to bring the leaf and fruit or blossom of each kind. Carefully he laid them out upon the table, identifying them with the help of his book, selecting, comparing untll he was sure of them all.

Although he doesn't know it, Tom has gone on a first-rate nature walk. True, his interest sprang not from a "love of nature," but, as it happened, from joy in the use of a new knife. His enthusiasm is authentic; he found it for himself.

It may die out in a day or two or it may become a source of ever-growing satisfaction. He will be given every opportunity to develop it, but he will not be crushed with information nor urged to make a formal collection which would satisfy the adult mind. He will, I trust, never discover that he goes on "nature walks."

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him care of the Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

CONTROLLING FEVERS

The normal temperature of the human body is about 98.6 deg. It matters not whether it is a hot summer's day or a cold winter's evening. A very few people seem to have a normal temperature of 1 deg. above or below this temperature. The temperature rises normally soon after a heavy meal or in the afternoon. It becomes lower at night. Stimulants, such as coffee and tea, cause a slight rise, and cold food and ice water a slight lowering.

When the temperature of a fever goes over 102.5 deg. it becomes destructive to the body's tissues and should not be allowed to remain there for very long. When it goes about 105 deg. the condition is very grave. The lowest temperature occurs with freezing. It is said that the human body cannot recover if its temperature becomes lower than 74.5 deg. The temperature rarely goes as high as 110 deg. except in tetanus and in sunstroke, and recovery is not likely.

The treatment for all acute fevers is very simple if begun at the first indication, whether the disease be measles, influenza, simple fever, chickenpox, German measles, tonsillitis, etc. The first thing to do is to stop all rich food. A fever is an indication that the body has a surplus of heating foods already. If the patient has just eaten a heavy meal, it is sometimes advisable to given an emetic and empty out the stomach so that the intestines will not be burdened, as they do not digest food readily during a fever.

The next thing to do is to thoroughly cleanse the lower bowels with several enemas if necessary. This is very important in any kind of a fever because the bowels are being filled with toxic wastes which if not removed promptly may lead to serious poisoning complications.

After this the patient should go to bed without too many covers in a well-ventilated room. Patients recover from fevers in a much shorter time if they receive plenty of fresh air. There is not the danger of catching cold during a fever by exposure to fresh air as some suppose. The room should be kept quiet and free from visitors. The patient may be given large quantities of water, but no food during the first day or so. After this, strained orange, grapefruit or tomato juice may be allowed, but no solid food. The practice of giving eggs and milk and toast has undoubtedly contributed to the deaths of many fever patients.

If the temperature is about 102.5 deg. short cool shower or sponge baths, especially of the spine and abdomen, should be used at intervals of one or two hours until the temperature has been restored to below this point. If the temperature has not risen above this, the cold ablutions can be omitted unless occasionally for the relief of the patient. Do not attempt to entirely stop the temperature, or serious consequences may result. Merely keep it within reasonable bounds. As soon as the toxins have burned up or eliminated, the temperature will become normal by itself, even though several days are required for this process.

I cannot recommend medicines to lower the temperature, as they usually lower the vitality as well. Gold spongings are safer. If the patient experiences chills, it is a good plan to use artificial warmth, packing hot water bottles around the body and allowing only flannel bed clothing to touch the skin until the perspiration becomes copious. The more you perspire the quicker your fever will disappear as the poisons are thrown off through the eliminative organs. This treatment will prove effective in all cases of simple fevers, as you will find that it may often prevent a more serious turn to the disorder.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Effects from Constipation

Question: Mrs. R. B. writes: "I am a married woman 35 years of age. The symptoms are terrible headaches, pain all down my left side, especially below the heart, also in left arm. In the morning on arising I feel as if I had passed through a bad illness—so weak and tired I would like to stay in bed all day. Of late am troubled with constipation, for the first time in my life, with a slight attack of itching piles."

Answer: The pains in your left arm and side probably come from gas pressure against your heart. This would make you feel tired in the morning. Try a course of enemas for a month, using two enemas daily. In the meantime, correct your diet so that it is not gas-forming, and after the month's treatment with internal bathing I am sure your constipation will be overcome and the itching piles will disappear.

Spinach

Q.: R. H. asks: "May one eat spinach without first cooking it? I was told that the oxalic acid in it makes it injurious. It is delicious to eat as we do lettuce."

A.: The amount of oxalic acid spinach contains could not be considered injurious to the average person. It is one of the richest in iron of the leafy vegetables, and those who have a deficiency of hemoglobin or red corpuscles in the blood should use a plentiful supply in the raw form.

Mental Unrest

Q.: B. G. H. writes: "Though I have no ache nor pain—am in good health—I cannot control the mind, and am afraid it will lead to something serious. Try to 'throw it off' but can only do so for a short time, and am much worried."

A.: You require the advice of a good psychoanalyst. Until you find one, try to get interested in constructive thinking and concentrate your mind on something which will be helpful to others.

BULLOCK'S READY FOR ONLY SALE

Annual August Event Has Added Meaning This Year Due to Enlarged Store

BY OLIVE GRAY

The name given to Bullock's August sale, "The One Sale of the Year," is fraught with much deep meaning.

This store, which is in no sense a "sale" store, concentrates upon the August sale, and for this auspicious occasion all sections put forth utmost efforts. During many months in advance of the event, buyers are searching markets, consulting manufacturers and arranging for purchase of new stocks, with a view to presenting such opportunities, in price and value, as few organizations are capable of giving.

Since the earliest year of its existence, Bullock's has emphasized this one sale, in a manner to make it memorable in the history of merchandising. Discerning women save their shopping money for weeks, sometimes for months, in order to take advantage of this sale, and at the opening hour on the first day of the sale crowds wait for the doors to open, and a rush is made to counters where the desired merchandise is to be found.

During the year, since the last sale, Bullock's new building has been completed and many new sections have thereby been added, other sections enlarged, and the sale opening tomorrow bids fair, on this account, to excel all others.

The new building, at Hill and Seventh street, has been utilized for installation of an extensive jewelry department, wherein are to be found real gems, fine watches, and hand bags which well may be classed as gems of their kind.

The floor below the jewelery section houses the university section, wherein are found all sports attire, clothing and accessories suitable to younger men.

Floors above the main store on Hill street are put to use in enlarged sections for bedding and towels, for furniture and for the inexpensive dress department.

The enlarged gift section, together with commodious rest rooms and lounges, are the mecca of shoppers; this section particularly stressing oriental art wares.

Not only has the merchandise for the one sale of the year been chosen with especial reference to novelty and quality and lowered prices, but preparations have been made to enhance equally all facilities for serving the clientage which long has shown high appreciation of this house and its especial opportunities. Service, always the watchword of Bullock's, will again be emphasized, during this sale, in which every section throughout the store will participate.

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb-suckling, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

TWO INTERESTING LETTERS FROM MOTHERS

Mrs. C. C. D. writes: "May I offer a tiny suggestion? Before I had a baby of my own I used to watch a friend of mine bathe her baby. During the course of the event there was the nose-cleaning ordeal and it was an ordeal, accompanied by shrieks and yells. But no wonder. She held his head in a terrible grip and prodded his poor snooty with a piece of dry cotton. Now Watson tells us that he has discovered the elementary emotion of anger present in the new-born baby. And this was discovered by holding the baby's head gently but firmly so it couldn't be moved. And forthwith we have the yelling. I would do the same myself.

"I never hold my baby's head—however, I keep my left hand very close in case of any small move on her part, and I use an applicator dipped in olive oil. This prevents its being ticklish and fuzzy, and softens the deposits there. The baby has never had a sign of a cold and I believe this due at least in part to her clean nose."

CHILD SHOULD UNDERSTAND PARENTS LOVE EACH OTHER

Mrs. A. B. writes: "Much as I hate to sound boastful I have two children and no problem at all. The not-quite 4-year-old eats and sleeps as she should, taking it all for granted. The 7-months-old takes his five daily bottles, his orange juice, sieved vegetables, two cereal feedings and laughs every minute he is awake.

"Daddy, the babies and I all love each other equally. The little girl was taught from the first that the baby was 'her' brother and not just mother's new baby. Her daddy was so patient with her, and so were all the family, that she never dreamed of feeling pushed out of the way. When we praise the baby we usually mention something about her at that age, or some good trait she now has and she has always loved the little fellow.

"When daddy embraces me she puts up her arms, too, and that is that. It aggravates me to have people say: 'Oh, you are lucky.' I have never lost sleep with them but I have worked hard to train them rightly. A friend of mine tells her little boy a bogie man will come and get him. He cries a lot in his sleep. Isn't there a connection?

"My 4-year-old weighed six and one-quarter pounds at birth and forty-four now. Isn't that good? She dresses herself since her third year and almost bathes herself. Don't you think it important that children know their parents love each other as well as them?"

ANSWER

The weight is good, the development excellent and your methods sound ones which always bring admirable results. A mother is very blind who cannot see a connection between threats and night terrors. Threats are meant to frighten children, so why should one be surprised when they do? Your friend is using a dangerous weapon to get obedience.

Children have a blessed sense of security gained from the knowledge that their parents love each other. This is the foundation stone of their future marital happiness for they will expect then that marriage will be built on love.

Drops Evenly

Sometimes a recipe will call for a certain number of drops of peppermint, or some other essence. So that the essence will drop evenly from the bottle, wet the finger with a little water and dampen the rim of the bottle in just one place. The essence will drop quite easily from this dampened spot.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Get One Immediately

A spatula is unexcelled for removing muffins and cakes from gem pans. One turn around the bun and it just seems to fly out. If you have no spatula, by all means buy one, as you will be repaid many times.

Household Brevities

Old pieces of velvet are fine furniture polishers.

There is no economy in second-class canned goods.

Vinegar and salt will remove tea-stains from china cups.

Moistened baking soda will take the fire out of an insect bite or burn.

A cloth dipped in turpentine will clean the tiled hearth most beautifully.

Silk handkerchiefs must be washed as carefully as any other silk or they will turn yellow.

How It's Done

Before putting away patent leather shoes, dust them and rub a little oil into them.

Adhesive tape comes in very handy to mend imperfections in baby's stork pants, if done before the tear becomes too long.

Good Quality

If you like to use a brush for buttering pans or muffin tins, buy a good brush with short bristles. Such brushes should be boiled after each using and a cheap brush could not stand such severe cleaning without shedding its bristles.

In the Colander

The best way to clean vegetables and berries, is to put them into a colander and then run water over them. All the sand and soil goes through the holes leaving your cleaned vegetable or fruit in the colander.

A Necessary Rug

A rug should always be placed alongside of the bathtub, just for safety's sake, if not for comfort. It is dangerous to step out of the tub onto a tiled floor with wet, and perhaps soapy feet.

In Place of String

Narrow rubber bands are nice to hold the papers on the top of jelly tumblers instead of string. They are much more easily adjusted and, when doubled, fit quite as tightly.

Less Laundering

A piece of clean newspaper placed each day on the warming shelf of the gas range will eliminate that mark on your table linen caused by the bottoms of your heated dishes.

PAJAMAS LISTED IN FASHION SHOW

Adrienne Markova

Hollywood, it was learned yesterday, expects to make an irrefutable claim to being the style center of the world the 9th inst. when a score of film colony beauties will display the season's advanced modes before American and European vacationists in a swanky fashion show at Agua Caliente. The modes will be representative not only of the style trend in Hollywood at present, but of the fashions that will prevail next fall and winter, according to Kathryne Campbell, style-show entrepreneur, who is supervising the event.

Among the striking creations to be unveiled, as it were, for the first time will be an ensemble of chartreuse green pajamas, hand-blocked in darker shades of green and trimmed in green ostrich feathers. This bizarre effect will be modelled by Adrienne Markova of the Theater Mart Community Playhouse.

Others who will participate in the colorful preview include Mrs. Don Alvarado, Hope Dare, Bula Christian, Marcella Arnold, Estelle Etterre, Gloria Stratton, Gloria Gray, Charlene O'Davern, Nita Pike and Caroline Carroll.

SHAW EXPLAINS INSANITY CLINIC

"Out-Patient" System Said to Mean Large Saving

Chances for Recovery Also Held to be Better

Stigma of Commitment to Asylum Avoided

Los Angeles county can save $200,000 a year by adopting the "out-patient" method of caring for slightly insane patients, and thereby preventing commitment of many persons to asylums, it was pointed out by Supervisor Shaw, who explained his psychopathic clinic plans yesterday.

A psychopathic clinic has been established at the General Hospital, but its effectiveness depends on committing the patient to the charge of the hospital staff, usually with institutional residence, and it is this expensive feature of the treatment that Supervisor Shaw desires to eliminate by the new clinic.

DISGRACE FEARED

"At present there are no outpatient facilities for insane patients, as there are for other classes of ailments," said Supervisor Shaw. "Only by submitting to arrest and by being placed in custody of the Lunacy Commission can a person get treatment for mental derangements. This involves a disgrace that many are unwilling to suffer and so they remain in their home environment where the causes that aggravate their unfortunate condition continue to be effective.

"The only humane way to treat those who are in danger of becoming raving maniacs is to observe them in their natural surroundings where the underlying roots of their trouble exist, and where the observing physician has a chance to make an adjustment, sometimes a slight one, and invoke preventive measures, which are sometimes a complete cure.

EXPENSE ELIMINATED

"As far as the county's finances are concerned, such treatment is far better, as out-patient treatment eliminates all the expense of room, board and guards. The economic benefit to the community also is considerable, as in most instances the patient can continue to work as would be possible if a patient were receiving office treatment from a physician."

Arrangements for the reception of patients at the hospital and other details connected with the clinic will be made later after a conference with Supervisor Shaw and hospital officials, it was announced.

W.C.T.U. TO HEAR ADDRESS

The Los Angeles W.C.T.U. will meet tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the First Methodist Church, Eighth and Hope streets. Besides having a parliamentary drill conducted by Mrs. Allie Simmons Wheeler, an address will be given by Mrs. Gertrude Maynard, president of the Business and Professional Women's Club. The speaker has just returned from the national convention of the organization which she represents.

STRANDED AUTOIST KILLED

Fatally injured last night while walking in search of a gas station, Joseph Pryer, 36 years of age, colored, of 1407 East Twenty-second street, Los Angeles, died in the Compton Health Center.

Deputy Sheriffs Marston and Lyle reported that Pryer was walking on Long Beach Boulevard a mile below Compton, where his car had run out of gas, when he was struck by an automobile driven by V. Smith of 1603 Sixty-ninth street, North Long Beach. Smith was held for questioning by Long Beach police. Pryer's body was sent to the Moreland mortuary, Compton.

Oil Man Sued for Heart Balm

Daniel Dunlap, reputed wealthy Long Beach oil man, yesterday was named defendant in a suit for $100,000 damages filed in Superior Court by Ann Elizabeth Bell, who charges Dunlap with breach of promise to marry.

According to Miss Bell, she and Dunlap first became engaged several years ago in Fort Worth, Tex., and Dunlap renewed his asserted promise of marriage on several occasions since. Last Janury, she declares, Dunlap changed his mind and refused to marry her.

Attorney George A. Glover prepared the complaint.

WIFE RESENTS HAVING LIGHTS TURNED OUT

Testimony given by Mrs. Alma Seydel before Superior Judge Bishop to the effect that her husband, Henry Seydel, refused to pay her dentist bill and turned off the lights in their home every evening at 9 o'clock so she could not entertain her friends, won her a divorce yesterday. Mrs. Seydel, represented by Attorney S. S. Hahn, also asserted that her husband never took her to places of amusement.

MAGRUDER AGAIN PUTS OUT TO SEA

Rear-Admiral Leaves to Take Over Command of Fleet Base Force

After being on inactive status since November, 1927, Rear-Admiral Thomas P. Magruder sailed from the local port yesterday afternoon on the liner Yale for San Francisco to hoist his flag on the U.S.S. Procyon tomorrow morning at the Mare Island Navy Yard as new commander of the United States Fleet Base Force.

He relieves Rear-Admiral S. E. W. Kittelle, recently named president of the naval board of inspection and survey at Washington.

"It makes me feel like a new man to get back to blue water again," said Admiral Magruder as the Yale put to sea. "Forty-four years ago, on the sloop of war Iroquois, the first land fall I made was Point Fermin. I'll feel at home under its lee.

Admiral Magruder's headquarters will be at San Pedro, the Procyon, his flagship, being at the navy yard temporarily for annual overhaul.

PROTESTS ON AVENUE WIDENING DENIED

The Council yesterday denied all protests against the widening of Western avenue between Twenty-fourth street and Santa Barbara avenue.

SOUL-AURA OUT OF TUNE BRINGS MUNDANE DISCORD

Signs of the zodiac meant much to Alexander S. Service, whose soul-aura had a different color from that of his wife, Mrs. Dorothea W. Service, it appeared from her divorce complaint on file yesterday.

Service was a member of a weird cult, his wife asserted, and insisted on reading to her strange treatises of soul-migration and other recondite metaphysical subjects. Indeed, he finally associated himself with a soul mate, she said, a woman who was well acquainted with the lore of astral planes and ectoplasma, and who knew what to do when an ear trumpet would, figuratively speaking, leap from repose and begin shouting in unknown tongues.

The errant husband, Mrs. Service said, admitted his wife was good at sewing and the washing machine, but he felt that his consort should know something about what was going on in the fourth dimension. So he loaded up his flivver, drew out the joint bank account, gave his wife $10 and eloped, it is asserted.

"You will never know anything or amount to anything until you realize the possibilities of transmigration," were the last words of Service, who is a stage carpenter, according to the petition.

Among the reputed idiosyncrasies of the defendant, who, Mrs. Service says, tried to force his beliefs on her, were peculiar dietary habits. He eschewed meat, abstained from eating white bread, shunned tea and never drank coffee. He lived in a one-room house without a bath, and when Mrs. Service objected he told her to leave, she declares.

Film Schools Man Arraigned

U. M. Dailey, asserted head of several Hollywood "film schools," was arraigned before Municipal Judge Ambrose yesterday on a charge of petty theft in connection with the operation of the United Talking Picture Company, 1420 North Beechwood Drive. He pleaded not guilty and asked for jury trial, which Judge Ambrose set for August 27, next, ordering him released on $200 bail.

The complaint against Dailey was sworn out by D. F. Cheray of 411-C Main street, Compton, who declared he paid $150 on representation that Dailey would make him a film star.

WARRANTS ISSUED FOR UNLICENSED PEDDLERS

Fruit and vegetable peddlers must obtain a license from the city to sell their wares, City Prosecutor Nix warned yesterday in issuing complaints against twelve hucksters who assertedly failed to pay the city $25 for their yearly permits. Warrants for the arrest of twelve men were issued by Municipal Judge Ambrose. Those named in the complaints filed yesterday are Paul Valensuela, Joe Daleo, C. P. Pelligrini, A. J. Sobelman, Antonio Perrazzo, William McCree, Frank Massetti, Stephen Bonjno, M. J. Grieco, Joe Groffio, J. E. Hawkins and Paul Montija.

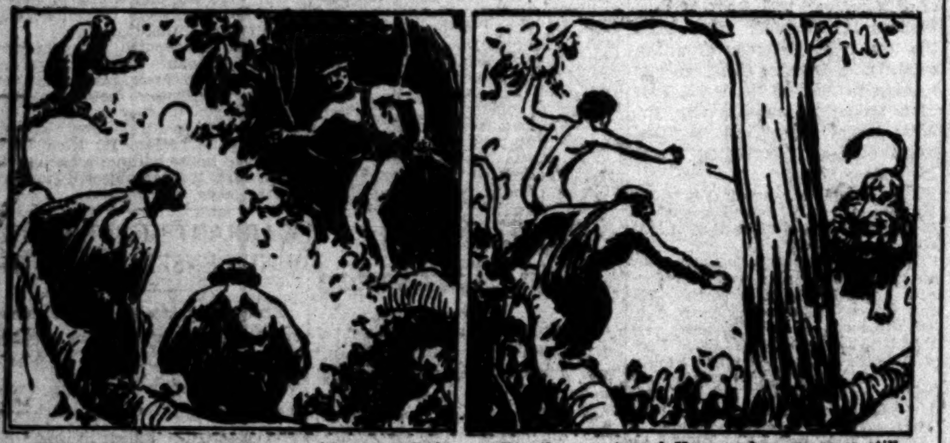
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

THE RETURN OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



With a barking guttural, the female ape called the attention of the others to the intruder. Several huge bulls stood erect to get a better view. With deep-throated ominous growls, bared fangs, and bristling necks, they advanced slowly upon Tarzan. "Karnath, I am Tarzan of the Apes," said the ape-man in the vernacular of the tribe. "Do you not know me?

"Together we teased Numa, when we were still little apes." The brute he addressed stopped with a look of dull wonderment. "And Major," continued Tarzan, "do you not recall your former king, he who slew the mighty Kerchak? Look at me! Am I not the same Tarzan—mighty hunter—invincible fighter—that you all knew for many seasons?"

The apes crowded forward in curiosity, muttering among themselves. "What do you want among us now?" asked Karnath. "Only peace," answered the ape-man. Again the apes conferred. At length Karnath spoke: "Come in peace, then, Tarzan of the Apes," he said. And so Tarzan dropped lightly to the turf into the midst of the fierce and hideous horde.

There were no greetings such as would have taken place among men after an absence of two years. The apes went on about their activities. They paid no more attention to Tarzan than as though he had not been gone from the tribe at all. For several days the she-apes, with young, remained suspicious, but soon even they became accustomed to him.

NEW GOLF SCHEDULE FAVORS AGUA CALIENTE OPEN

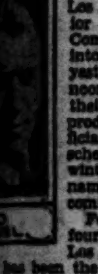
Los Angeles Event Awarded Second Best Position

"Pros" to Shoot at Purses Aggregating $89,900

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Capitulating with pleasing magnanimity to the first squawk emanating from the Agua Caliente Golf and Country Club, high officials of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce went into a huddle yesterday afternoon, changed their minds, and produced an "official," revamped schedule of midwinter golf tournaments for the coming season.



LEO DIEGEL

For the past four years, the Los Angeles $10,000 open has been the culminating event of the program, but the place of honor at the close of the 1929-30 season, which heretofore has been jealously guarded by the Junior Chamber, was awarded to the $25,000 Agua Caliente open, and that tournament will wind up a brilliant series of tournaments on the 14th, 15th, 16th and 17th of January. Second best dates go to the Los Angeles open, which will precede the Agua Caliente championship by a week, being scheduled for January 8, 10, 11 and 12.

Manager-Secretary Clifford [illegible], President Kennedy [illegible], and Vice-President [illegible], who outlined the new schedule yesterday, also announced an accompanying program of unprecedented magnitude. Topped by the world's richest golf tournament, the Agua Caliente $25,000 open, the Los Angeles $10,000 open, and the National Professional Golfers' Association championship

Sluggers Unable to Get to Seraph Star

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30.—Merton Nelson was the wild man of Borneo today and he was a great help to Los Angeles in beating the Missions by a score of 5 to 1 in the opening game of the series. Nelson walked twelve of the Angels and let loose a wild pitch.

AUGIE WALSH

Had it not been for a home run by Fuzzy Hufft in the second the Missions would have been blanked. They got only five hits during the engagement and Hufft got three of them. He hurt his ankle sliding into second in the eighth inning and Pete Scott finished the game in left field.

Augie Walsh also was a bit wild, for he walked five and hit Ike Boone with a pitched ball, but with men on bases, the Missions could not hit, so a host of them were left stranded.

Hufft opened the second inning by belting the ball over the right-field wall. Sherlock followed with a single and Christenson doubled, so it looked as if Walsh was in for a beating. Slade was an easy out, and Hoffman was walked on purpose to fill the bases with one man

Trojan Grids Not Likely to Fly

Although there has been some discussion as to the feasibility of transporting the Trojan football team by air either to Seattle or Chicago for games this fall, Howard Jones, grid mentor, stated last night that it was unlikely that the plan would be followed this year. "If authorities made such arrangements I would not take a stand against them," declared Jones, "but it hardly seems likely that we will adopt such a schedule during the coming season." Gwynn Wilson, graduate manager, has been dickering with the Western Air Express as to the possibility of the Trojans making one or both trips by plane.

SCHMELING BIG HIT AT OLYMPIC

German Heavy Shows Much Class in Exhibitions

Ovation for Dempsey Rocks Jack Doyle's Arena

Druggist Falls Easy Prey to Collegian's Mitts

BY PAUL LOWRY

Eddie Mack, the Denver collegian, dispelled all doubt about his knockout ability when he added Doc Snell, conqueror of such good boys as Jimmy McLarnin and Joey Sangor, to his list in less than three rounds of fighting at the Olympic last night.

MAX SCHMELING

A few weeks ago Mack upset the dope when he stopped Baby Sal, the brown doll of the Mexicans, in five rounds, and last night he was even more demonstrative against Snell.

With the exception of the first round, which Snell won with his customary rushing tactics and wing shots to the head, Mack had the situation well in hand.

He opened up in the second round, made Snell back up and slew him with as pretty a right-hand punch to the face as has been delivered in the Olympic ring or any other for some time. The end came after 1m. 24s. of fighting in the third round.

With these knockout shots to his credit Mack, who came here from Denver heralded only as a college boy who taught boxing at his own school, has waltzed himself right into position for a championship match with Tod Morgan, the junior lightweight king.

DEMPSEY'S DOUBLE

Mack's classy performance took almost equal rank with the four-round exhibition of Max Schmeling, the German Jack Dempsey, who did a couple of two-round turns against Steve Hagan and Ray Ortega, respectively.

The black Uhlan lives up to all reports that he bears a striking resemblance to Dempsey, not only in face and figure, but in ring deportment.

He has the black hair, the beetling eyebrows, the heavy beard and the facial characteristics that were

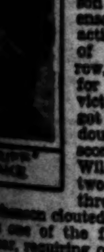
Sheriff Blake Blanks Boston While Pirates Fall Before Mauling Bats of Phillies

CHICAGO, July 30. (AP)—Chicago gained another game in the National League pennant race by blanking Boston, 4 to 0, here today, as Pittsburgh fell before the mauling bats of Philadelphia.

Sheriff Blake held Boston to five hits and was accorded sensational support by his mates, who executed four double plays to get him out of what trouble he encountered.



"SHERIFF" BLAKE

Hornsby, Wilson and Stephenson, the three active members of "murderers' row," accounted for the Cubs' victory. Hornsby got a triple and double and scored twice. Wilson drove in two runs with three singles and Stephenson clouted a home run. It was one of the fastest games of the year, requiring only one hour and twenty-eight minutes. Score:

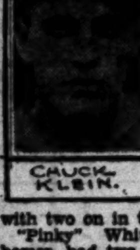
Pirates Bow to Phillies

PITTSBURGH, July 30. (AP)—Six Pittsburgh pitchers failed to hold the hard-hitting Philadelphia Quakers in check today and the Phils annexed a 13-to-5 victory to shatter a losing streak that had beset them on their western invasion.



CHUCK KLEIN.

The Quakers made eighteen hits for a total of twenty-seven bases. Klein, Whitney and Hurst hit home runs. Klein's thirty-second of the season came with two on in the third.

"Pinky" Whitney, besides his homer, had two triples and a double in five trips to the plate. Score:

JOE JACOBS AFTER HUDKINS

Manager of Max Schmeling Willing to Give $50,000 for Contract; Ace and Art Refuse to Consider Offer; German Boxer Leaves Tonight for Sacramento

Joe Jacobs, manager of Max Schmeling, is after another near-champion for his stable. He announced yesterday that he wants Ace Hudkins, and had offered the Wildcat's brothers $50,000 for his contract.

ACE HUDKINS

Jacobs was the promoter of one of the first fights Hudkins had in New York—the one in which the Wildcat knocked out Ruby Goldstein at Jacobs's Coney Island club.

Jacobs has also acted as a second for Hudkins, and was behind him when the Wildcat defeated Rene De Vos in his last Gotham bout. This was the fight which drew the ire of the Gotham solons against Hudkins.

Clyde and Art Hudkins, who hold Ace's contract for ten years, stated last night, however, that Jacobs could have the contract only over their dead bodies. Ace it still bound to his agreement for approximately five years, and it seems to be agreed among them that they will stick it out.

The Hudkins boys have several fights on the fire. Clyde and Art reported that Ace would next be seen in action either against Vincent Forgione in a local ring, or battling Leo Lomski in Detroit. Hudkins is still on the lookout for

JACOBS'S BOXERS LOSE LICENSES IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, July 30. (AP)—Although refusing to discuss its argument with Madison Square Garden Corporation, the New York State Athletic Commission struck another blow in the Schmeling verbal battle today when it revoked the licenses of all boxers in the stable of Joe Jacobs, Schmeling's American manager of choice.

Included in the list of fighters managed by Jacobs are Andy Routis, featherweight champion; Frank Genaro, flyweight championship contender; Tony Caragliano and Eddy (Kid) Wagner, lightweights, and Jack Delaney, light-heavyweight.

The expected fireworks between the commission and Madison Square Garden officials failed to go off, the commission stating that so far as it was concerned there was no change in the status of Max Schmeling and his American managers, Joe Jacobs and Bill McCarney. It refused to discuss the statement made yesterday by Bill Carey, president of the Garden Corporation, saying that the bout between Schmeling and Jack Sharkey would be held outside New York in September.

The commission had previously warned the Garden that any bout between the German heavyweight and the Boston gob before Schmeling had fulfilled his contract to fight Phil Scott for Humbert Fugazy would make it liable to suspension.

The light-heavyweight title, unofficialy vacated by Tommy Loughran, was claimed today by Fred Lenhardt of Spokane, Wash., on the basis of his defeat of Maxie Rosenbloom, the New York claimant for the title. The commission refused, however, to take any action until such time as Loughran officially vacates the title.

FIELDS A HERO IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 30. (AP)—Jackie Fields, world's welterweight boxing champion, has returned to his home town to be received like a conquering hero. He was greeted by hundreds of admirers yesterday when he arrived from Detroit, scene of his triumph over Joe Dundee. He was hoisted into an open car and perched atop the rear seat, a la Lindbergh, rode through the loop with a band and a motorcycle detail of police preceding. There were more than 100 cars in the welcoming parade. Fields is going to spend a few days with his mother in Los Angeles before returning to the welterweight battlefront. Before his departure, however, his admirers plan to hold a banquet in his honor.

STARS HOST TO SEALS

Expect Heavy Cannonading When Rival Ball Clubs Tangle This Afternoon at Wrigley Field

BY BOB RAY

Oscar Vitt's Hollywood Stars and Nick Williams's Seals from San Francisco, who battled each other all last season, renew their little feud this afternoon at Wrigley Field when they open a seven-game, crucial series for the league leadership.

The Seals, who are a game and a half in front of Hollywood, are playing great ball this half, while the Stars are stepping along at a rapid pace so there ought to be plenty of excitement out at the local ball park this week.

Oscar Vitt

Hollywood, after dropping six out of seven to Portland, made a great comeback last week in Seattle, humbling the Tribe in seven out of eight clashes to climb right back into the thick of the pennant race. On the other hand, the Seals dropped four out of seven to Oakland last week. That series, though, was the first dropped by Nick Williams's slugging squad in thirteen weeks, which is quite some record.

Elmer Jacobs, the ace of the San Francisco mound staff, is expected

Yankees Drub Chicago, 7-3

NEW YORK, July 30. (AP) — The Yankees won the seventh successive game of their home stay today by beating the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 3, in the opener of a three-game series. The Yankees hit Alphonse Thomas for fourteen hits, bunching five of them, with a muff at the plate by Berg for four runs in the fifth inning. Robertson led the New York hitting with a double and two singles.

Grove Hurls Victory for Philadelphia

Giants Score 3-to-0 Win Over Cincy Reds

Indians Beat Red Sox to Cop Fourth Straight

PHILADELPHIA, July 30. (AP)—George Uhle weakened in the ninth inning of a pitching duel against Lefty Bob Grove today and enabled the Athletics to pull out a 5-to-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers in the tenth.

Up to the ninth Uhle had allowed only four hits, one of them a homer by Jimmy Foxx, and had a 4-1 lead. In the ninth Al Simmons came through with a homer with one on base and Foxx followed with a single to drive Uhle from the mound. Dykes's double off Graham scored Foxx with the tying run. Whitehill took the mound in the tenth after Bishop had walked and had been sacrificed to second. He walked Cochrane, then Simmons singled to bring in the winning run. Score:

ST. LOUIS, July 30. (AP)—The Cardinals ended their losing streak of three games today by winning the first game of the series from Brooklyn, 10 to 9, in an eleven-inning swatting bee. A pair of singles and a stolen base brought in the winning run.

The Cards fell on Doug McWeeny for five runs in the sixth inning to overcome the Robins' early lead and tie the score. Home runs by Orsatti and Sherdel featured the rally. The Robins broke the deadlock with a pair of runs in the ninth but St. Louis tied it up again in the home half.

A WONDERFUL RECORD

SAY what you will about Bill Tilden's funny temperament and his peculiarities on the tennis court the old boy retires from international play this year with one of the greatest records ever compiled. Look it over. It is approached only by that of the little Californian, Bill Johnston. Compare their marks in the singles with those of the French who have won the Davis Cup the past three years:

This is for Davis Cup play exclusively:

Bill Tilden, 17 victories and 4 defeats.
Bill Johnston, 11 victories and 3 defeats.
Henri Cochet, 5 victories and 1 defeat.
Rene La Coste, 4 victories and 4 defeats.

Tilden has rounded out ten years of Davis Cup competition. Johnston retired with seven under his belt after the challenge round of 1927.

Cochet and La Coste both have some tennis years ahead of them, but it is extremely doubtful, in fact, improbable, that either will approach Tilden's remarkable record, or mar that of Johnston's.

In fact, La Coste with four defeats is already out of the picture, and Cochet has a long ways to go.

FAITH, HOPE OR CHARITY

JUST how much power the New York Boxing Commission wields will be seen when Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey battle late this summer.

The Gotham commission has already warned the Madison Square Garden Corporation not to do business with Schmeling and just the other day suspended not only the fighter but his manager, Joe Jacobs, and the latter's business partner on the present tour, Billy McCarney.

Madison Square Garden, through Bill Carey, its president, has defied the commission's order and the suspension of Schmeling and his manager, and proposes a Schmeling-Sharkey fight for Chicago.

Probably when the New York millionaires who comprise the Garden corporation put their collective minds and their concerted "pull" to the wheel Schmeling will fight Sharkey as per announcement.

Some such similar contretemps existed before the Schmeling-Uzcudun fight, which took place according to arrangement. Sweet charity came to the rescue.

Perhaps faith or hope, now that charity has had its innings, can be used to save the face of the New York Commission.

LAUGH, CLOWN, LAUGH

IF EVER a commission made itself a laughing stock it is the Michigan body which let Joe Dundee get away with murder and then fined Jackie Fields $5000 for not using a protecting cup of its design.

The best thing the Michigan gents could have done after discovering they couldn't fine Dundee because they didn't have any of his money to assess was to keep their mouths shut about Fields.

It is a most peculiar habit boxing commissions have of not knowing what's in the air until after the stink.

Two years ago our own State commission figured in a sweet mess—the celebrated Dundee-Hudkins fiasco.

Although every newspaper in the city printed something about a big guarantee made Dundee by the promoter the commission remained in blissful ignorance—until after the gate receipts failed to meet Dundee's guarantee and he refused to proceed with the scrap.

AQUA CALIENTE 'OPEN' FAVORED

Junior Commerce Chamber Revamps Schedule

world-famous professionals will play for an aggregate purse of $89,900 offered by twelve tournaments.

Wirt G. Bowman, president of the Agua Caliente Golf and Country Club, yesterday expressed himself as being completely satisfied with the revamped dates—and he should be. The tournament will be played on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, when a large crowd can be accommodated and, incidentally, falls on the third week of the initial race meeting of the Agua Caliente Jockey Club.

HAWAIIAN OPEN

It has since developed that the December 30, 31, January 2, 3 dates as originally announced by the Junior Chamber for the border event were those selected and very much desired by the Junior Chamber to protect that climax of the program for the Los Angeles open, now allotted to Agua Caliente.

According to the program as presented by the junior body, the Hawaiian open again tops the bill. This event will be staged on November 15, 16 and 17 over the Waialae Country Club course for a purse of $6000. A select group of professionals will again be invited to the islands.

The Sacramento open has been replaced by the Berkeley open, scheduled for November 28, 29 and 30. This tournament will carry a prize of $4000 and will give Bay City golf fans an opportunity to see the nation's crack professionals perform.

Santa Barbara, which plucked a "plum," in the national P.G.A. championship, a tournament ranking next to the national open and amateur in national importance, will see Leo Diegel defend his crown over the La Cumbre Country Club course, December 2 to 7. Catalina's second annual open, carrying an added $5000 this year, making $7500 in all, will be played December 13, 14 and 15 over a full eighteen-hole course. Billy Bell is now completing the second nine on the island, and promises a real test of golf for pros and amateurs alike. Catalina is famous for being the starting point of Horton Smith's brilliant career. Practically an unknown when he won the Catalina open by trimming Walter Hagen scarcely a year ago, Smith has since become an international figure in the golf world.

PASADENA REPRESENTED

San Gabriel's annual amateur-professional invitation tournament for a purse of $1000 will be played on December 17 and 18, followed by the Pasadena open on December 20, 21 and 22. Pasadena will again pass out $4000 in awards.

While the San Diego open is tentatively set for December 27, 28 and 29, there is a possibility of a change. Harry Pollock, promotion manager of the Agua Caliente interests, wired yesterday that the San Diego open would be in the way of a qualifying round for the Agua Caliente tournament. All golfers qualifying for that competition automatically will be eligible for the Agua Caliente open, along with foreign professionals, and Ryder Cup team members. The entire field will play in the first thirty-six holes, eighteen Tuesday, January 14, and eighteen, January 15. The low sixty-four and ties will then complete the 72-hole grind. It was also announced that first prize would be $10,000, a tidy sum to shoot for.

LONG BEACH ENTERS

Long Beach will again stage a $5000 open over the Virginia Country Club course on January 4, 5 and 6. Then comes the Los Angeles open followed by the Agua Caliente classic.

In addition, El Paso and San Antonio have asked the Junior Chamber for dates. The former tournament will be played on January 24, 25 and 26, for a prize of $3000 and the latter on January 30, and February 1 and 2, for a purse of $7500.

Kenealy Gets Test on Track

Mel Kenealy, pilot of the Simplex Special and leader in the race for the 1929 championship of the Southwest, will be put to the acid test tomorrow night to keep ahead of Walt May in the dirt-track competition at the American Legion Speedway. This pair will be among the twenty-five or so dirt-track daredevils who will face Starter Fred Wagner's flag in the forty-lap main event of the night racing program and May and his darting-green Multiford Special is being picked as the choice bet of the speed fans.

Chocolate in Ring Triumph

CHICAGO, July 30. (AP)—Kid Chocolate, crack Cuban negro featherweight, made his Chicago debut a successful one tonight, outpointing Steve Smith of Bridgeport, Ct., in a ten-round bout.

Ten thousand fans in Mills Stadium saw the elusive "Keed" from Cuba flash a sensational rally in the closing round to win the decision of the judges and the referee, but it was Smith, a rough-and-wild-swinging puncher, who won the applause of the spectators.

Chocolate had gained a close decision over Smith in a bout at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., some time ago.

MALCEWICZ FACES LUTZE

Lou Daro Signs Utica Panther for Mat Go Against Local Idol at Olympic

Joe Malcewicz, the Utica mat panther, yesterday signed with Promoter Lou Daro here to meet Nick Lutze, the local mat idol, in the first round of the big elimination wrestling tournament he plans to stage at the Olympic to obtain an opponent for Champion Gus Sonnenberg.

JOE MALCEWICZ

The match will be for the best two-out-of-three falls to a finish, and will be held at the Olympic next Wednesday night. The bout is a rematch between the pair, and the 9000 or more fans who witnessed their last meeting are looked for again when these two step into the padded ring. Two other star bouts, bringing together a quartet of the best heavyweights in this section, are expected to be signed for this card. The promoter has started negotiations for the matches.

Both of the last two meetings between Lutze and Malcewicz have displayed some of the most sensational and scientific grappling ever seen in the Olympic ring.

MIDGE GLADMAN OUT OF TOURNEY

ciscan, trouncing Miss Evelyn Parsons of Palo Alto, Cal., 6-2, 6-3.

In the national women's ranking list, Miss Jacobs is second, Miss Cross third, Miss Morrill sixth and Mrs. Harper eighth, and it is in about that order that the surviving "big four" are favored.

Without any dominating individual figure, the race for tournament honors in the men's division waxed hotter today as the field narrowed down to eight survivors.

Only two foreign players were among this number as the Oxford and Cambridge University entrants were turned back in three out of four engagements and only N. G. Farquharson of South Africa and Cambridge remained with Sadakazu Onda of Japan to supply an international angle.

Farquharson, a veteran of Davis Cup play as a representative of South Africa, defeated Watson Washburn, the former internationalist, 6-3, 5-7, 6-4.

Russell Young, New Zealander, who captains the Oxford-Cambridge forces, was turned back decisively, however, by Richard N. Williams, one-time Davis Cup doubles partner of Washburn.

DOEG WINS

England's two other reverses came when John Doeg, eighth ranking American player, defeated Paul De Ricou, young French student at Oxford, and Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., downed E. R. Avory of Cambridge, 8-6, 6-4.

Berkeley Bell of Texas, intercollegiate champion, who is favored to succeed to the title won last year by John Van Ryn, was forced to come from behind and fight his hardest to defeat Ed Feibleman, former Harvard star, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4. Bell next will encounter Onda, who advanced today by defeating Herbert Bowman of New York, 6-1, 2-6, 6-3.

In the other quarter-finals, Doeg meets Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., who won from Harry Brunie, New York, 8-6, 7-5; Julius Seligson, former intercollegiate titleholder from Lehigh, plays Dick Williams and Mangin encounters Farquharson. Seligson won from Don Strachan of Princeton, 6-1, 6-4, today.

The Sacramento owner was not prepared to name the purchase price of his team at this time, but he stated that the proposition he submitted to the San Diego people was at least double the $100,000 figure quoted.

Moreing also announced here today that he had signed "Buck" Mora, young Hanford outfielder, who had a trial with the Senators last spring, for another test in the Sacramento outfield. He will report next week.

He added that arrangements had been practically completed for staging a Thursday afternoon game here next week with Portland as the visiting club.

out. Nelson struck out and Walsh tossed out Mulligan.

The Angels tied the score in the fourth inning. Webb got a pass and took second on a wild pitch. Berger bunted to Mulligan who threw to Finn at second base trying to pick Webb off that bag, and both runners were safe. Tolson hammered a slow ball for a single and Webb scored.

In the fifth Haney was passed and eventually scored when Finn let Tolson's grounder climb all over him. That run was made without the aid of a hit.

Two more scored in the eighth on one hit. Webb was passed and after Berger had struck out Tolson bunted in front of the plate. Hoffman threw to second trying to force Webb, but his throw was low and both men were safe. Jacobs was walked to fill the bases and Dittmar followed with a drive over third base. Mulligan knocked the ball down with one hand, but could not make a play and Webb scored. The other run counted on Sandberg's fly to Boone.

Nelson forced in the run in the ninth when he passed Jacobs with the bases filled. Dittmar then hit into a double play to retire the side. Score:

HOFFMAN RALLIES TO KAYO SNYDER

NEW YORK, July 30. (AP)—George Hoffman, former national amateur heavyweight champion, stopped Angus Snyder, Dodge City, Kan., in the seventh round of their ten-round bout at the Queensboro Stadium tonight.

Hoffman rallied in the seventh after being on the verge of a knockout himself, and floored the westerner twice. When Snyder, helpless, went down a third time, the referee stopped the fight.

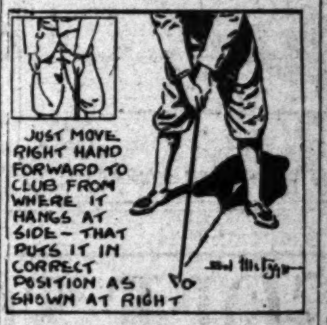
Use of Right Hand in Play



JUST MOVE RIGHT HAND FORWARD TO CLUB FROM WHERE IT HANGS AT SIDE—THAT PUTS IT IN CORRECT POSITION AS SHOWN AT RIGHT

BY SOL METZGER

Many golfers seem to think that because the left arm controls the long iron shot that the right has no particular mission in it. Consequently they are careless in gripping with the right. The result—poor shot.

The right must work with the left, even when the latter controls the entire swing. If it does not one might as well play his or her shots without putting the right hand on the club. It's a guide and a support and the grip with it must be firm on long irons. How to put it on the club is a matter of importance.

Scot pros have a simple method to illustrate where it belongs. They let your right arm hang naturally down the right side. Then you merely swing it forward to the club and grip it. It does put the right hand in the correct position. Tomorrow—the way to take the overlapping grip.

Add yardage and accuracy to your drive by writing Sol Metzger, care of The Times, for his free leaflet on "Driving." Inclose stamped, addressed envelope.

SPORTS SKETCH BY FEG MURRAY

an Eileen, or a Ruth of the courts, and the sock that the Bambino imparts to the baseball as he knocks it over the fence or into the bleachers is this: The lady tennis star often has a run in her sock, while Babe Ruth has a home run in his!

Now that that point is cleared up sufficiently, let us leave these "charming bolsheviks" who threatened to turn staid old Wimbledon upside down but didn't, and concentrate on the author of the only real socks that count in baseball or tennis, Mr. George Herman Ruth, the father of his country's home-run industry.

Since he left his couch of pain, the Great Man has done right well in making up for lost time, but he still finds himself surrounded and even led to the ultimate goal by a whole bunch of foreigners who, according to his way of looking at it, don't belong in the home-run derby at all. Ruth claims that he had his best year in 1927 because he had a pace-maker in Lou Gehrig, and now, with half a dozen pace-makers, he ought to do bigger and better deeds with his famous bat.

At any rate, no matter what the Otts, Gehrigs, Kleins, Hafeys and Simmonses do, Babe should surpass the 500-mark of total home runs in a lifetime this summer, as he began the season with 470 to his credit. And if you count the thirteen he has made in nine world series, well—figure it out yourself.

Swimfest on at Arrowhead

Lake Arrowhead's annual mile-high long-distance swimming meet will be held at the San Bernardino mountain resort next Sunday, with entries from leading Southland athletic clubs competing for prizes to be awarded by the Arrowhead Lake Company. The men's race will cover a three-mile course, from the concrete outlet tower to the boat dock, back to the tower and returning to the dock. A gold wrist watch will be awarded to the winner. Carl Moon, Lake Arrowhead resident, who has never failed to win this event in former years, is expected to win this time. The women's event will cover a one-mile course from the boat dock to Camp Fleming and back.

Dempsey's before he aged and had his nose made over.

The comparison was more pronounced last night because Dempsey was in the audience and after Schmeling was introduced the former heavyweight champion was hauled into the ring.

While the bugs gave Schmeling quite a reception, that accorded Dempsey was ten times more uproarious. They almost blew the roof off with their yelps when Dan Tobey introduced Dempsey as the "most popular heavyweight in the world."

Without regarding the Messrs. Hagan and Ortega as any sort of opposition at all, Schmeling's exhibition was a huge success.

DISPLAYS REAL CLASS

The big German upheld all reports of his class. His footwork is superb. Every flashing movement of legs and arms seems to leave him in position to hit with the power of his weight behind his blows.

He weaves and bobs like Dempsey, perhaps faster, has a keen eye and apparently can hit hard with either hand.

Using sixteen-ounce pillows for gloves he pecked Hagan to pieces in two rounds and four times dropped Ortega to the floor in the second round of their skirmish.

He has the old Dempsey characteristics of hauling a fallen opponent to his feet and pounding him around until he succumbs again.

However, there is one striking difference between Schmeling and Dempsey. The German is more merciful. Dempsey never seemed able to pull his punches.

For a heavyweight Schmeling is chain lightning. If he can step ten rounds as he stepped four last night he is the next heavyweight champion of the world. Only a man like Tommy Loughran, pounds lighter, could keep pace with him.

JACK DOYLE ATTENDS

Almost a packed house saw the Schmeling exhibition and the Mack knockout of Snell. Even Promotor Jack Doyle showed up at ringside for the first time in several weeks and announced that he had driven from Maricopa in three hours just to see the big German work.

Omar Wright folded up like a tent in the second round of his fight with Sammy Jackson, a black boy who displayed pulverizing punches in both hands. Wright was down twice before his seconds heaved in the towel to save him further punishment. A left followed by a right sent him down the first time for the count of nine, and a series of lefts and rights dumped him the second time. This fight was the semi-wind-up and scheduled to go six rounds.

In the special event of six rounds Al Rivers and Frankie Carter were awarded a draw, but the bugs favored Carter and gave the other boy a boo when the gladiators left the ring.

In the pair of four-rounders that opened the show Jose Gabuca defeated Pal Schultz, having him on the floor in the first round, and Jimmy O'Neal won from Dick McDaniels.

Abe Roth refereed the main event as well as the Schmeling exhibition. Mack weighed 132 pounds, Snell 135.

JACOBS AFTER ACE HUDKINS

a title scrap with Mickey Walker, to boot, and expects to be kept busy.

Schmeling, who is very close to a shot at the heavyweight title, leaves here tonight with Jacobs for Sacramento. The German boxes another exhibition there tomorrow night, at San Francisco Friday night and at San Jose Saturday. His tour closes in Minneapolis August 16.

STARS HOST TO SAN FRANCISCO

to pitch the opener, while either "Lefty" Johns or Walter Kinney will probably be picked for mound duty by Skipper Vitt. Jacobs has turned in seventeen victories this season to lead all the rest of the league's hurlers in games won.

During the coming series local fans will get a peek at some of the best sluggers in the circuit. Topping the list is Smead Jolley, the mighty mauler of the Seals. Jolley is now batting a modest .390 and, although he is in second place now, seems destined to lead the league in batting for the third straight season.

Among the other heavy clouters on exhibition this week will be Big Bill Rumler, who is in third place with a .387 mark; Cleo Carlyle, who holds down fifth position with .378; Gus Suhr, the home-run king, who has a .377 average; Ed Coleman, who is batting .374, and Eli Funk, whose present mark is .371. "Red" Rollings, who has a .352 mark, also rates mentioning in this list. That makes seven athletes batting over .350 who will be on exhibition this week, so if it's hitting the fans want, they ought to be satisfied.

Since the Stars departed from Wrigley Field some two weeks ago, they have signed a couple of athletes who have strengthened them no little for the coming dash down the stretch. The two newcomers are Hank Severeid, hard-hitting catcher, who was signed after Sacramento released him to cut down expenses, and Deacon Jones, right-hand pitcher who was picked up after the Seals let him go. Both figured prominently in the Stars' success last week, Jones turning in a couple of wins and Severeid slugging the ball at a terrific clip. Severeid always has hit well in Wrigley Field and his presence means one more dangerous right-hand hitter in the Hollywood line-up. Hank figures to slap several homers over the left-field wall at the local park.

Suhr, whom the Seals moved over to first base this season, is probably playing his last year in the Coast League. Suhr, who is the circuit's home-run king with thirty four-base wallops to his credit, has attracted the eye of major league scouts and will probably be sold this fall. Cleveland, particularly, is anxious to buy Gus.

It also wouldn't be surprising if Jolley went up to the big show next year. Smead is without doubt one of the greatest sluggers to grace this circuit and the only reason he didn't go up last fall was because the Seal owners asked too big a price for him. Jolley deserves a fling in the majors and if the Seal owners don't give it to him Smead ought to see to it that he gets a major league salary. Jolley is wasting his time in Class AA ball because he also has a wonderful arm and isn't half as bad an outfielder as a lot of folks would have you believe.

In order to make up for yesterday's postponed game, the Seals and Stars will play a double-header either Friday or Saturday.

ZORILLA TO TACKLE JOE LYNCH TONIGHT

Santiago Zorilla and California Joe Lynch, featherweights, clash tonight in the ten-round main event at the Wilmington Bowl. The fight is regarded as one of the best attractions Wilmington has offered in many weeks and the return of Zorilla gives every indication that a capacity attendance will view the fight.

The six-round semi-wind-up is between Trench King and Raymond Lugo. Donnie Dundee meets Freddie Hawkins at the lightweight poundage in the six-round special. The fours are Solly Smith vs. Pablo Martinez and Bob Martin vs. Tommy Lyons.

MEXICO TOMATO HELD IN PERIL

Mazatlan Banker Sees Tariff Boost as Menace

Places Annual Value of Crop at $20,000,000

Avers Proposed Duty Would Ruin Industry

BY WALDO DRAKE

Mexico's agricultural fabric, highly dependent on the country's annual $20,000,000 tomato crop, will be destroyed by the proposed 150 per cent duty increase outlined by the new United States tariff, according to Rodolfo Coppel, Mazatlan financier and shipping operator, here from the west coast port aboard the Panama Mail liner El Salvador. The present tariff of 50 cents per box on Mexican tomatoes will be raised to $1.25 per eighty-pound box by the new tariff bill.

RODOLFO COPPEL

"More than 15,000 acres of land have been under tomato cultivation in Mexico, chiefly in Sinaloa and Baja California, for the past several years, yielding crops averaging $20,000,000 per season," said Mr. Coppel. "The price of $3.50 per box is a fair one, but when a duty increase of 75 cents per box is added there will be no possible margin of profit."

Mr. Coppel, who is president of the Coppel & Carabia Banking Company and a partner of G. S. Coppel and Brother Steamship Company of Mazatlan, said that Mexico's future in world commerce depends on encouragement of her west coast shipping and agricultural industries.

"Potentially, the west coast hinterland is of great richness, and to produce crops and minerals we need regular steamship lines to export our products," he said. "We have the ports in Mazatlan, Manzanillo, Salina Cruz and Acapulco to handle the traffic of the great merchant fleets we hope will in the future ply from them to the American Pacific Coast."

Arriving with Mr. Coppel on the El Salvador was Charles H. Bavin, general manager of the United Sugar Company of Mazatlan, an American-owned company operating the largest refinery in Mexico and producing annually 30,000 tons of sugar from 16,000 acres of cane under cultivation in the Rio Fuerte Valley. Also aboard was George Hull, director of the Sinaloa Land Company, a local concern holding 1,500,000 acres in that area.

EAST AND WEST COASTS SWAP FISH

The shipping of New England fish to Southern California and Southern California fish to New England is being developed into an important trade by the Gilbert Van Camp organization at San Pedro.

A second consignment of 25,000 pounds of fillet of haddock are due in new-type iceless refrigerator cars from Groton, Ct., tomorrow, and will be followed by regular shipments, according to C. M. Small, manager.

Meanwhile the firm is shipping a carload of huge California swordfish almost weekly to Boston and will continue all summer. This enterprise is in its second season here, and growing rapidly, but for forty years has been pursued on the Atlantic, where the supply cannot be met. This despite the fact that the present season on the Atlantic is the greatest ever. Each single swordfish must be sighted from the boat's crows nest, and the craft then must sneak up while a fisherman hurls by hand a harpoon into the fish, precluding chances of ever depleting local waters of the fish, Small said.

The cars bearing haddock west continue attracting many spectators, due to their employment of silica gel in a new principle on refrigeration without the use of ice.

Members of the local Marine Service Bureau's safety committee are departing by various means for San Francisco to meet committeemen from the North Pacific Friday and take final action on a safety code for the entire Coast. A tentative code already has been adopted and now is serving as a basis at Washington for a national code. Representatives from here will include E. A. Mills, C. O. Limecooley, P. H. Germain and Tom James.

Making her first visit here, the Japanese tanker Nippon Maru will complete loading at the Pan American dock and sail today with fuel oil for Yokohama. She formerly was owned by Toyo Kishen Kaisha and now is operating for Asano Bussen Company. Two other ships en route on their first visit here, according to Sconhoft-Gallis Company, are the Norwegian tanker Svolder and the Norwegian motorship Bessa. The Svoder is due August 8 from Buenos Aires to load for Europe for Waages Tankrederi. The Bessa will bunker here August 15, en route from Norway to Dairen with freight for Wilhelm Wilhelmsen.

Lassco's freight steamer Marion Otis Chandler is due today from the North Atlantic, completing her first round voyage under the flag of the Arrow Line, operated by Sudden & Christenson. She will discharge 3500 tons here. Capt. John Jacobsen, a former San Pedro boy, commands her.

Fifteen thousand pounds of mail will go out direct for New Zealand tomorrow on the O. & O. steamer Golden Cross, Capt. G. M. Curtis commanding. The vessel also will carry 3500 tons of Los Angeles general cargo.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30. (AP)—The tanker Mary Luckenbach, which arrived here last week with a full cargo of fuel oil, and which is now at a local shipyard, may be sold while on this coast, it was indicated here today. The vessel, which is the only vessel of that class owned by the Luckenbach Company, was originally purchased by Edgar F. Luckenbach to break the prices of the oil companies. Tanker tonnage is at a premium now, and it was reported that one of the west coast oil companies is negotiating to purchase the tanker outright. She is now under chartre to the Shell Oil Company.

Capt. Paul D. Chandler, manager of the marine department of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, arrived here today on his first visit to San Francisco in two years. Capt. Chandler was a former official of the Luckenbach Line, being stationed at various times at Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle.

SEATTLE, July 30.—Recently purchased by Capt. Harry Goodall, San Francisco shipping man, the 163-foot steel yacht Wenonah will sail for the Bay City late this week, according to Capt. Goodall, who is on the Sound in connection with the sailing of the vessel. Capt. Goodall said today that the job of complete overhaul to fit her for a private yacht will be done in the California city.

The Wenonah, a private yacht at the start of the World War, was taken over by the government as a transport convoy and was twice cited for exceptional service.

OKLAHOMA JONES TO FACE DON KENNEDY

Another Santiago Zorilla may be discovered out of the Pasadena arena show tomorrow night when Oklahoma Bobby Jones is sent against the flashy Pasadena boxer, Don Kennedy.

This Jones is a 123-pound, 18-year-old negro boy with Indian blood. In his gymnasium workouts he has impressed onlookers with his startling resemblance in action to Zorilla. Moreover, he packs a punch, something Zorilla sadly lacks.

WORLD'S LARGEST EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTION TO BE OPERATED HERE

I can furnish employment and investment returns for life to 250 professional men and women, mechanics, teachers, or persons of intelligence. Read how. Many years ago I startled the nation by the introduction and successful operation of the Coyne chain of trade schools, New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, and San Francisco; teaching trades in a few weeks. I then carried the largest line of advertising in the world, and the present Coyne School of Chicago is today the largest user of space advertising in America. My name is the most widely advertised in print today. See two-page ad in August Popular Mechanics and ads in over one hundred other magazines. My Chicago school enrolled over fifty thousand students per year at one to four hundred dollars each, which means five to fifteen million dollars. Hundreds of millions have been made by the Scranton Correspondence and similar schools. You can invest $1000 or upward with me now and secure an interest in the original holding company opening here in Los Angeles and later establishing branches in all large cities, and advance in employment as the school enlarges. I own all my original copyrights, originated commercial vocational training in America and now wish to include all the building trades, aviation, radio, camera & sound machine training. I have never been connected with a failure. I do not owe one dollar to anyone. Your own bank or any credit agency in L.A. will give you a report on me. A former L.A. banker, former V.-P. of the largest mortgage guarantee company in L.A. and a newspaper owner operating a chain of papers were the first three to join me. I could get abundant capital by surrendering the control. This I refuse to do. Write for prospectus or phone for appointment. Address W. R. Coyne, 1462 Kings Road, Hollywood. Ph. CRestview 3626.
